THE WISDOME

Iefus the fonne of Sirach, Or Ecclesiasticus.

A Prologue made by an vncertaine Authour.

THis Iesus was the sonne of Sirach, and grand-childe to Iesus of the same name with him; This man therefore lived in the latter times, after the people had bene led away captine, and called home againe, and almost after all the Prophets. Now his grandfather Iesus (as he himselfe witnesseth) was a man of great diligence and wisedome among the Hebrewes, who did not onely gather the grave and short Sentences of wise men, that had bene before him, but himselfe also vttered some of his owne, full of much vnderstanding and wisedome. When as therefore the first Iesus died, leaving this booke almost | perfected, Sirach bis sonne receiuing it after him, left it to his owne sonne Iesus, who having gotten it into his hands, compiled it all orderly into one Volume, and called it Wisdome, Intituling it, both by his owne name, his fathers name, and his grandfathers, alluring the hearer by the very name of Wisedome, to have a greater love to the studie of this Booke. It conteineth therefore wise Sayings, darke Sentences, and Parables, and certaine particular ancient godly stories of men that pleased God. Also his Prayer and Song. Moreouer, what benefits God had vouchsafed his people, and what plagues he had beaped vpon their enemies. This lesus did imitate Solomon, and was no lesse famous for Wisedome, and learning, both being indeed a man of great learning, and so reputed also.

The Prologue of the Wisdome of Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

Hereas many and great things have bene delivered vuto vs by the Law and the Prophets, and by others that have followed their steps, for the which things Israel ought to be commended for learning and Wisedome, and whereof not onely the Readers must needs become skilful themselves. but also they that desire to learne, be able to profit them which are || without, both by speaking and writing: My grandfather Iesus, when he had much given bimselfe to the reading of the Law, and the Prophets, and other Bookes of our fathers, and had gotten therein good judgement, was drawen on also himselfe, to write something pertayning to learning and Wisedome, to the intent that those which are desirous to learne, and are addicted to these things, might profit much more in liuing according to the Law Wherefore, let me intreat you to reade it with fauour and attention, and to pardon Vs, wherein wee may seeme to come short of some words which we have laboured to interprete. For the same things vttered in Hebrew, and translated into an other tongue, hauc not the same force in them : and not onely these things, but the Law it selfe, and the + Prophets, and the rest of the Bookes, have no small ||difference, when they are spoken in their owne lauguage. For in the eight and thirtieth yeere comming into Egypt, when Euergetes was King, and continuing there some time, I found a || Booke of no small learning, therefore I thought it most necessary for mee, to bestow some diligence and trauaile to interprete it : Vsing great watchfulnesse, and skill in that space, to bring the Booke to an end, and set it foorth for them also, which in a strange countrey are willing to learne, being prepared before in maners to liue after the Law

8 *Abstainc from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sinnes: for a furious man will kindle strife.

9 A sinfull man disquieteth friends, and maketh debate among them that be at peace.

10 As the matter of the fire is, so it burneth : and as a mans strength is, so is his wrath, and according to his riches his anger riseth, and the stronger they are which contend, the more they will be inflamed.

11 An hastie contention kindleth a fire, and an hasty fighting sheddeth blood.

12 If thou blow the sparke, it shall burne : if thou spit vpon it, it shall bee quenched, and both these come out of thy mouth.

12 When he tooke the portions out of the priests hands, hee himselfe stood by the hearth of the altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as a yong cedar in Libanus, and as palme trees compassed they him round about.

13 So were all the sonnes of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And finishing the seruice at the altar, that he might adorne the offring of the most high Almighty, 15 He stretched out his hand to the cup, and powred of the blood of the grape, he powred out at the foote of the altar, a sweet smelling sauour vnto the most high King of all.

16 Then shouted the sonnes of Aaron, and sounded || the siluer trumpets, and made a great noise to be heard, for a remembrance before the most High.

17 Then all the people together hasted, and fell downe to the earth vpon their faces to worship their Lord God almighty the most High.

18 The singers also sang praises with their voices, with great variety of sounds was there made sweete melodie.

19 And the people besought the Lord the most High by prayer before him that is mercifull, till the solemnity of the Lord was ended, and they had finished his seruice.

20 Then he went downe, and lifted vp his hands ouer the whole congregation of the children of Israel, to give the blessing of the Lord with his lips, and to reioyce in his name.

21 And they bowed themselves downe to worship the second time, that they might receive a blessing from the most High.

22 Now therefore blesse yee the God of all, which onely doth wonderous things every where, which exalteth our daies from the wombe, and dealeth with vs according to his mercy.

23 He grant vs joyfulnesse of heart, and that peace may be in our daies in Israel for euer.

9 Wherefore the Lord watched ouer vs for euill, and the Lord hath brought it voon vs : for the Lord is righteous in all his works, which he hath commanded vs.

10 Yet we have not hearkened vnto his voice, to walk in the comandements of the Lord, that he hath set before vs.

11 *And now O Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and high arme, and with signes & with wonders, & with great power, and hast gotten thy selfe a name, as appeareth this day :

12 O'Lord our God, we have sinned. we have done vngodly, wee have dealt vnrighteously in all thine ordinances.

13 Let thy wrath turne from vs : for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and deliner vs for thine owne sake, and give vs favour in the sight of them which haue led vs away: 15 That all the earth may know that thou art V Lord our God, because Israel & his posterity is + called by thy name.

16 O Lord *looke downe from thy holy house, & consider vs : bow downe thine care, O Lord, to heare vs.

17 Open thine eyes and behold : for the dead that are in the graues, whose t soules are taken from their bodies, wil giue vnto the Lord neither praise nor righteousnesse.

18 But v soule that is greatly vexed, which goeth stouping & feeble, and the eyes that faile, and the hungry soule wil gine thee praise & righteousnes O Lord.

19 * Therfore wee doe not make our humble supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousnes of our fathers, and of our kings.

20 For thou hast sent out thy wrath & indignation vpon vs. as thou hast spoken by thy servants y prophets, saying, 21 * Thus saith the Lord, bow down your shoulders to serue the king of Babylon : so shall ye remaine in the lande that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 But if ye will not heare the voice of the Lord to scrue y king of Babylon, 23 I will cause to cease out of the cities of Iuda, and from without Ierusalem the voice of mirth, and the voice of iov : the voice of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride, and the whole land shall be desolate of inhabitants.

Baruch.

24 But we would not hearken vnto thy voyce, to serue the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good the wordes that thou spakest by thy seruants the prophets, namely that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers should be taken out of their places.

25 And loe, they are cast out to the heat of the day, and to the frost of the night, and they died in great miseries, by famine, by sword, and by pestilence.

26 And the house which is called by thy name (hast thou laid waste) as it is to be seene this day, for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with vs after all thy goodnesse, and according to all that great mercie of thine.

28 As thou spakest by thy scruant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy Law, before the children of Israel, saying, 29 * If ye will not heare my voyce, Levit. 26. surely † this very great multitude shalbe turned into a smal [number] among the tir. this ations, where I will scatter them.

35 And I will make an enerlasting covenant with them, to be their God, and they shall be my people; and I will no more drine my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

Lord almighty, God of Israel, the soule in anguish, the troubled spirit crieth vnto thee.

2 Heare O Lord, and haue mercy: for thou art mercifull, and haue pitty vpon vs, because we haue sinned before thee.

S For thou endurest for euer, and we perish vtterly.

4 O Lord almighty, thou God of Israel, heare now the prayers of the dead Israelites, and of their children which have sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voice of thee their God : for the which cause these plagues cleaue vnto vs.

5 Remember not the iniquities of our forefathers : but thinke vpon thy power and thy name, now at this time. 6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise. 7 And for this cause thou hast put thy feare in our hearts, to the intent that we should call vpon thy name, and praise thee in our captivity : for "we haue called to minde all the iniquity of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuity, where thou hast scattered vs, for a reproch and a curse, and to be subiect to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers which departed from the Lord our God.

9 Heare, Israel, the commandements of life, giue eare to vnderstand wisedome.

10 How happeneth it, Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land, that thou art waxen old in a strange countrey, that thou art defiled with the dead?

11 That thou art counted with them that goe downe into the graue?

12 Thou hast forsaken the fountaine of wisedome.

13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldest haue dwelled in peace for euer.

14 Learne where is wisedome, where is strength, where is understanding, that thou mayest know also where is length of daies, and life, where is the light of the eyes and peace.

15 Who hath found out her *place? 10b. 25. or who hath come into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beasts vpon the earth.

17 They that had their pastime with the foules of the aire, and they that hoorded vp siluer and gold wherein men trust, and made no end of their getting?

18 For they that wrought in siluer, and were so careful, and whose workes are vnsearchable.

19 They are vanished, and gone downe to the graue, and others are come up in their steads.

20 Young men haue seene light, and dwelt vpon the earth : but the way of knowledge haue they not knowen, 21 Nor vnderstood the pathes thereof, nor laid hold of it : their children were farre off from that way.

22 It hath not beene heard of in Chanaan : neither hath it beene seene in Theman.

24 O Israel, how great is the house of God? and how large is the place of his possession?

25 Great, and hath none end : high, and vnmeasurable.

26 There were the gyants, famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in warre.

27 Those did not the Lord chuse, neither gaue he the way of knowledge vnto them.

28 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisedome, and perished through their owne foolishnesse.

29 Who hath gone vp into heauen and taken her, and brought her downe from the clouds?

30 Who hath gone ouer the Sea, and found her, & wil bring her for pure gold? 31 No man knoweth her way, nor thinketh of her path.

Copy of an Epistle which Ieremie sent vnto them which were to be led captiues into Babylon, by the king of the Babylonians, to certifie them as it was commanded 2 Because of v sinnes which ye haue committed before God, ye shall be led away captines vnto Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians.

3 So when ye be come vnto Baby lon, ye shal remaine there many yeeres, and for a long season, namely seuen generations : and after that I will bring you away peaceably from thence.

4 Now shall ye see in Babylon gods 5,10. and of siluer, and of gold, and of wood, borne 6,5,7. ypon shoulders, which cause the national 113. 10. ons to feare.

5 Beware therefore that yee in no wise be like to strangers, neither be yee afraid of them, when yee see the multitude before them, and behinde them, worshipping them.

6 But say yee in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee.

7 For mine Angel is with you, and I my selfe caring for your soules.

8 As for their tongue, it is polished by the workeman, and they themselues are guilded and laid ouer with silver, yet are they but false and cannot speake.

9 And taking golde, as it were for a virgine that loues to go gay, they make crownes for the heads of their gods.

10 Sometimes also the Priests conucy from their gods golde and siluer, and bestow it vpon themselues.

11 Yea

II Yea they will give thereof to the lany time, they cannot rise vp againe of common harlots, and decke them as men with garments [being] gods of siluer, and gods of gold, and wood.

12 Yet cannot these gods saue themselues from rust and moths, though they be couered with purple raiment.

13 They wipe their faces because of the dust of the Temple, when there is much vpon them.

14 And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth him, holdeth a scepter as though hee were a judge of the countrey.

15 Hee hath also in his right hand a dagger, and an axe: but cannot deliuer himselfe from warre and theeues.

16 Whereby they are knowen not to bee gods, therefore feare them not.

17 For like as a vessell that a man vseth, is nothing worth when it is broken : euen so it is with their gods : when they be set up in the Temple, their eyes be full of dust, thorow the feet of them that come in.

18 And as the || doores are made sure Or, courts. on cuery side, vpon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death: euen so the priests make fast their temples, with doores, with lockes and barres, lest their gods bee spoiled with robbers.

19 They light them candles, yea, more then for themselues, whereof they cannot see one.

20 They are as one of the beames of the temple, yet they say, their hearts are †gnawed vpon by things creeping out of the cartle, & when they cate them and their clothes, they feele it not.

21 Their faces are blacked, thorow the smoke that comes out of the temple. 22 Vpon their bodies and heads, sit battes, swallowes, and birds, and the cats also.

23 By this you may know that they are no gods : therefore feare them not. 24 Notwithstanding the gold that is about them, to make them beautifull, except they wipe off the rust they will not shine : for neither when they were

27 They also that serue them, are ahamed : fer if they fall to the ground at themselves: neither if one set them vpright can they moue of themselves: neither if they be bowed downe, can they make themselves streight : but they set gifts before them as vnto dead men. 10r, Frings

30 For how can they be called gods? because women set meate before the gods of siluer, gold, and wood.

43 The women also with cordes a- | withall : neither are they able to helpe bout them, sitting in the wayes, burne branne for perfume: hut if any of them drawen by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow that she was not thought as worthy as her selfe, nor her cord broken.

44 Whatsoeuer is done among them is false: how may it then be thought or said that they are gods?

45 They are made of carpenters, and goldsmiths, they can be nothing else, then the workman will haue them to be.

46 And they themselves that made them, can neuer continue long, how should then the things that are made of them, be gods?

47 For they left lies and reproaches to them that come after.

48 For when there commeth any warre or plague vpon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them.

49 How then cannot men perceiue, that they be no gods, which can neither saue themselues from warre nor from plague?

* Psal, 115. 6. wisdom. 13. 10. 50 * For seeing they be but of wood, and overlaide with silver and gold: it shall be knowen heereafter that they are false.

51 And it shall manifestly appeare to all nations and kings, that they are no gods : but the workes of mens hands, and that there is no worke of God in them

52 Who then may not know that they are no gods?

53 For neither can they set vp a king in the land, nor give raine vnto men

54 Neither can they judge their owne cause, nor redresse a wrong being vnable: for they are as crowes between heauen and earth.

55 Whereupon when fire falleth vpon the house of gods of wood, or layd ouer with gold or siluer, their priests will fly away, & escape: but they themselves shall be burnt asunder like beames.

56 Moreouer they cannot withstand any king or enemies : how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?

57 Neither are those gods of wood, and layd ouer with siluer or gold able to escape either from theeues or robbers.

58 Whose gold, and siluer, and garments wherwith they are clothed, they that are strong doe take, and goe away themselves.

59 Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his power, or else a profitable vessell in an house, which the owner shall have vse of, then such false gods : or to be a doore in an house to keepe such things safe as betherein, then such false gods : or a pillar of wood in a palace, then such false gods.

60 For Sunne, Moone, and starres, being bright and sent to doe their offices, are obedient.

61 In like maner the lightning when it breaketh forth is easie to bee seene, and after the same maner | the or. the wind bloweth in euery country.

62 And when God commandeth the clouds to goe ouer the whole world they doe as they are bidden: 63 And the fire sent from aboue to consume hilles and woods, doth as it is commanded; but these are like vnto them neither in shew, nor power. 64 Wherefore it is neither to be supposed nor said, that they are gods, seeing they are able, neither to judge causes, nor to doe good vnto men. 65 Knowing therefore that they are no gods, feare them not.

66 For they can neither curse nor blesse kings.

67 Neither can they shew signes in the heavens among the heathen : nor shine as the Sunne, nor give light as the Moone.

68 The beasts are better then they: for they can get under a couert, and helpe themselves

69 It is then by no meanes manifest vnto vs that they are gods : therefore feare them not 70 For as a scarcrow in a garden of Cucumbers keepeth nothing: so are their gods of wood, and laid ouer with siluer and gold.

71 And likewise their gods of wood, and laid ouer with siluer and gold, are like to a white thorne in an orchard that enery bird sitteth vpon : as also to a dead body, that is cast into the darke.

The historie of Susanna, set apart from the beginning of Daniel, because it is not in Hebrew, as neither the narration of † Bel and the Dragon.

16 Two Judges hide themselues in the garden of Susanna to have their pleasure of her: 28 which when they could not obteine, they accuse and cause her to be condemned for adulterie, 46 but Daniel examineth the matter againe, and findeth the two judges false.

Here dwelt a man in Babylon, called Ioacim.

> 2 And hee tooke a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, a very faire woman, and one that feared the Lord.

3 Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the Law of Moses.

4 Now Ioscim was a great rich man, and had a faire garden loyning vnto his house, and to him resorted the Iewes: because he was more honourable then all others.

5 The same yeere were appointed wo of the Ancients of the people to be indges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickednesse came from Babylon from ancient judges, who seemed to gouerne the people.

6 These kept much at Ioacims house : and all that had any suits in lawe, came vuto them.

7 Now when the people departed away at noone. Susanna went into her husbands garden to walke.

8 And the two Elders saw her going in cuery day and walking : so that their lust was inflamed toward her.

9 And they peruerted their owne mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not looke vnto heauen, nor remember just judgements.

10 And albeit they both were wounded with her loue : yet durst not one shew another his griefe.

11 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to doe with her.

12 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.

13 And the one said to the other, Let vs now goe home : for it is dinner time.

14 So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning backe againe they came to the same place, and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust : then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone.

15 And it fell out as they watched a fit time, she went in tas before, with sterday and two maids onely, and she was desirous the day be-

16 And there was no body there same the two Elders, that bad hid themselues, and watched her.

17 Then she said to her maids, Bring me oile and washing bals, and shut the garden doores, that I may wash me.

18 And they did as she bad them, and shut the garden doores, and went out themselues at || privie doores to fetch the things that she had commaunded them : but they saw not the Elders, because they were hid.

19 Now when the maids were gone forth, the two Elders rose vp, and ran vnto her, saying,

20 Behold, the garden doores are shut, that no man can see vs, and we are in loue with thee : therefore consent vnto vs. and lie with vs.

21 If thou wilt not, we will beare witnesse against thee, that a young man was with thee : and therefore thou didst send away thy maides from thee.

22 Then Susanna sighed and said, I am straited on enery side : for if I doe this thing, it is death vnto me : and if I doe it not, I cannot escape your hands.

23 It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not doe it: then to sinne in the sight of the Lord.

24 With that Susanna cried with a loud voice : and the two Elders cried out against her.

25 Then ranne the one, and opened the garden doore.

26 So when the servants of the house heard the crie in the garden, they rushed in at a prime doore to see what was done vnto her.

27 But when the Elders had declared their matter, the seruants were greatly ashamed : for there was neuer such a report made of Susanna.

28 And it came to passe the next day, when the people were assembled to her husband Ioacim, the two Elders came also full of mischieuous imagination against Susanna to put her to death, 29 And said before the people, Send for Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, Ioacims wife. And so they sent.

30 So she came with her father and mother, her children and all her kinred.

31 Now Susanna was a very delicate woman and beauteous to behold.

32 And these wicked men commanded to vncouer her face (for she was coto wash her selfe in the garden : for it | | uered) that they might be filled with her beautie.

33 Therefore her friends, and all that saw ber, wept.

34 Then the two Elders stood vp in the mids of the people, and laid their hands vpon her head.

35 And she weeping looked vp towards heaven: for her heart trusted in the Lord.

36 And the Elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in, with two maides, and shut the garden doores, & sent the maides away 37 Then a young man who there was hid, came vnto her & lay with her. 38 Then we that stood in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickednesse, ran vnto them.

39 And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold : for he was stronger then we, and opened the doore, and leaped out.

40 But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was : hut she would not tell vs : these things doe we testifie.

41 Then the assembly beleeved them, as those that were the Elders and ludges of the people : so they condemned her to death.

42 Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice and said : O euerlasting God that knowest the secrets, and knowest all things before they be:

43 Thou knowest that they have borne false witnesse against me, and behold I must die : whereas I neuer did such things, as these men haue maliciously invented against me.

44 And the Lord heard her voice.

45 Therefore when she was led to be put to death : the Lord raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel.

46 Who cried with a loud voice : I am cleare fro the blood of this woman.

47 Then all the people turned them towards him, & said : what meane these words that thou hast spoken?

48 So he standing in the mids of them, said, Are ye such fooles ye sonnes of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth, ye have condemned a daughter of Israel?

49 Returne againe to the place of indgement : for they have borne false witnesse against her 51 Then said Daniel vnto them, Put these two aside one farre from another. and I will examine them.

52 So when they were put asunder one from another, hee called one of them, and said vnto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickednesse : now thy sinnes which thou hast committed aforetime, are come [to light.]

58 For thou hast pronounced false judgement, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guiltie goe free, albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay.

54 Now then if thou hast seene her: tell me, Vnder what tree sawest thou them companying together? who answered, Vnder a † masticke tree.

56 So hee put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, & said vnto him, O thou seed of Changan, and not of Iuda, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust hath peruerted thine heart.

57 Thus have yee dealt with the companied with you: but the daughter of Iuda would not abide your wickednesse.

58 Now therefore tell mee, Vnder what tree didst thou take them companying together? who answered, Vnder a || holme tree.

59 Then said Daniel vnto him, Well: thou hast also lied against thine owne head : for the Angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you.

60 With that all the assembly cried out with a lowd voice, and praised God who saueth them that trust in him.

61 And they arose against the two Elders, (for Daniel had convicted them of false witnesse by their owne mouth)
62 And according to the Law of Moses, they did vnto them in such sort as they "malitiously intended to doe to Deut. 19. their neighbour: And they put them to 18. Prou. death. Thus the innocent blood was saued the same day.

68 Therefore Chelcias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with loacim her husband, and all the kinred: because there was no dishonestie found in her.

4 And the king worshipped it, and went daily to adore it : but Daniel worshipped his owne God. And the king said vnto him, Why doest not thou worship Bel?

5 Who answered and said, Because I may not worship idols made with bands, but the living God, who hath created the heaven, and the earth, and hath soueraigntie ouer all flesh.

7 Then Daniel smiled, and said, O king, be not deceived : for this is but clay within, and brasse without, and did neuer *eate or drinke any thing.

8 So the king was wroth, and called for his Priests, and said vnto them, If yee tell me not who this is that deuoureth these expenses, ye shall die.

9 But if ye can certifie me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die : for hee hath spoken blasphemie against Bel. And Daniel sayd vnto the king, Let it be according to thy word.

10 (Now the Priests of Bel were threescore and tenne, beside their wives and children) and the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

11 So Bels Priests said, Loe, wee goe out: but thou, O king, set on the meate, and make ready the wine, and shut the doore fast, and seale it with thine owne signet:

12 And to morrow, when thou commest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten vp all, wee will suffer death; or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely against vs.

13 And they little regarded it : for vnder the table they had made a prinie entrance, whereby they entred in contimually, and consumed those things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the king set meates before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his seruants to bring ashes, and those they strewed throughout all the temple, in the presence of the king alone; then went they out and shut the doore, & sealed it with the kings signet, and so departed.

15 Now in the night came the Priests with their wives and children (as they were woont to doe) and did eate and drinke vp all.

16 In the morning betime the king arose, and Daniel with him.

17 And the king said, Daniel, are the seales whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole.

18 And assoone as he had opened the doore, the king looked voon the table, and cried with a loude voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all.

19 Then laughed Daniel, and helde the king that he should not goe in, and sayd, Behold now the pauement, and marke well whose footsteps are these.

20 And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women and children : and then the king was angry, 21 And tooke the Priests, with their wives and children, who shewed him the priny doores, where they came in. and consumed such things as were vpon the table.

22 Therefore the king slewe them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power. who destroyed him and his temple.

23 || And in that same place there usome adde was a great Dragon, which they of the Dragon. Babylon worshipped.

24 And the king said vnto Daniel. Wilt thou also say that this is of brasse? loe, he liucth, he cateth and drinketh. thou canst not say, that he is no living God: therefore worship him.

25 Then said Daniel vnto the king. I will worship the Lord my God: for he is the liuing God.

28 When they of Babylon heard that, they tooke great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Iew, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slaine the Dragon. and put the Priests to death.

29 So they came to the king, and said, Deliuer vs Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thine house.

The prayer of Manasses King of Iuda, when he was holden captive in Babylon.

Lord, Almightie God of our Fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, and of their righteous seed : who hast made heauen and earth, with all the ornament thereof: who hast bound the Sea by the word of thy Commandement: who hast shut up the deepe, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whome all men feare, and tremble before thy power: for the Maiestie of thy glory cannot bee borne, and thine angry threatning towards sinners is importable : but thy mercifull promise is vnmeasurable and vnsearchable : for thou art the most High Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, very mercifull, and repentest of the euils of men. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodnesse hast promised repentance, and forgivenesse to them that have sinned against thee : and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob, which haue not sinned against thee : but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner : for I have sinned aboue the number of the sands of the Sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven, for the multitude of mine iniquitie. I am bowed downe with many yron bands, that I cannot lift up mine head, [neither have any release: For I have provoked thy wrath, and done cuill before thee, I did not thy will, neither kept I thy Commandements: I have set vp abominations, and haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace: I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: wherefore I humbly beseech thee, forgiue me, O Lord, forgiue me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for euer, by rescruing euill for me, neither condemne mee into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, even the God of them that repent : and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodnesse; for thou wilt saue me that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercie. gold, and the † pretious vessels : also he tooke the hidden treasures which hee found:

24 And when hee had taken all away, he went into his owne land, hauing made a great massacre, and spoken very proudly.

25 Therfore there was great mourning in Israel, in euery place where they were :

26 So that the Princes and Elders mourned, the virgines and yong men were made feeble, and the beautie of women was changed.

27 Euery bridegrome tooke vp lamentation, and she that sate in the mar riage chamber, was in heauinesse.

28 The land also was moued for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Iacob was couered with confusion.

29 And after two veeres fully expired, the king sent his chiefe collectour of tribute vnto the cities of Iuda, who came vnto Ierusalem with a great multitude.

30 And spake peaceable wordes vnto them, but [all was] deceit : for when they had given him credence, he fell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it very sore, & destroyed much people of Israel

31 And when hee had taken the spoiles of the citie, hee set it on fire, and pulled downe the houses, and walles thereof on euery side.

32 But the women & children tooke they captine, and possessed the cattell.

33 Then builded they the citie of Dauid with a great and strong wall, [and] with mightie towers, and made it a strong hold for them.

34 And they put therein a sinfull na tion, wicked men, and fortified [themselues] therein. 35 They stored it also with armour and victuals, and when they had gathered together the spoiles of Ierusalem, they layd them vp there, and so they became a sore snare:

36 For it was a place to lie in wait a gainst the Sanctuary, and an euill aduersary to Israel.

16 And when hee came neere to the going vp of Bethoron, Iudas went forth to meet him with a smal company.

17 Who when they saw the host comming to meet them, said vnto Iudas; How shall wee be able, being so few to fight against so great a multitude, and so strong, seeing wee are ready to faint with fasting all this day?

18 Vnto whom Iudas answered: 1. Sem. 14. * It is no hard matter for many to bee shut vp in the hands of a few; and with the God of heaven it is all one, to deliuer with a great multitude, or a small company:

19 For the victory of battell standeth not in the multitude of an hoste, but strength commeth from heauen.

20 They come ||against vs +in much pride and iniquitie to destroy vs, and our wives & children, and to spoile vs: 21 But wee fight for our liues, and our Lawes.

22 Wherefore the Lord bimselfe will ouerthrow them before our face : and as for you, be ye not afraid of them.

23 Now as soone as hee had left off speaking, he lept suddenly vpon them, and so Seron and bis host was ouerthrowen before him.

34 Moreouer he delivered vnto him the halfe of his forces, and the Elepbants, and gaue him charge of all things that he would have done, as also concerning them that dwelt in Iuda and Ierusalem.

35 To wit, that he should send an armie against them, to destroy and root out the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Ierusalem, and to take away their memoriall from that place:

36 And that he should place strangers in all their quarters, and divide their land by lot.

37 So the king tooke the halfe of the forces that remained, and departed from Antioch this royall city, the hun for a citie dreth fourtie and seuenth yeere, and hauing passed the river Euphrates, hee went through the high countreys.

38 Then Lysias chose Ptoleme, the son of Dorymenes and Nicanor, & Gorgias, mighty men of the kings friends:

39 And with them hee sent fourtie thousand footmen, and seven thousand borsemen to goe into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it as the king comanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came and pitched by Emmaus in the plaine countrey.

thren saw that miseries were multiplied, & that the forces did encampe themselues in their borders, (for they knewe how the king had given commaundement to destroy the people, and etterly aholish them.)

43 They said one to another, Let vs restore the decayed estate of our people, and let vs fight for our people and the Sanctuarie.

44 Then was the Congregation gathered together, that they might be ready for battell, and that they might pray, and aske mercy and compassion.

45 Now Ierusalem lay voide as a wildernesse, there was none of her children that went in or out: the Sanctuarie also was troden downe, and aliens kept the strong holde : the heathen had their habitation in that place, and loy was taken from Iacob, and the pipe with the harpe ceased.

46 Wherefore the Israelites assembled themselues together, and came to Maspha ouer-against Ierusalem; for in Maspha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Israel.

10 And sent letters vnto Iudas and bis brethren . The heathen that are round about vs, are assembled together against vs to destroy vs;

II And they are preparing to come and take the fortresse whereunto wee are fled, Timotheus being captaine of their host.

12 Come now therefore and deliuer vs from their handes, for many of vs are slaine.

IS Yea all our brethren that were in the places of Tobie, are put to death, their wines and their children; Also they have caried away captines, and borne away their stuffe, and they have destroied there about a thousand men.

14 While these letters were yet reading, behold there came other messen. gers from Galilee with their clothes rent, who reported on this wise.

15 And said : They of Ptolemais. and of Tyrus, and Sidon, and all Galilee of the Gentiles are assembled together against vs to consume vs.

16 Now when Iudas and the people heard these wordes, there assembled great congregation together, to consult what they should doe for their brethren, that were in trouble and assaulted of them.

17 Then said Iudas vnto Simon his brother. Choose thee out men, and goe, and deliuer thy brethren that are in Galilee, for I and Ionathan my brother, will goe into the countrey of Galaad.

18 So hee left Ioseph the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias captaines of the people, with the remnant of the hoste in ludes to keepe it.

19 Vnto whom he gaue commandement, saying, Take yee the charge of this people, and see that you make not warre against the heathen, vntill the time that we come againe.

20 Now vnto Simon were giuen three thousand men to goe into Galilee, and vnto ludas eight thousand men for the countrey of Galand.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee. where hee fought many battels with the heathen, so that the heathen were discomfited by him.

22 And hee pursued them vnto the gate of Ptolemais; And there were slaine of the heathen about three thousand men, whose spoiles he tooke.

23 And | those that were in Galilee | Or. capting and in Arbattis, with their wives and lewes. their children, and all that they had. tooke he away [with him] and brought them into Iudea, with great loy.

24 ludas Maccabeus also and his brother Ionathan, went ouer Iordan, and trauailed three dayes journey in the wildernesse, 25 Where they met with the Nabathites, who came vnto them in peaceable maner, and told them every thing that had happened to their brethren in the land of Galaad.

30 And betimes in the morning they looked vp, & behold, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, and other engines of warre, to take the fortresse : for || they assaulted them.

31 When Iudas therefore saw that the battaile was begun, and that the cry of the citie went vp to heaueu, with trumpets, and a great sound, 32 He said vnto his hoste, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So he went foorth behinde them in three companies, who sounded their trumpets, and cryed with prayer.

34 Then the hoste of Timotheus knowing that it was Maccabeus, fled from him : wherefore hee smote them with a great slaughter : so that there were killed of them that day about eight thousand men.

35 This done, Iudas turned aside to Maspha, and after he had assaulted it, hee tooke it, and slewe all the males therein, and received the spoiles therof, and burnt it with fire.

36 From thence went he, and tooke Casphon, Maged, Bosor, and the other cities of the countrey of Galaad.

37 After these things, gathered Timotheus another hoste, and encamped against Raphon beyond the brooke.

38 So Iudas sent [men] to espie the hoste, who brought him word, saying; All the heathen that be round about vs, are assembled vnto them, euen a very great hoste.

39 Hee hath also hired the Arabians to helpe them, and they have pitched their tents beyond the brooke, readie to come and fight against thee : vpon this Iudas went to meet them.

40 Then Timotheus said vnto the captaines of his hoste, When Iudas and his hoste come neere the brooke, if he passe ouer first vnto vs, we shall not be able to withstand him, for hee will mightily preuaile against va.

41 But if he be afraid, and campe beyond the river, we shall goe over vnto him, and preuaile against him.

42 Now when Iudas came neere the brooke, he caused the Scribes of the people to remaine by the brooke : vnto whom hee gaue commandement, say-

43 So he went first ouer vnto them and all the people after him : then all the heathen being discomfitted before him, cast away their weapons, and fled vnto the Temple that was at Carnaim.

44 But || they tooke the citie, and I fuder and burnt the Temple, with all that were therein. Thus was Carnaim subdued, neither could they stand any longer before Iudas.

45 Then Iudas gathered together all the Israelites that were in the countrey of Galand from the least vnto the greatest, euen their wives and their children, and their stuffe, a very great hoste, to the ende they might come into the land of Iudea.

46 Now when they came vnto E. phron (this was a great city in the way as they should goe, very well fortified) they could not turne from it, either on the right hand or the left, but must needs passe through the midst of it.

47 Then they of the city shut them out, and stopped vp the gates with stones.

48 Whereupon Iudas sent vnto them in peaceable maner, saying; Let vs passe through your land to goe into our owne countrey, and none shall doe you any hurt, we will onely passe thorow on foote : howbeit they would not open vnto him.

49 Wherefore Iudas commaunded a proclamation to be made throughout the hoste, that every man should pitch his tent in the place where he was.

50 So the souldiers pitched, and assaulted the city all that day, and all that night, till at the length the city was delivered into his hands:

61 Thus was there a great ouerthrow among the children of Israel, because they were not obedient vnto Iudas, and his brethren, but thought to doe some valiant act.

16 So king Antiochus died there in the hundreth forty and ninth yeere.

17 Now when Lysias knew that the king was dead, he set vp Antiochus his sonne (whom he had brought vp being yong) to reigne in his stead, and his name he called Eupator.

18 About this time they that were in the towre shut vp the Israelites round about the Sanctuarie, and sought alwayes their hurt, and the strengthening of the heathen.

35 Moreover, they divided the beasts among the armies, and for euery elephant they appointed a thousand men, armed with coats of male, and with helmets of brasse on their heads, and besides this, for every beast were ordained five hundred horsemen of the best.

36 These were ready at every occasion : wheresoeuer the beast was, and whithersoeuer y beast went, they went also, neither departed they from him.

40 So part of the kings armie being spred vpon the high mountaines, and part on the valleyes below, they marched on safely, and in order.

41 Wherefore all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rathing of the harnesse, were moved : for the army was very great and mighty.

42 Then ludas and his host drew neere, and entred into battell, and there were slaine of the kings army, sixe hundred men.

61 Also the King and the Princes made an oath vnto them : whereupon they went out of the strong hold.

62 Then the King entred into mount Sion, but when hee saw the strength of the place, hee brake his oath that hee had made, and gaue commandement to pull downe the wall round about.

17 In consideration of these things Iudas chose Eupolemus the sonne of Iohn, the sonne of Accas, and Iason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome to make a league of amitie and confederacie with them.

18 [And to intreate them] that they would take the yoke from them, for they saw that the kingdome of the Grecians did oppresse Israel with seruitude

19 They went therefore to Rome (which was a very great iourney) and came into the Senate, where they spake and said.

20 Iudas Maccabeus with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes, haue sent vs vnto vou, to make a confederacie, and peace with you, and that we might be registred, your confederats and friends.

21 So that matter pleased the Romanes well.

22 And this is the copie of the Epistle which (the Senate) wrote backe againe, in tables of hrasse : and sent to Ierusalem, that there they might have by them a memorial of peace & confederacy.

23 Good successe be to the Romans and to the people of the Iewes, by Sea. and by land for euer: the sword also and enemie, be farre from them.

24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romans or any of their confederats throughout all their dominion, 25 The people of the Iewes shall helpe them, as the time shall be appointed, with all their heart.

26 Neither shal they give any thing, vnto them that make war vpon them, or aide them with victuals, weapons, money, or ships, as it bath seemed good vnto the Romans, but they shall keepe their couenant without taking any thing therefore.

27 In the same maner also, if warre come first vpon the nation of the Iewes, the Romans shall helpe them with all their heart, according as the time shall be appointed them.

28 Neithershal victuals beginen to the that take part against the, or weapons, for money, or ships, as it hath seemed | as there abode of them no moe but good to the Romanes; but they shall keepe their couenants, and that without deceit.

29 According to these articles did the Romanes make a covenant with the people of the lewes.

30 Howbeit, if hereafter the one partie or the other, shall thinke meete to adde or diminish any thing, they may doe it at their pleasures, and whatsoeuer they shall adde or take away, shalbe ratified.

31 And as touching the euils that Demetrius doeth to the lewes, wee haue written vnto him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy yoke heavie vpon our friends, and confederate the lewes?

32 If therefore they complaine any more against thee: wee will doe them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

CHAP. IX.

Aleimus and Bacchides come againe with new forces into Iudes. 7 The armie of Iudas flee from him, 17 and he is daine. 30 Ionathan is in his place, 40 and reuengeth his brother Iohns quarrell. 55 Alcimus is plagued, and dieth. 70 Bacchides maketh peace with Ionathan.

Vrthermore, when Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his hoste were slaine in battell, † hee sent Bacchides and Alcimus into the land of Iudea the second time, and with them the ||chiefe strength of his hoste.

2 Who went forth by the way that 10r, Galiles leadeth to [Galgala, and pitched their tents before Masaloth, which is in Arbela, and after they had wonne it, they

6 Who seeing the multitude of the other army to be so great, were sore afraide, whereupon many conueyed themselues out of the hoste, insomuch eight hundred men.

7 When Iudas therefore saw that his hoste slipt away, and that the battell pressed vpon him, he was sore troubled in mind, and much distressed, for that he had no time to gather them together.

8 Neuerthelesse vnto them that remained, he said; Let vs arise and goe vp against our enemies, if peraduenture we may be able to fight with them.

9 But they dehorted him, saying, Wee shall neuer be able : || Let vs now | We follow hers the Ro rather saue onr liues, and hereafter we mane copie. will returne with our brethren, and fight against them : for we are but few.

10 Then Indas said, God forbid that I should doe this thing, and flee away from them : If our time be come. let vs die manfully for our brethren. and tlet vs not staine our honour.

11 With that the hoste [of Bacchides] institute onto the premoued out of their tents, and stood ouer against || them, their horsemen being divided into two troupes, and their spinst. slingers and archers going before the lor the lores. hoste, and they that marched in the foreward were all mighty men.

14 Now when Iudas perceiued that Bacchides and the strength of his armic were on the right side, he tooke with him all the hardy men.

15 Who discomfited the right wing, and pursued them vnto the mount

16 But when they of the left wing, saw that they of the right wing were discomfited, they followed voon Iudas and those that were with him hard at the heeles from behinde :

17 Whereupon there was a sore battell, insomuch as many were slaine on both parts.

18 Indas also was killed, and the remnant fled.

19 Then Ionathan and Simon tooke Iudas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers in Modin.

20 Moreover they bewailed him, and land all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many dayes, 21 How is the valiant man fallen. that delivered Israel?

22 As for the other things concerning ludas and his warres, and the noble actes which he did, and his greatnesse, they are not written : for they were very many.

23 T Now after the death of Iu das, the wicked began to put foorth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and there rose vp all such as wrought iniquitie.

24 In those dayes also was there a very great famine, by reason whereof the countrey revolted, and went with 25 Then Bacchides chose the wicked men, and made them lordes of the countrey.

26 And they made enquirie & search for Iudas friends, and brought them vnto Bacchides, who tooke vengeance Gr. mocked of them, and t vsed them despitefully.

27 So was there a great affliction in Israel, the like whereof was not since the time that a Prophet was not seene amongst them.

28 For this cause all Iudas friends came together, & said vnto Ionathan, 29 Since thy brother Iudas died we have no man like him to goe foorth against our enemies, and Bacchides, and against them of our nation that are aduersaries to vs.

30 Now therefore wee haue chosen thee this day to be our prince, and captaine in his stead, that thou mayest fight our battels.

31 Vpon this, Ionathan tooke the gouernance vpon him at that time, and rose vp in stead of his brother Iudas.

32 But when Bacchides gat knowledge thereof, he sought for to slay him. 33 Then Ionathan and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, perceiuing that, fled into the wildernes of Thecoe, and pitched their tents by the water of the poole Asphar.

37 After this came word to Ionathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Iambri made a great mariage, and were bringing the bride from Nadabatha with a great traine, as 1 Or, Me. being the daughter of one of the great princes of Canaan. 38 Therfore they remembred Iohn their brother, and went vp and hidde themselues vnder the couert of the mountaine. 39 Where they lift vp their eyes, and looked, & behold, there was much adoe and great cariage : and the bridegrome came foorth, and his friends & brethren to meet them with || drums and || instru- 10, timbre ments of musicke, and many weapons. 10r, musicians.

40 Then Ionathan and they that were with him, rose vp against them from the place where they lay in ambush, and made a slaughter of them in such sort, as many fell downe dead, and the remnant fledde into the mountaine, and they tooke all their spoiles.

41 Thus was the mariage turned into mourning, and the noise of their melody into lamentation.

42 So when they had avenged fully the blood of their brother, they turned againe to the marish of Iordan.

43 Now when Bacchides heard hereof, hee came on the Sabbath day vnto the banks of Iordan with a great

44 Then Ionathan sayde to his company, Let vs goe vp now and fight for our lives, for it standeth not with vs to day, as in time past:

45 For behold, the battell is before vs and behinde vs, and the water of Iordan on this side and that side, the marish likewise and wood, neither is there place for vs to turne aside.

46 Wherefore cry ye now vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from the hand of your enemies.

47 With that they ioyned battel, and Ionathan stretched foorth his hand to smite Bacchides, but hee turned backe from him.

48 Then Ionathan and they that were with him, leapt into Iordan, and swamme ouer vnto the farther banke howbeit the other passed not ouer Iordan vnto them.

51 And in them he set a garison, that they might worke malice vpon Israel. 52 He fortified also + the citie Bethsura, and Gazara, and the towre, and put forces in them, and provision of victuals. 53 Besides, he tooke the chiefe mens sonnes in the country for hostages, and put them into the towre at Ierusalem to be kept.

54 Moreoucr, in the hundred, fiftie and third yere, in the second moneth, Alcimus commanded that the wall of the inner court of the Sanctuarie should be pulled downe, he pulled downe also the works of the prophets.

55 And as he began to pull downe, euen at that time was Alcimus plagued, and his enterprises hindered : for his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsic, so that bee could no more speake any thing, nor give order concerning his house.

56 So Alcimus died at that time with great torment.

57 Now when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he returned to the king, whereupon the land of Iudea was in rest two veere.

58 Then all the vngodly men held a counsell, saying, Behold, Ionathan and his companie are at ease, and dwell without care : now therefore wee will bring Bacchides hither, who shall take them all in one night.

60 Then remoued he, and came with a great hoste, and sent letters privily to his adherents in Iudea, that they should take Ionathan, and those that were with him : Howbeit they could not, because their counsell was knowen vnto them.

61 Wherefore they tooke of the men of the countrey that were authours of that mischiefe, about fiftie persons, and slew them.

62 Afterward Ionathan and Simon, and they that were with him, got them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wildernesse, and they repaired the decayes thereof, and made it strong.

68 And fought against Bacchides, who was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore. For his counsell and trauaile was in vaine.

69 Wherefore he was very wroth at the wicked men that gaue him counsell to come into the countrey, insomuch as he slew many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Ionathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, to the end he should make peace with him, & deliuer them the prisoners.

Demetrius maketh large offers to haue peace with Ionathan. 25 His letters to the Jewes. 47 Ionathan maketh peace with Alexander 50 Who killeth Demetrius, 58 and marieth the daughter of Ptolomeus. 62 Ionathan is sent for by him, and much honoured, 75 and prenaileth against the forces of Demetrius the yonger, 84 & burneth the temple of Dagon.

yere, Alexander the #sonne yere, Alexander the sonne sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes.

Epiphanes, went vp and tooke Ptolemais: for the tooke Ptolemais : for the people had received him, by meanes > whereof he reigned there. 2 Now when king Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered together an exceeding great host, and went foorth a> gainst him to fight. 3 Moreover Demotrius sent letters vnto Ionathan with louing wordes, so as he magnified him.

> 4 For, said hee, Let va first make peace with him before he loyne with A exander against vs.

> 5 Else he wil remember all the euils that we baue done against him, and against his brethren and his people.

> 6 Wherefore he gave him authority to gather together an host, and to prouide weapons that hee might aide him in battell : he commaunded also that the hostages that were in the towre, should be delivered him.

7 Then came Ionathan to Ierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the towre.

8 Who were sore afraid when they heard that the king had given him au thoritie to gather together an host.

9 Whereupon they of the towre delivered their hostages vnto Ionathan & he delivered them vnto their parents

10 This done, Ionathan settled himselfe in Ierusalem, and began to build and repaire the citie.

11 And he commaunded the worke men to build the wals, and the mount Sion round about with square stones. for fortification, and they did so.

12 Then the strangers that were in the fortresses which Bacchides had built, fled away:

13 Insomuch as every man left his place, and went into his owne country.

14 Onely at Bethsura certaine of those that had forsaken the law, and the commaundements remained still : for it was their place of refuge.

15 Now when king Alexander had heard what promises Demetrius had sent voto Ionathan : when also it was told him of the battels and noble acts which he & his brethren had done, and of the paines that they had indured,

16 He said, Shal we find such another

N the hundreth & sixtieth | man? Now thereforee we will make him our friend, and confederate.

17 Vpon this he wrote a letter and sent it vnto him according to these words, saving:

18 King Alexander to his brother Ionathan, sendeth greeting:

19 We have heard of thee, that thou art a man of great power, and meete to be our friend.

20 Wherefore now this day we ordaine thee 10 bee the high priest of thy nation, and to be called the kings friend. (and therewithall he sent him a purple robe and a crowne of gold) and require thee] to take our part, and keepe friendship with vs.

21 So in the seventh moneth of the hundreth and sixtieth vere, at the feast of the Tabernacles, Ionathan put on the holy robe, and gathered together for ces, and prouided much armour.

22 Wherof when Demetrius heard, he was very sory, and said,

23 What have we done that Alexander hath prevented vs. in making amity with the lewes to strengthen himself?

24 I also will write vnto them words of encouragement and promise them | dignities and gifts, that I may haue their ayde

25 He sent vnto him therefore, to this effect : King Demetrius vnto the people of the Iewes, sendeth greeting:

26 Whereas you have kept covenants with vs, & continued in our friendship, not loyning your selues with our enemies, we have heard hereof, & are glad:

27 Wherefore now continue yee still to be faithful vnto vs. and we will well recompence you for the things you doe in our behalfe, 28 And will grant you many immunities, and give you rewards.

29 And now I doe free you, and for your sake I release all the Iewes from tributes, and from the customes of salt, and from crowne taxes,

30 And fro that which appertaineth vnto me to receive for the third part of the seed, and the halfe of the fruit of the trees. I release it from this day forth, so that they shall not be taken of the land of Iudea, nor of the three gouernments which are added thereunto out of the country of Samaria and Galile, from this day forth for enermore.

31 Let Ierusalem also bee holy and free, with the borders thereof, both from tenths and tributes.

32 And as for the towre which is at Ierusalem, I yeeld vp my authoritie ouer it, and give it to the high Priest. that he may set in it such men as he shall choose to keepe it.

33 Moreover I freely set at libertie euery one of the Iewes that were carried captines ont of the land of Indea, into any part of my kingdome, and I will that all my officers remit the tributes, even of their cattell.

34 Furthermore, I will that all the Feasts and Sabbaths, & New moones and solemne dayes, and the three dayes before the Feast, and the three dayes after the Feast, shall be all dayes of immunitie and freedom for all the lewes in my realme.

35 Also no man shall haue authoritie to meddle with them, or to molest any of them in any matter.

36 [I will further] that there be enrolled amongst the kings forces about thirtie thousand men of the lewes, vnto whom pay shall be given as belongeth to all the kings forces.

37 And of them some shalbe placed in the kings strong holds, of whom also some shall be set ouer the affaires of the kingdome, which are of trust : and I will that their overseers and governours be of themselues, and that they Gr. walke. | thine after their owne lawes, even as the King hath commanded in the land of Iudea.

38 And concerning the three governments that are added to Iudea from the countrey of Samaria, let them be loyned with Iudea, that they may be reckoned to be under one, nor bound to obey other authoritie then y high priests

39 As for Ptolemais and the land pertaining thereto, I giue it as a free gift to the Sanctuary at Ierusalem, for the necessary expences || of the San-

42 And besides this, the five thousand shekels of siluer, which they tooke from the vses of the Temple out of the accompts yeere by yeere, eyen those things shall be released, because they appertaine to the Priests that minister.

43 And whosoener they be that flee vnto the Temple at Ierusalem, or be within the liberties thereof, being indebted vnto the King, or for any other matter, let them be at libertie, and all that they have in my realme.

44 For the building also and repairing of the workes of the Sanctuary, expences shalbe given of the Kings ac-

45 Yea, and for the building of the walles of Ierusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, expences shall bee given out of the Kings accompts, as also for building of the walles in Iudea.

46 Now when Ionathan and the people heard these words, they gane no credite vnto them, nor received them, because they remembred the great suill that he had done in Israel; for hee had afflicted them very sore.

47 But with Alexander they were well pleased, because hee was the first that entreated of || peace with them, and | True. they were confederate with him al-

48 Then gathered king Alexander great forces, and camped ouer against Demetrius.

49 And after the two Kings had lioyned battell, Demetrius hoste fled: but Alexander followed after him, and preuailed against them.

50 And he continued the battell very sore vntill the Sunne went downe, and that day was Demetrius slaine.

51 Afterward Alexander sent Embassadors to Ptoleme king of Egypt, with a message to this effect;

52 Forsomuch as I am come againe to my realme, and am set in the throne of my progenitors, and haue gotten the dominion, and ouerthrowen Demetrius, and recouered our countrey,

53 (For after I had joyned battell with him, both he, and his hoste was discomfited by vs. so that we sit in the throne of his kingdome)

54 Now therefore let vs make a league of amitie together, and give me now thy daughter to wife : & 1 will be thy son in law, and will give both thee and her, gifts according to thy dignity.

55 Then Ptoleme the king gaue answere, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou diddest returne into the land of Apocrypha.

Ithy fathers, and satest in the throne of their kingdome.

56 And now will I doe to thee, as thou hast written : meet me therefore at Ptolemais, that wee may see one another, for I will marry my daughter to thee according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolome went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and they came vnto Ptolemais in the hundred threescore and second yeere.

58 Where king Alexander meeting him, gaue vnto him bis daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great glory, as the maner of kings is.

59 Now king Alexander bad writ ten vnto Ionathan, that hee should come and meete him.

60 Who thereupon went honoursbly to Ptolemais, where he met the two kings, and gaue them and their friends siluer and golde, and many presents, and found fauour in their sight.

61 At that time certaine pestilent fellowes of Israel, men of a wicked life, assembled themselues against him, to accuse him : but the king would not heare them-

62 Yea more then that, the king commanded to take off his garments, and clothe him in purple : and they did so.

63 Also he made him sit by himselfe, and said vnto his princes, Goe with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complaine against him of any matter, and that no man troble him for any maner of cause.

64 Now when his accusers sawe that he was honoured according to the proclamation, and clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 So the king honoured him, and wrote him amongst his chiefe friends, and made him a duke, and | partaker of his dominion.

66 Afterward Ionathan returned to Ierusalem with peace and gladnes. 67 Furthermore, in the bundreth threescore and fifth yeere, came Demetrius sonne of Demetrius, out of Crete into the land of his fathers. 68 Whereof when king Alexander heard tell, he was right sory, and returned into Antioch.

69 Then Demetrius made Apollonius the gouernour of Coelosyria his general, who gathered together a great hoste, and camped in Iamnia, and sent vnto Ionathan the high Priest, saying, 70 Thou alone liftest vp thy selfe against vs, and I am laughed to scorne for thy sake, and reproched, and why doest thou vaunt thy power against vs in the mountaines?

71 Now therefore if thou trustest in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field, and there let ve trie the matter together, for with me is the power of the cities.

72 Aske and learne who I am, and the rest that take our part, and they shal tel thee that thy foot is not able to stand before our face; for thy fathers have bene twice put to flight in their owne land.

73 Wherefore now thou shalt not be able to abide the horsemen and so great a power in the plaine, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee vnto.

74 So when Ionathan heard these words of Apollonius, he was moued in his mind, & choosing ten thousand men, he went out of lerusale, where Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.

75 And hee pitched his tents against loppe : but they of loppe shut him out of the citie, because Apollonius had a garison there.

76 Then Ionathan laid siege vnto it : whereupon they of the city let him in for feare: & so Ionathan wan Ioppe.

77 Wherof when Apollonius heard, he tooke three thousand horsemen with a great hoste of footmen, and went to Azotus as one that iourneyed, & there-10r, as thos withal ||drew him forth into the plaine, he would because he had a great number of horse-10r, led his men, in whom he put his trust.

78 Then Ionathan followed after him to Azotus, where the armies ioyned battell. 79 Now Apollonius had left a thou sand horsemen in ambush.

80 And Ionathan knew that there was an ambusbment behinde him; for they had compassed in his host, and cast darts at the people, from morning till euening.

81 But the people stood still, as Ionathan had commanded them : and so the ||enemies borses were tired.

82 Then brought Simon forth his hoste, and set them against the footmen, (for the horsmen were spent) who were discomfited by him, and fled.

83 The horsemen also being scattered in the field, fled to Azotus, and went into Bethdago their idols temple for safety.

84 But Ionathan set fire on Azotus, and the cities round about it, and tooke their spoiles, and the temple of Dagon, with them that were fled into it, he burnt with fire.

85 Thus there were burnt and slaine with the sword, well nigh eight thousand men.

86 And from thence Ionathan remoued his hoste, and camped against Ascalon, where the men of the city came forth, and met him with great pompe.

87 After this, returned Ionathan and his hoste vnto lerusalem, hauing many spoiles.

88 Now when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Ionathan yet more.

89 And sent him a buckle of golde, as the vse is to be given to such as are of the kings blood : he gaue him also Accaron with the borders thereof in posses-

4 And when he came neere to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies that were cast abroad, and them that he had burnt in the battell, for they had made heapes of them by the way where he should passe.

than besieged the towre. 22 Whereof when he heard, he was angry, and immediately remouing, he can to Ptolemais, and wrote vnto Ionathan, that he should not lay siege to the towre, but come and speake with him at Ptolemais in great haste.

23 Neuerthelesse Ionathan when he heard this, commanded to besiege it [still] and he chose certaine of the Elders of Israel, and the priests, and put himselfe in perill, 24 And tooke silver and gold, and rayment, and divers presents besides, and went to Ptolemais, vnto the king, where he found fauour in his sight.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of the people, had made complaints against him,

26 Yet the king entreated him as his predecessors had done before, & promoted him in the sight of all his friends, 27 And confirmed him in the high priestbood, and in all the honours that hee had before, and gaue him preeminence among his chiefe friends.

28 Then Ionathan desired the king, that hee would make Iudea free from tribute, as also the three governments with the countrey of Samaria, & he promised him three hundred talents

29 So the king consented and wrote letters vnto Ionathan, of all these things after this maner.

30 King Demetrius vnto his brother Ionathan, and vnto the nation of the Iewes, sendeth greeting.

31 We send you heere a copie of the letter, which we did write vnto our cousin Lasthenes, concerning you, that you might see it.

32 King Demetrius vnto his father Lasthenes, sendeth greeting:

33 We are determined to doe good to the people of the Iewes, who are our friends, and keepe couenants with vs, because of their good will towards vs.

34 || Wherefore we have ratified vnto them the borders of Iudea, with the three gouernments of Apherema, and Lidda, and Ramathem, that are added vnto Iudea, from the countrie of Samaria, and all things appertaining vnto them, for all such, as doe sacrifice in Ierusalem, in stead of the paiments, which the king received of them yearely aforetime out of the fruits of the earth, and of trees.

to the king, and told him that Iona-| | 85 And as for other things that belong vnto vs of the tithes and customes pertaining vnto vs. as also the salt pits, land the crowne taxes, which are due vnto vs, we discharge them of them all for their reliefe.

36 And nothing heereof shall be reuoked from this time foorth for ever.

37 Now therefore see that thou make a copie of these things, and let it be deliuered vnto Ionathan, and set vpon the holy mount in a conspicuous place.

38 After this, when king Demetrius saw that the land was quiet before him and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his forces enery one to his owne place, except certaine bands of strangers, whom he had gathered from the iles of the heathen, wherefore all the forces of his fathers hated him.

39 Moreouer there was one Tryplion, that had beene of Alexanders part afore, who seeing that all the hoste murmured against Demetrius, went to Simalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus v yong sonne of Alexander, 40 And lay sore vpon him, to deliuer him [this young Antiochus] that he might raigne in his fathers stead : he told him therefore all that Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre were at enmitie with him, and there he remained a long season.

41 In the meane time Ionathan sent vnto king Demetrius, that hec would cast those of the towre out of Ierusalem, and those also in the fortresses. For they fought against Israel 42 So Demetrius sent vnto Ionathan, saying, I will not onely doe this for thee, and thy people, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if opportunitie serue.

43 Now therefore thou shalt do wel if thou send me men to helpe me; for all my forces are gone from me.

44 Vpon this Ionathan sent him three thousand strong men vnto Antioch, and when they came to y king, the king was very glad of their comming.

45 Howbeit, they that were of the citie, gathered themselves together into the midst of the citie, to the number of an hundreth and twentie thousand men, and would have slaine the king.

46 Wherefore the king fled into the court, but they of the citie kept the passages of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then

47 Then the king called to the Iewes for helpe, who came vnto him all at once, and dispersing themselves through the city, slew that day in the citie to the number of an hundred thou-

48 Also they set fire on the citie, and gat many spoiles that day, and deliuered the king.

49 So when they of the city saw, that the Iewes had got the city as they would, their courage was abated, wherefore they made supplication to the king, and cried, saying:

50 ||Graunt vs peace, and let the lewes cease from assaulting vs and the citie.

51 With that they cast away their weapons, and made peace, and the lewes were honoured in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his realme, and they returned to Ierusalem hauing great spoiles.

52 So king Demetrius sate on the throne of his kingdome, and the land was quiet before him.

53 Neuerthelesse hee dissembled in all that ever hee spake, and estranged himselfe from Ionathan, neither rewarded he him, according to the benefits which hee had received of him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After this returned Tryphon, and with him the yong childe Antiochus, who reigned and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre whom Demetrius had put away, and they fought against Demetrius, who turned his backe and fled.

56 Moreouer Triphon tooke the † Eephants, and wonne Antioch.

57 At that time yong Antiochus wrote vnto Ionathan, saying; I confirme thee in the high Priesthood, and appoint thee ruler ouer the foure gouernments, and to be one of the kings friends.

58 Vpon this he sent him golden vessels to be served in, and gave him leave to drinke in gold, and to bee clothed in ourple, and to weare a golden buckle.

59 His brother Simon also he made captaine from the place called the ladder of Tyrus, vnto the borders of E-

60 Then Ionathan | went foorth and passed through the cities beyond the water, and all the forces of Syria, gathered themselves vnto him for to helpe him: and when he came to Ascalon, they of the city met him honorably.

66 But they desired to have peace with him, which he granted them, and then put them out from thence, and tooke the city, and set a garrison in it.

67 As for Ionathan and his boste, they pitched at the water of Gennesar, from whence betimes in the morning they gate them to the plaine of Nasor.

68 And behold, the hoste of strangers met them in the plaine, who having layed men in ambush for him in the mountaines, came themselves over against him.

69 So when they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joyned battel, al that were of Ionathans side fled.

70 In so much as there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the sonne of Absolon, and Judas the sonne of Calphi the captaines of the hoste.

71 Then Ionathan rent his clothes, and cast earth vpon his head, and 73 Now when his owne men that were fled saw this, they turned againe vnto him, and with him pursued them to Cades, euen vnto their owne tents, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the heathen that day, about three thousand men, hut Ionathan returned to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XII.

Ionathan reneweth his league with the Romanes and Lacedemonians. 28 The forces of Demetrius thinking to surprise lonathan flee away for feare. 35 Ionathan fortifieth the castles in Iudes, 48 and is shut vp by the fraud of Tryphon in Ptolemais.

Owe when Ionathan saw that the time serued 💈 him, he chose certaine men and sent them to Rome, for to confirme and renew the friendship that they had with them. 2 He sent letters also to the Lacedemonians, and to other places, for the same purpose.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the Senate, and said, Ionathan the high Priest, and the people of the Iewes sent vs vnto you, to the end you should renew the friendship which you had with them, and league, as in former time.

4 Vpon this the Romanes gaue them letters vnto the governours of euery place, that they should bring them into the land of Iudea peaceably.

5 And this is the copy of the letters which Ionathan wrote to the Lacedemonians:

6 Ionathan the hie Priest, and the Elders of the nation, and the Priestes and the other people of the Iewes, vnto the Lacedemonians their brethren, send greeting.

and friendship. 9 Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, for that wee haue the holy bookes of Scripture in our hands to comfort vs.

10 Haue neuerthelesse attempted to send vnto you, for the renewing of brotherhood and friendship, lest we should become strangers vnto you altogether: for there is a long time passed since you

11 We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our Feasts, and other convenient dayes, doe remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as reason is, and as it becommeth vs to thinke vpon our brethren:

13 As for our selues, wee have had great troubles and warres on every side, forsomuch as the kings that are round about vs haue fought against vs.

14 Howbeit wee would not be troublesome vnto you, nor to others of our confederates & friends in these warres

15 For wee hane helpe from heaven that succoureth vs, so as we are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are brought vnder foote.

16 For this cause we chose Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Iason, and sent them vnto the Romanes, to renew the amitie that we had with them, and the former league.

17 We commanded them also to goe vnto you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters, concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 Wherefore now ye shall doe well to giue vs an answere thereto.

19 And this is the copy of the letters which ||Omiares sent:

20 Areus king of the Lacedemonians, to Onias the hie Priest, greeting.

21 It is found in writing, that the Lacedemonians and lewes are brethren, and that they are of the stocke of Abraham:

22 Now therefore, since this is come to our knowledge, you shall doe well to write vnto vs of your †prosperitie.

23 We doe write backe againe to you, that your cattell and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We doe command therefore [our Embassadours] to make report vnto you on this wise.

24 Now when Ionathan heard that Demetrius princes were come to fight against him with a greater hoste then afore.

25 Hee remooued from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Amathis: for he gaue them no respite | to enter his 10r, to set countrey.

26 He sent spies also vnto their tents, lo intade his who came againe, and tolde him, that they were appointed to come vpon them in the night season.

27 Wherefore so soone as the Sunne was downe, Ionathan commaunded his men to watch, and to be in armes, 28 But when the aduersaries heard.

that Ionathan and his men were ready for battell, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and I they kindled fires in their campe.

29 Howbeit Ionathan and his company knew it not till the morning : for they saw the lights burning.

30 Then Ionathan pursued after them, but overtooke them not : for they were gone ouer the river Eleutherus.

31 Wherefore Ionathan turned to Hower. Na the Arabians, who were called † Zaba-batheans, or Zabatheans, and smote them, and tooke their spoiles.

> 32 And remouing thence, he came to Damascus, and so passed through all the countrey.

33 Simon also went foorth, and passed through the countrey vnto Ascalon, and the holds there adjoyning, from whence he turned aside to loppe, and wanne it.

34 For he had heard that they would deliuer the hold vnto them that tooke Demetrius part, wherefore he set a garison there to keepe it.

35 After this came Ionathan home againe, and calling the Elders of the people together, hee consulted with them about building steong holdes in ludea.

36 And making the walles of Ierusalem higher, and raising a great mount betweene the towre and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be alone, that men might neither sell nor buy in it.

37 Vpon this they came together, Or, accor- to build up the citie || forasmuch as [part diag to the Romancrea of the wall toward the brooke on the ding, and he East side was fallen down, & they repaito the real of ired that which was called Caphenatha

38 Simon also set vp Adida, in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and barres.

39 Now Tryphon went about to get the kingdome of Asia, and to kill Antiochus the king, that hee might set the crowne vpon his owne head.

40 Howbeit, he was afraid that Ionathan would not suffer him, and that he would fight against him, wherefore he sought a way, howe to take Ionathan, that he might kill him. So he remoued, and came to Bethsan.

41 Then Ionathan went out to meet him with fourtie thousand men, chosen for the battell, and came to Bethsan.

44 Vnto Ionathan also hee said. Why hast thou put all this people to so great trouble, seeing there is no warre betwixt vs?

45 Therefore send them now home againe, and chuse a few men to waite on thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, for I will give it thee and the rest of the strong holds and forces, and all that have any charge; as for me. I will returne and depart : for this is the cause of my comming.

So Ionathan beleeving him, did as he bade him, and sent away his host, who went into the land of Iudca.

47 And with himselfe hee retained but three thousand men, of whome he sent two thousand into Galile, and one Gr. teft two thousand went with him.

48 Now assoone as Ionathan entred into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and tooke him, and all them that came with him, they slewe with the sword.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footmen, and horsemen into Galile, and into the great plaine, to destroy all Ionathans company.

50 But when they knew that Ionathan and they that were with him were taken and slaine, they encouraged one another, and went close together, prepared to fight.

51 They therfore that followed vpon them, perceiving y they were ready to fight for their lives, turned back againe.

52 Whereupon they all came into the land of Iudea peaceably, and there they bewailed Ionathan & them that were with him, & they were sore afraid, wherfore all Israel made great lamentation.

53 Then all the heathen that were round about them, sought to destroy them. For, said they, they have no captaine, nor any to helpe them. Now therfore let vs make war vpon them, & take away their memorial fro amongst men.

CHAP. XIII.

8 Simon is made captaine in his brother Iona-thans roune. 19 Tryphon getteth two of Ionathans sonnes into his hands, and slayeth their father. 27 The tombe of Ionathan 36 Simon is fauoured by Demetrius, 46 and winneth Gaza, and the towre at Hierusalem.

Ow when Simon heard that Tryphon had gathe-red together a great hoste to inuade the land of Iu-dea, and destroy it,

2 And saw that the people was in great trembling and feare, he went vp to Ierusalem, and gathered the people together.

3 And gaue them exhortation, say ing : Yee your selves know, what great things I and my brethren, and my fa thers house have done for the lawes, and the Sanctuarie, the battels also, and troubles which we have seene,

4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore be it farre from me, that I should spare mine owne life in any time of trouble : for I am no better then my brethren.

6 Doubtlesse I will auenge my na tion and the Sanctuarie, & our wines, and our children : for all the heathen are gathered to destroy vs, of very malice.

7 Now as soone as the people heard these words, their spirit reuiued.

10 So then he gathered together all the men of warre, and made hast to finish the walles of Ierusalem, and he fortified it round about. 11 Also he sent Ionathan, the sonne of Absolom, & with him a great power to loppe, who casting out them that were therein, remained there in it.

12 So Trypbon removed from Ptolemais, with a great power to inuade the land of Iudea, and Ionathan was with him in warde.

13 But Simon pitched his tents at Adida, ouer against the plaine.

14 Now when Tryphon knew that Simon, was risen up in stead of his brother Ionathan, and meant to joyne battell with him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Whereas we have Ionathan thy brother in hold, it is for money that he is owing vnto the kings treasure, || con- | or, for the cerning the businesse that was commitofficers that he had, for ted vnto him.

16 Wherefore, now send an hundred sees which talents of siluer, and two of his sonnes for hostages, that when he is at liberty he may not repolt from vs, and we will let him goe.

17 Heereupon Simon, albeit he perceiued that they spake deceiptfully vnto him, yet sent he the money, and the children, lest peraduenture he should procure to himselfe great hatred of the people:

18 Who might have said, Because I sent him not the money, and the children, therefore is [Ionathan] dead.

19 So he sent them the children, and the hundred talents : Howbeit [Tryphon dissembled, neither would he let lonathan goe.

20 And after this came Tryphon to inuade the land, and destroy it, going round about by the way that leadeth vnto Adora, but Simon and his host marched against him in every place wheresoeuer he went.

21 Now they that were in the towre, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, to the end that he should hasten his comming vnto them by the wildernesse, and send them victuals.

22 Wherefore Tryphon made readie all his horsemen to come that night, but there fell a very great snow, by reason whereof he came not : So he departed & came into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he came neere to Bascama, he slew Ionathan, who was buried there.

24 Afterward Tryphon returned. and went into his owne land.

25 Then sent Simon and tooke the bones of Ionathan his brother, and buried them in Modin the citie of his fathers.

26 And all Israel made great lamentation for him, and bewailed him many daies.

27 Simon also built a monument vpon the Sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the sight, with hewen stone behind and be-

32 And he raigned in his stead, and crowned himselfe king of Asia, and brought a great calamitie vpo the land.

36 King Demetrius vnto Simon the high Priest, and friend of kings, as also vnto the Elders and nation of the Lewes, sendeth greeting.

37 The golden crowne, and the scarlet robe which ye sent vnto vs, we haue received, and wec are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, yea and to write vnto our officers to confirme the immunities which we have granted.

38 And whatsoeuer couenants we haue made with you, shall stand, and the strong holdes which yee have builded shalbe your owne.

40 And looke who are meet among you to be in our court, let them be inrolled, and let there be peace betwixt vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken away from Israel, in the hundred and seventieth yeare.

42 Then the people of Israel beigan to write in their instruments, and contracts, in the first veere of Simon the high Priest, the governour, and leader of the lewes.

43 In those dayes Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it round about; he made also an engine of warre. and set it by the city, and battered a certaine towre, and tooke it.

44 And they that were in the Engine leapt into the citie, whereupon there was a great vproare in the citic:

47 So Simon was appeased towards them, and fought no more against them, but put them out of the citie, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were : and so entred into it, with songs, and thankesgiving.

48 Yea, he put all vncleannesse out of it, and placed such men there, as would keepe the Law, and made it stronger then it was before, and built therein a dwelling place for himselfe.

49 They also of the towre in Icrusalem were kept so strait, that they could neither come foorth, nor goe into the countrey, nor buy, nor sell, wherefore they were in great distresse for want of victuals, and a great number of them perished through famine.

50 Then cried they to Simon, beseeching him || to bee at one with them, 10, to which thing hee graunted them, and make peace when he had put them out from thence, he cleansed the towre from pollutions:

51 And entred into it the three and twentieth day of the second moneth, in the hundred seventie and one vere, with thankesgiving, and branches of palme trees, and with harpes, and cymbals, and with viols and livmnes, and songs: because there was destroyed a great enemy out of Israel.

52 Hee ordained also that that day should be kept enery yeere with gladnes. Morcover, the bill of the Temple that was by the towre he made stronger then it was, and there hee dwelt himselfe with his company.

Demetrius is taken by the King of Persia. 4
The good deedes of Simon to his countrey. 18 The Lacedemonians and Romans renew their league with him. 26 A memoriall of his actes is set vp in Sion.

Ow in the hundred threescore and twelfth yeere, king Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into Media, to get him helpe to fight against Tryphon. 2 But when Arsaces the king of Persia & Media, heard that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him aliue, 3 Who went and smote the hoste of Demetrius, and tooke him and brought him to Arsaces, hy whom hee was put in warde.

4 As for the land of Iudea, that was quiet all the dayes of Simon : for he sought the good of his nation, in such wise, as that euermore his authoritie and honour pleased them well.

5 And as he was honourable (in all his acts) so in this, that he tooke loppe for an hauen, and made an entrance to the yles of the Sea,

6 And enlarged the boundes of his nation, and recouered the countrey,

7 And gathered together a great number of captines, and had the dominion of Gazara and Bethsura, and the towre, out of the which he tooke all vncleannesse, neither was there any that resisted him.

8 Then did they till their ground in peace, and the earth gaue her increase, and the trees of the field their fruit.

9 The ancient men sate all in the streetes, communing together of | good things, and the young men put on glorious and warrelike apparell.

10 He prouided victuals for the cities, and set in them all maner of munition, so that his honourable name was renowmed vato the end of the world.

11 He made peace in the land, and Israel reioyced with great ioy:

12 For *euery man sate vnder his vine, and his figgetree, and there was none to fray them:

13 Neither was there any left in the lande to fight against them : yea, the Kings themselves were over-

14 Moreover hee strengthened all those of his people that were brought low : the Law be searched out, and euery contemner of the Law, and wicked person, he tooke away.

15 He beautified the Sanctuary, and multiplied the vessels of the Temple.

16 Now when it was heard at Rome, & as far as Sparta, that Ionathan was dead, they were very sorie.

17 But assoone as they heard that his brother Simon was made high Priest in his stead, and ruled the countrey, and the cities therein,

18 They wrote vnto him in tables of hrasse, to renew the friendship & league which they had made with Iudas and Ionathan his brethren:

19 Which writings were read before the Congregation at Ierusalem.

20 And this is the copy of the letters that the Lacedemonians sent : The rulers of the Lacedemonians, with the city, vnto Simon the high Priest, and the Elders and Priestes, and residue of the people of the lewes, our brethren, send greeting.

23 And it pleased the people to entertaine the men honourably, and to put the copy of their embassage in publike records, to the end the people of the Lacedemonians might haue a memoriall therof : furthermore we have written a copy thereof vnto Simon the hie Priest.

24 After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome, with a great shield of golde of a thousand pound weight, to confirme the league with them.

25 Whereof when the people heard, they said, What thankes shall wee give to Simon and his sonnes?

26 For hee and his hrethren, and the house of his father, have established Israel, and chased away in fight their enemies from them, and confirmed their

32 At which time Simon rose vp, and fought for his nation, and spent much of 107. the men his own substance, & armed | the valiant men of his nation, & gaue them wages,

33 And fortified the cities of Iudea. together with Bethsura that lieth vp-on the borders of ludea, where the armour of the enemies had hin before, but he set a garison of Iewes there.

34 Moreouer, hee fortified Ioppe which lieth voon the Sea, and || Gazara that bordereth vpon Azotus, where the enemies had dwelt before : but hee placed lewes there, and furnished them with all things convenient for the reparation thereof.) 35 The people therefore seeing the acts of Simon, and vnto what glory he thought to bring his nation, made him their gouernor and chiefe priest, because he had done all these things, and for the iustice and faith which hee kept to his nation, and for that hee sought by all meanes to exalt his people. 36 For in his time things prospered in his hands, so that the heathen were taken out of their countrey, and they also that were in the citie of Dauid in lerusalem, who had made themselues a towre, out of which they issued, and polluted all about the Sanctuarie, and did much hurt ||in the holy place, 37 But he placed Iewes therein, and fortified it for the safetie of the counof Ierusalem.

38 King Demetrius also confirmed him in the high priesthood, according to those things.

39 And made him one of his friends. and honoured him with great honour.

40 For he had heard say, that the Romanes had called the lewes their friends, and confederates, and brethren, and that they had entertained the Embassadours of Simon honourably.

41 Also that the Iewes & priests were wel pleased that Simon should be their gouernour, and high priest for euer vntil there should arise a faithfull prophet.

42 Moreouer, that he should be their captaine, and should take charge of the Sanctuarie, to set them over their workes, and ouer the countrey, and ouer the armour, and ouer the fortresses, hat (I say) he should take charge of the Sanctuarie.

43 Besides this, that he should be obeyed of every man, and that all the writings in the countrey should be made in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and weare gold.

44 Also that it should be lawfull for none of the people or priests, to breake any of these things, or to gainesay his words, or to gather an assembly in the countrey without him, or to bee clothed in purple, or weare a buckle of gold.

45 And whosoeuer should do otherwise, or breake any of these things, he should be punished.

46 Thus it liked all y people to deale with Simon, & to do as hath bene said.

47 Then Simon accepted hereof. and was well pleased to be high Priest, and captaine, and gouernour of the lewes, & priests, & to defend them all.

48 So they commanded that this writing should be put in tables of hrasse, and that they should be set vp within the compasse of the Sanctuary in a conspicuous place.

49 Also v the copies therof should be laid up in the treasurie, to the ende that Simon & his sonnes might have them.

Antiochus desireth leaue to passe through Iudea, & granteth great honours to Simon and the lewes. 16 The Romanes write to diverse kings & nations to fauour the lewes. 27 Antiochus quarrelleth with Simon, 38 and seudeth some to annoy ludea.

of Demetrius the king, sent letters from the isles of the Sea, vnto Simon the priest, and prince of the ewes, and to all the people.

Apocrypha.

2 The contents whereof were these: King Antiochus, to Simon the high Priest, and prince of his nation, and to the people of the Iewes, greeting,

3 For as much as certaine pestilent men, haue vsurped the kingdome of our fathers, and my purpose is to chalenge it againe, that I may restore it to the old estate, and to that end have gathered a multitude of forraine souldiers together, and prepared shippes of warre,

4 My meaning also being to goe through the countrey, that I may be auenged of them that have destroyed it, and made many cities in the kingdome desolate:

5 Now therefore I confirme vnto thee, all the oblations which the kings before me granted thee, and whatsoeuer gifts besides they granted.

6 I give thee leave also to coine money for thy countrey with thine owne stampe.

7 And as concerning Ierusalem and the Sanctuarie, let them be free, and al the armour that thou hast made, and fortresses that thou hast built, and keepest in thy hands, let them remaine vnto thee.

8 And if any thing bee, or shall be owing to the king, let it be forgiuen thee, from this time forth for evermore.

9 Furthermore, when we have ob tained our kingdome, ye will honour thee, and thy nation, and thy temple with great honour, so that your ho nour shall bee knowen throughout the world.

10 In the hundred threescore and fourteenth veere, went Antiochus into the land of his fathers, at which time all the forces came together vnto him. so that few were left with Tryphon.

11 Wherefore being pursued by king Antiochus, he fled vnto Dora, which lieth by the Sea side.

12 For he saw, that troubles came voon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Dora, having with him, an hundred and twentie thousand men of warre, Orequer Antiochus sonne: and eight thousand horsemen.

14 And when he had compassed the citie round about, and joyned ships close to the towne on the Sea side, hee vexed the citie by land, and by Sea, neither suffered he any to goe out or in.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, & his company from Rome hauing letters to the kings and countries, wherein were written these things.

16 Lucius, Consul of the Romanes, vnto king Ptolomee greeting.

17 The Iewes Embassadors our friends and confederates, came vnto vs to renew the old friendship and league, being sent from Simon the high Priest. and from the people of the Iewes.

18 And they brought a shield of gold, of a thousand pound:

19 We thought it good therefore, to write vnto the kings and countries, that they should doe them no harme, nor fight against them, their cities, or countries, nor yet aide their enemies against them.

20 It seemed also good to vs. to receive the shield of them.

21 If therefore there be any pestilent fellowes, that have fled from their countrie vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the high priest, that hee may punish them according to their owne lawe.

22 The same thing wrote hee likewise vnto Demetrius the king, and Attalus, to || Ariarathes, and Arsaces,

23 And to all the countries, and to Sampsames, & the Lacedemonians, 1 or, Samand to Delus, and Myndus, and Syci-psaces. on, and Caria, and Samos, and Pamphylia, and Lycia, and Halicarnassus, and Rhodus, and | Phaseilis, and Cos, 10r, Busiles and Sidee, and Aradus, and Gortina, and Cnidus, and Cyprus, and Cyrene.

24 And the copy heereof they wrote, to Simon the high Priest.

25 So Antiochus the king camped against Dora, the second day, tassaul-t Gre. brinting it continually, and making engins, sine his for by which meanes he shut vp Tryphon, that he could neither goe out nor in.

26 At that time Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to aide him: silver also, and gold, and much ar-

27 Neuerthelesse, he would not receiue them, but brake all the couenants which he had made with him afore, and became strange vnto him.

28 Further-

l Or, subdue you in Aght.

28 Furthermore hee sent vnto him! Athenobius, one of his friends to commune with him and say : you withhold Ioppe and Gazara with the towre that is in Ierusalem, which are cities of my realme.

29' The borders thereof yee haue wasted and done great hurt in the land. and got the dominion of many places within my kingdome.

30 Now therefore deliuer the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof yee haue gotten dominion || without the borders of

31 Or else giue me for them fiue hundred talents of silver, and for the harme that you have done, and the tributes of the cities other five hundred talents : if not, we wil come and || fight against you.

82 So Athenobius the kings friend came to Ierusalem, and when hee saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold, and siluer plate, and his great attendance, he was astonished and told him the kings message.

33 Then answered Simon, and said vnto him, We have neither taken other mens land, nor holden that which apperteineth to others, but the inheritance of our fathers, which our enemies had wrongfully in possession a certaine

34 Wherefore we having opportunitie, hold the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And whereas thou demaundest Ioppe and Gazara; albeit they did great harme vnto the people in our countrey, yet will we give an hundred talents for them. Hereunto Athenobius answered him not a word, 36 But returned in a rage to the king, and made report vnto him of these speaches, and of the glory of Simon, and of all that hee had seene : whereupon the king was exceeding wroth.

37 In the meane time fled Tryphon by ship vnto Orthocias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, and gaue him an hoste of footmen and horsemen.

39 And commanded him to remove his hoste toward Indea: also hee commanded him to build vp Cedron, and to fortifie the gates, & to warre against the people, but as for the king [himselfe] he pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came to Iamnia, and began to prouoke the people, and to inuade Iudes, and to take the people prisoners, and slay them.

41 And when hee had built up Cedron, he set horsemen there, and an host [of footmen] to the end that issuing out. they might make outroades voon the wayes of Iudea, as the king had commanded him.

I Iudas and Iohn preuaile against the forces sent by Antiochus. 11 The captaine of Hierico inuiteth Simon and two of his sonnes into his castle, and there treacherously murdereth them. 19 John is sought for, 22 and escapeth, and killeth those that sought for him.

Hen came vp 10nn trom Gazara, and told Simon Hen came vp Iohn from his father, what Cende-beus had done.

2 Wherefore Simon called his two eldest sonnes, Iudas and Iohn, and said vnto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers house haue euer from our youth voto this day fought against the enemies of Israel, and things have prospered so well in our hands, that wee have delivered Israel oftentimes.

S But now I am old, and yee [by Gods mercy | are of a sufficient age : Be ye in stead of mee, and my brother, and goe and fight for our nation, and the helpe from heaven be with you.

4 So hee chose out of the countrey twentie thousand men of warre with horsemen, who went out against Cendebeus, and rested that night at Modin.

5 And when as they rose in the morning, and went into the plaine, behold, a mighty great hoste both of footmen. and horsmen, came against them : Howbeit there was a water brooke betwixt

6 So hee and his people pitched oner against them, and when hee saw that the people were afraid to goe ouer the water brooke, hee went first ouer himselfe, and then the men seeing him, passed through after him.

7 [That done] he divided his men, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footemen : for the enemies horsemen were very many.

8 Then sounded they with the holy Trumpets : whereupon Cendebens and his hoste were put to flight, so that many of them were slaine, and the remnant gat them to the strong hold.

11 Moreover, in the plaine of Iericho was Ptolomeus the sonne of Abubus made captaine, and hee had abundance of silver and golde.

12 For he was the hie Priests sonne in lawe.

13 Wherefore his heart being lifted vp, hee thought to get the countrey to himselfe, and thereupon consulted deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to destroy them.

14 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the countrey, and taking care for the good ordering of them, at which time hee came downe himselfe them that were come to destroy him, and Iudas, in the hundreth threescore and seventh veere, in the eleventh moneth called Sabat.

A letter of the lewes from lerusalem to them of Egypt, to thanke God for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hidde in the pit. 24 The prayer of Nehemias.

He brethren the Iewes that bee at Ierusalem, and in the lande of Iudea, wish vnto the break thren the Iewes that are throughout Egypt, health and peace. 2 God be gracious vnto you, and remember his Couenant that hee made with Abraham, Isaac, and Iacoh, his faithfull servants:

3 And give you all an heart to serve him, and to doe his will, with a good courage, and a willing minde:

4 And open your hearts in his law and commandements, & send you peace:

5 And heare your prayers, and be at one with you, and neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

7 What time as Demetrius reigned, in the hundred threescore and ninth veere, wee the Iewes wrote vnto you, in the extremitie of trouble, that came vpon vs in those yeeres, from the time that I son and his company reuolted from the holy land, and kingdome, 8 And burnt the porch, and shed innocent blood. Then we prayed vnto the Lord, and were heard: we offered also sacrifices, and fine flowre, and lighted the lampes, and set forth the loaues.

9 And now see that ye keepe the feast and Iudas, sent greeting and health vnto Aristobulus, king Ptolomeus master, who was of the stock of the anointed priests, and to the Iewes that were in Egypt.

11 Insomuch as God hath delivered vs from great perils, wee thanke him highly, as haning bin in battell against a king. 12 For he cast them out that fought within the holy citie.

18 For when the leader was come into Persia, and the armie with him that seemed inuincible, they were slaine in the temple of Nanea, by the deceit of Naneas priests.

14 For Antiochus, as though hee would marrie her, came into the place, and his friends that were with him, to receiue money in name of a dowrie.

15 Which when the priests of Naneal had set forth, and he was entred with a small company into the compasse of the temple, they shut the temple assoone as Antiochus was come in.

16 And opening a privile doore of the roofe, they threw stones like thunderbolts, and stroke downe the captaine, hewed them in pieces, smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were without.

17 Blessed be our God in all things, who hath delivered up the ungodly."

18 Therefore whereas we are nowe purposed to keep the purification of the Temple vpon the fine & twentieth day of the moneth * Casley, we thought it necessary to certifie you thereof, that ye also might keepe it, as the [feast] of the tabernacles, and of the fire [which was giuen vs] when Necmias offered sacrifice, after that he had builded the Temple, and the Altar.

19 For when our fathers were led into Persia, the Priests that were then deuout, took the fire of the Altar privily, & hid it in a hollow place of a pit without water, where they kept it sure, so that the place was vnknowen to all men.

20 Now after many yeeres, when it pleased God, Neemias being sent from the king of Persia, did send of the posteritie of those Priests that had hid it, to the fire : but when they tolde vs they found no fire, but thicke water, 21 Then comanded he them to draw lit vp, and to bring it : and when the sacrifices were laid on Neemias comanded the Priests to sprinkle v wood, and the things laid therupon with v water.

22 When this was done, and the time came that the Sun shone which afore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fire kindled, so that every man marueiled.

23 And the Priests made a prayer whilest the sacrifice was consuming. [I say | both the Priests, and all the rest. Ionathan beginning, and the rest answering thereunto, as Neemias did.

24 And the prayer was after this maner, O Lord, Lord God, Creatour of all things, who art fearefull, and strong, and righteous, and mercifull, and the onely, and gracious king,

25 The onely giver of all things, the onely just, almightie & euerlasting, thou that deliverest Israel from al trouble, & didstchoosethefathers, & sanctifie them:

26 Receive the sacrifice for thy whole neople Israel, and preserve thine owne portion, and sanctifie it.

27 Gather those together that are scattered fro vs, deliuer them that serue among the heathen, looke vpon them that are despised & abhorred, and let the heathen know that thou art our God.

28 Punish them that oppresse vs, and with pride doe vs wrong.

29 Plant thy people againe in thy holy place, as Moises hath spoken.

SO And the Priests sung psalmes of thankesgiuing.

31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed. Neemias commanded the water that was left, to bee powred on the oreat stones.

32 When this was done, there was kindled a flame : but it was consumed by the light that shined from the Altar.

33 So when this matter was knowen, it was told the king of Persia, that in the place, where the Priests that were led away, had hid the fire, there appeared water, and that || Neemias | Or. Neehad purified the sacrifices therewith.

34 Then the king inclosing the place, made it holy after he had tried y matter.

35 And the king tooke many gifts, and bestowed thereof, on those whom he would gratifie.

36 And Neemias called this thing Naphthar, which is as much to say as a cleansing: but many men call it Nephi. CHAP.

3 And with other such speeches exhorted he them, that the law should not

4 It was also contained in the same writing, that the Prophet being warned of God, commanded the Ta bernacle, and the Arke to goe with him. as he went forth into the mountaine, where Moises climed vp, and sawe the heritage of God.

5 And when Ieremie came thither, he found an hollow caue wherin he laid the Tabernacle, and the Arke, and the altar of incense, & so stopped the doore.

6 And some of those that followed him, came to marke the way, but they could not find it.

7 Which when Ieremie perceiued, hee blamed them, saying, As for that place, it shall be vnknowen vntill the time that God gather his people againe together, and receive them vnto mercy.

8 Then shall the Lord shew them these things, and the glory of the Lord shall appeare, and the cloud also as it was shewed under Moises, and as when Solomon desired that the place might be honourably sanctified.

9 It was also declared that he being wise, offered the sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the Temple.

10 And as when Moises prayed vnto the Lord, the fire came down from heauen, and consumed the sacrifices: euen so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came downe from heaven, and consumed the burnt offerings.

11 And Moises said, because the sinne

13 The same things also were reported in the writings, and commentaries of Neemias, and how he founding a librarie, gathered together the acts of the Kings, and the Prophets, and of Dauid, and the Epistles of the Kings concerning the holy gifts.

14 In like maner also, Iudas gathered together all those things that were lost, by reason of the warre we had, and they remaine with vs.

15 Wherefore if yee haue neede thereof, send some to fetch them vnto you.

16 Whereas we then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue written vnto you, and yee shall doe well if yee keepe the same dayes.

20 And the warres against Antiochus Epiphanes, & Eupator his sonne, 21 And the manifest signes that came from heauen, vnto those that behaued themselues manfully to their honour for Iudaisme : so that being but a few, they ouercame the whole country, and chased barbarous multitudes, 22 And recourred agains the Temple renowned all the world ouer, and freed the citie, and vpheld the lawes, which were going downe, the Lord being gracious vnto them with al fauour 23 All these things (I say) being declared by Iason of Cyrene in fiue books, we will assay to abridge in one volume.

24 For considering the infinite number, and the difficulty, which they find that desire to looke into the narrations of the story, for the variety of y matter,

26 Therefore to vs that have taken vpon vs this paineful labour of abridging, it was not easie, but a matter of sweat, and watching.

27 Euen as it is no ease vnto him, that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others: yet || for the pleasuring of many we will undertake gladly this great paines:

28 Leaving to the authour the exact handling of every particular, and labouring to follow the rules of an abridgement.

29 For as the master builder of a new house, must care for the whole building : but hee that vndertaketh to set it out, and paint it, must seeke out fit things for the adorning thereof : euen so I thinke it is with vs.

30 To stand vpon euery point, and goe over things at large, and to be curious in particulars, belongeth to the first authour of the storie.

SI But to vse breuitie, and auoyde much labouring of the worke, is to bee granted to him that will make an abridgement.

32 Here then will we begin the story: onely adding thus much to that which hath bene said, That it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the story it selfe.

Of the honour done to the Temple by the Kings of the Gentiles. 4 Simon vitereth what treasures are in the Temple. 7 Heliodorus is sent to take them away. 24 He is stric-ken of God, and healed at the praier of Oniss.

Ow when the holy Citie was inhabited with all peace, and the Lawes were kept very well, because of the godlinesse of Onias the high Priest, and his hatred of wickednesse, 2 It came to passe that even the Kings themselves did honour the place, and magnifie the Temple with their best gifts :

S Insomuch that Seleucus king of Asia, of his owne revenues, bare all the costes belonging to the scruice of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Beniamin, who was made gouernour of the Temple, fell out with the high

5 And when he could not ouercome Onias, he gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Thraseas, who then was gouernour of Coelosyria, and Phenice,

6 Aud told him that the treasurie in Ierusalem was full of infinite summes of money, so that the multitude of their riches which did not pertaine to the account of the sacrifices, was innumerable, and that it was possible to bring all into the kings hand.

7 Now when Apollonius came to the king, and had shewed him of the money, whereof he was told, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commaundement, to bring him the foresaid money.

8 So foorthwith Heliodorus tooke his iourney vnder a colour of visiting the cities of Coelosyria, and Phenice, but indeed to fulfill the kings purpose.

9 And when he was come to Ierusalem, & had bene courteously received of the high Priest of the citie, hee told him what intelligence was given of the money, & declared wherefore hee came, and and asked if these things were so in deed.

10 Then the high Priest tolde him that there was such money layde vp for the reliefe of widowes, and fatherlesse

11 And that some of it belonged to Hircanus, sonne of Tobias, a man of great dignitie, and not as that wicked Simon had misinformed : the summe whereof in all was foure hundred talents of siluer, and two hundred of gold, 12 And that it was altogether impossible that such wrong should be done vnto them, that had committed it to the holinesse of the place, and to the maiestie and inuiolable sanctitie of the Temple, honoured ouer all the world.

13 But Heliodorus because of the kings commandement giuen him, said, That in any wise it must be brought into the kings treasury.

14 So at the day which hee appointed, hee entred in to order this matter, wherefore, there was no small agonie throughout the whole citie.

15 But the Priests prostrating themselues before the Altar in their Priests Vestments, called vnto heaven vpon him that made a Lawe concerning things given to bee kept, that they should safely bee preserved for such as had committed them to be kept.

18 Others ran flocking out of their houses || to the generall Supplication, l Or, to make because the place was like to come into contempt.

19 And the women girt with sackecloth under their breasts, abounded in the streetes; and the virgins that were kept in, ran some to the gates, and some to the walles, and others looked out of the windowes:

20 And all holding their handes towards heaven, made supplication.

21 Then it would have pitied a man to see the falling downe of the multitude of all sorts, and the + feare of the hie Priest, being in such an agony.

22 They then called vpon the Almightie Lord, to keepe the things committed of trust, safe and sure, for those that had committed them.

23 Neuerthelesse Heliodorus executed that which was decreed.

24 Now as hee was there present himselfe with his guard about the trea-surie, the || Lord of spirits, & the Prince of all power caused a great apparition, so that all that presumed to come in with him, were astonished at the power of God, and fainted, and were sore afraid.

25 For there appeared vnto them a horse, with a terrible rider vpon him, and adorned with a very faire couering, and he ranne fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that hee that sate vpon the horse, had complete harnesse of golde.

26 Moreouer two other youg men appeared before him, notable in strength, excellent in beautie, and comely in apparell, who stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, and gaue him many sore stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly vnto the ground, and was compassed with great darkenesse : but they that were with him, tooke him vp, and put him nto a litter.

28 Thus him that lately came with into the said treasury, they caried out, being vnable to helpe himselfe with his weapons: and manifestly they acknowledged the power of God.

29 For hee by the hand of God was cast downe, and lay speechlesse without all hope of life.

30 But they praised the Lord that had miraculously honoured his owner place : for the Temple which a little afore was full of feare and trouble, when the Almightie Lord appeared, was filled with joy and gladuesse.

31 Then straightwayes certaine of Heliodorus friends, prayed Onias that hee would call vpon the most High to graunt him his life, who lay ready to giue vp the ghost.

32 So the high Priest suspecting lest the king should misconceive that some treachery had beene done to Heliodorus by the lewes, offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.

33 Now as the high Priest was making an atonement, the same yong men, in the same clothing, appeared and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Giue Onias the high Priest great thankes, insomnch as for his sake the Lord hath granted thee life.

S4 And seeing that thou hast beene scourged from heaven, declare vnto all men the mightie power of God: and when they had spoken these wordes, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus after he had offered sacrifice vnto the Lord, and made great vowes voto him that had saued his life, and saluted Onias, returned with his hoste to the king.

36 Then testified hee to all men, the workes of the great God, which he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be sent yet once againe to Ierusalem, he said, 38 If thou hast any enemy or traitor, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him well scourged, if he escape with his life : for in that place, no doubt, there is an especiall power of God.

39 For hee that dwelleth in heauen hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it, and hee beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasurie, fell out on this sort.

CHAP. IIII.

Simon alandereth Onias. 7 Isson by corrup-ting the king, obtained the office of the hie. Priest. 24 Menelans getteth the same from Jason by the like corruption. 34 Androuseus traiterously murdereth Onias. 34 The King being informed thereof, causeth Andronicus to be put to death. 39 The wickednes of Lysimachus, by the instigation of Menelaus.

His Simon now (of who wee spake afore) hauing bin a bewrayer of the mo-ney, and of his countrey, slandered Onias, as if he had terrified Heliodorus, and bene the worker of these eails. 2 Thus was hee bold to call him a traitour, that had deserued well of the citie, and tendred his owne nation, and was so zealous of the lawes.

3 But when their hatred went so farre, that by one of Simons faction murthers were committed,

4 Onias seeing the danger of this contention, and that Appollonius, as being the gouernour of Coclosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increase Simons malice.

5 He went to the king, not to be an accuser of his countrey men, but seeking the good of all, both publike, & priuate."

6 For he saw that it was impossible, that the state should continue quiet, and Simon leave his folly, valesse the king did looke thereunto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus. when Antiochus called Epiphanes, tooke the kingdom, Iason the brother of Onias, laboured vuder hand to bee hie Priest.

8 Promising vnto the king by intercession, three hundred and threescoretalents of siluer, and of another reuenew, eightie talents:

9 Besides this, he promised to assigne an hundred and fiftie more, if he might haue licence to set him vp a place for exercise, and for the training up of youth in the fashions of the heathen, and to write them of Ierusalem by the name of] Antiochians.

10 Which when the king had granted, and hee had gotten into his hand the rule, he foorthwith brought his owne nation to the Greekish fashion.

11 And the royal priniledges granted of speciall fauour to the Iewes, by the meanes of Iohn the father of Eupole-mus, who went Embassador to Rome. for amitie and aid, he tooke away, and putting down the gouernments which were according to the law, he brought p new customes against the law.

12 For he built gladly a place of exercise vnder the towre it selfe, and brought the chiefe yong men vnder his subjection, and made them weare a hat.

13 Now such was the height of Greek fashions, and increase of heathenish maners, through the exceeding profanenes of Iason that vngodly wretch, and no high priest :

14 That the priests had no courage to serue any more at the altar, but despising the Temple, and neglecting the sacrifices, hastened to be partakers of the vnlawfull allowance in the place of exercise, after the game of || Discus cal-10, the led them forth.

15 Not setting by the honours of their as stone with an hole in fathers, but liking the glory of the Grethe must. cians best of all.

16 By reason whereof sore calamity came voon them : for they had them to be their enemies and auengers, whose custome they followed so carnestly, and vnto whom they desired to be like in all

17 For it is not a light thing to doe wickedly against the lawes of God, but the time following shall declare these

18 Now when the game that was vsed euery fift yere was kept at Tyrus, the king being present,

19 This vngracious Iason sent † spe- † Gr. who ciall messengers from Ierusalem, who our reign-ousembassa were Antiochians, to carie three hundred drachmes of siluer to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers therof thought fit not to bestow upon the sacrifice, because it was not conucnient, but to be reserved for other charges.

20 This money then in regard of the sender, was appointed to Hercules sacrifice, but because of the bearers thereof, it was imployed to the making of gallies.

21 Now when Apollonius the sonne of Manastheus was sent vnto Egypt, for the ||coronation of king Ptolomeus | Or, inthro-Philometor, Antiochus vnderstanding nieing. him not to bee well affected to his af faires, prouided for his owne safetie : whereupon he came to Ioppe, & from thence to Ierusalem.

22 Where he was honourably receibrought in with torchlight, and with great shoutings : and so afterward went with his hoste vnto Phenice.

23 Three yeere afterward, Iason sent Menelaus the foresaid Simons brother, to beare the money vnto the king, and to put him in minde of certaine necessary matters.

24 But he being brought to the presence of the king, when he had magnified him, for the glorious appearance of his power, got the priesthood to himselfe, offering more then Iason by three hundred talents of siluer.

25 So he came with the kings Mandate, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the fury of a cruell Tyrant, and the rage of a sauage

26 Then Iason, who had vndermined his owne brother, being vndermined by another, was copelled to flee into the countrey of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus got the principalitie: but as for the money that he had promised vnto the king, hee tooke no good order for it, albeit Sostratus the uler of the castle required it.

28 For voto him appertained the gathering of the customes. Wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Now Menelaus left his brother Lysimachus in his stead in the priesthood, and Sostratus left Crates, who was gouernour of the Cyprians.

30 While those things were in doing, they of Tharsus and Mallos made insurrection, because they were given to the kings concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the king in all haste to appease matters, leaving Andronicus a man in authority, for his deputy.

32 Now Menelaus supposing that he had gotten a convenient time, stole certaine vessels of gold, out of the temple, and gaue some of them to Andronicus, and some he sold into Tyrus, and the cities round about.

33 Which when Onias knew of a surety, he reprooued him, and with drew himselfe into a Sanctuarie at Daphne, that lieth by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to get Onias into his hands, who being perswaded thereunto, and comming to Onias in deceit, gaue him his right hand with othes, and though hee were sus-ued of Isson, and of the citie, and was | pected (by him) yet perswaded he him to come forth of the Sanctuarie : whom forthwith he shut vp without regard of 35 For the which cause not onely the Iewes, but many also of other nations tooke great indignation, and were much grieued for the vniust murder of the man.

36 And when the king was come againe from the places about Cilicia, the lewes that were in the citie, and certaine of the Greekes, that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slaine without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was heartily sorry, and mooued to pity, and went, because of the sober and modest behauiour of him that was dead.

38 And being kindled with anger, forthwith he tooke away Andronicus his purple, and rent off his clothes, and leading him through the whole city vnto that very place, where he had committed impictie against Onias, there slew he the cursed murtherer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserued.

39 Now when many sacriledges had beene committed in the citie by Lysima chus, with the consent of Menelaus, and the bruit therof was spread abroad the multitude gathered themselues to gether against Lysimachus, many ves sels of gold being already caried away.

40 Whereupon the common people rising, and being filled with rage, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and beganne first to offer violence on || Auranus, being the leader, a man 10, Ty. farre gone in yeeres, & no lesse in folly.

41 They then seeing the attempt of Lysimachus, some of them caught stones, some clubs, others taking handfuls of dust, that was next at hand, cast them all together vpon Lysimachus, and those that set vpon them.

42 Thus many of them they wounded, & some they stroke to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee : but as for the Churchrobber himselfe, him they killed besides the treasury.

49 Of these matters therefore there was an accusation laide against Menc-

44 Now when the king came to Tyrus, three men that were sent from the Senate, pleaded the cause before him:

45 But

45 But Menelaus being now conuicted, promised Ptolomee the sonne of Dorymenea, to give him much money, if hee would pacifie the King towards him.

46 Whereupon Ptolomee taking the king aside into a certaine gallerie, as it were to take the aire, brought him to be of another minde:

47 Insomuch that hee discharged Menelaus from the accusations, who notwithstanding was cause of all the mischiefe : and those poore men, who if they had told their cause, yea, before the Scythians, should have bene judged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus they that followed the matter for the citie, and for the people. and for the holy vessels, did soone suffer vniust punishment.

49 Wherefore even they of Tyrus mooued with hatred of that wicked deed, caused them to bee honourably buried.

50 And so through the couetousnesse of them that were in power, Menelaus remained still in authority, increasing in malice, and being a great traitour to the citizens.

CHAP. V.

9 Of the signes and tokens seene in Ierusalem. 6 Of the end and wickednesse of Isson. 11 The pursuit of Antiochus against the Iewes. 15 The spoiling of the Temple. 27 Macca-beus fleeth into the wildernes.

Bout the same time Antiochus prepared his second voyage into Egypt:

2 And then it happened, that through all the citie, for the space almost of fourtie dayes, there were seene horsemen running in the aire, in cloth of golde, and armed with lances, like a band of souldiers,

S And troupes of horsemen in aray, incountring, and running one against another with shaking of shieldes, and or, states. multitude of ||pikes, and drawing of swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden ornaments, and harnesse of all sorts.

4 Wherefore enery man praied that that apparition might turne to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bene dead, Iason tooke at the least a thousand men, and suddenly made an assault vpon the citie, and they that were vpon the walles, being put backe, and the citie at length taken, Menelaus fled into the castle :

6 But Iason slew his owne citisens without mercy, (not considering that to get the day of them of his owne nation, would be a most vnhappy day for him : but thinking they had bene his enemies, and not his countrey men whom he conquered.)

7 Howbeit, for all this hee obtained not the principalitie, but at the last receiued shame for the reward of his treason, and fled againe into the countrey of the Ammonites.

8 In the end therefore hee had an vnhappy returne, being accused before Aretas the king of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men hated as a forsaker of the Lawes, and being had in abomination, as an open ||enemie of his countrey, and countrey- 10r. execumen, he was cast out into Egypt.

9 Thus hee that had driven many out of their countrey, perished in a strange land, retiring to the Lacedemonians, and thinking there to finde succour by reason of his kindred.

10 And hee that had cast out many vnburied, had none to mourne for him, nor any solemne funerals at all, nor sepulchre with his fathers.

11 Now when this that was done came to the kings eare, he thought that Iudea had renolted, whereupon remouing out of Egypt in a furious minde, he tooke the citie by force of armes,

12 And commaunded his men of warre not to spare such as they met, and to slay such as went vp vpon the 18 Thus there was killing of youg and old, making away of men, women and children, slaying of virgins and infants.

14 And there were destroyed within the space of three whole daies, fourescore thousand, whereof fourty thousand were slaine in the conflict; and no fewer sold, then slaine.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but presumed to goe into the most holy Temple of all the world : Menelaus that traitour to the Lawes, and to his owne countrey, being his guide.

16 And taking the holy vessels with polluted handes, and with prophane handes, pulling downe the things that were dedicated by other kings, to the

17 And so haughtie was Antiochus in minde, that hee considered not that the Lord was angry for a while for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the citie. and therefore his eye was not vpon the

18 For had they not beene formerly wrapped in many sinnes, this man as soone as hee had come, had foorthwith beene scourged, and put backe from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to view

19 Neuerthelesse God did not choose the people for the places sake, but the place for the peoples sake.

20 And therefore the place it selfe that was partaker with them of the adversities that happened to the nation, did afterward communicate in the benefits sent from the Lord : and as it was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so againe the great Lord being reconciled, it was set up with all glory.

21 So when Antiochus had caried out of the Temple, a thousand and eight hundred talents, hee departed in all haste into Antiochia, weening in his pride to make the land nauigable, and the Sea passable by foot : such was the haughtinesse of his minde.

22 And he left governours to vexe the nation: at Ierusalem Philip, for his countrey a Phrygian, and for manners more barbarous then hee that set him there:

23 And at Garizim, Andronicus; and besides, Menelaus, who worse then all the rest, bare an heavie hand over the citizens, having a malicious minde against his countreymen the Iewes.

24 He sent also that detestable ringleader Apollonius, with an armie of two and twentie thousand, commaunding him to slay all those that were in their best age, and to sell the women and the yonger sort :

25 Who comming to Ierusalem, and pretending peace, did forbeare till the holy day of the Sabbath, when taking the Iewes keeping holy day, hee commanded his men to arme themselues. 26 And so hee slewe all them that were gone to the celebrating of the Sahbath, and running through the city with weapons, slewe great multitudes.

27 But Iudas Maccabeus, † with Gr. who was nine others, or thereabout, withdrew himselfe into the wildernesse, and lived in the mountaines after the maner of beasts, with his company, who fed on herbes continually, lest they should be partakers of the pollution.

CHAP. VI.

The Iewes are compelled to leane the Law of God. 4 The Temple is defiled. 8 Crueltie vpon the people and the women. 12 An exhortation to beare affliction, by the example of the valiant courage of Elezzarus, cruelly tortured.

OT long after this, the king sent an olde man of Antical the Latine the Latin and not to live after the Lawes of God: 2 And to pollute also the Temple in Ierusalem, and to call it the Temple of Iupiter Olympius: and that in Garizim, of Iupiter the defender of strangers, as they || did desire that dwelt in | Out of Ion the place.

3 The comming in of this mischiefe were. was sore and grieuous to the people:

4 For the Temple was filled with riot and reuelling, by the Gentiles, who dallied with harlots, and had to doe with women within the circuit of the holy places, and besides that, brought in things that were not lawfull.

5 The Altar also was filled with profane things, which the Law forbid-

6 Neither was it lawfull for a man to keepe Sabbath dayes, or ancient Feasts, or to professe himselfe at all to be

7 And in the day of the kings birth, euery moneth they were brought by bitter constraint to eate of the sacrifices: and when the Feast of Bacchus was kept, the Iewes were compelled to goe in procession to Bacchus, carving Iuie.

8 Moreover there went out a decree to the neighbour cities of the theathen, t Gr. Oreby the suggestion of Ptolomee, against cia the Iewes, that they should observe the same fashions, and be partakers of their sacrifices.

9 And whose would not conforme themselues to the maners of the Gentiles, should be put to death : then might a man hane seene the present misery.

10 For there were two women brought 12 Now I beseech those that reade this booke, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they judge those punishments not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodnesse, when wicked doers are not suffered any long time, but forthwith punished.

14 For not as with other nations whom the Lord patiently forbeareth to punish, till they be come to the fulnesse of their sinnes, so dealeth he with vs, 15 Lest that being come to the height of sinne, afterwards hee should take vengeance of vs.

16 And therfore he neuer withdraweth his mercie from vs : and though he punish with aduersitie, yet doeth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this that we have spoken be for a warning vnto vs : And nowe will wee come to the declaring of the matter in few words.

18 Eleazar one of the principal! Scribes, an aged man, and of a well fauoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and to eate swines flesh.

19 But he chusing rather to die gloriously, then to live stained with such an abomination, spit it forth, and came of his owne accord to the torment,

20 As it behoued them to come, that are resolute to stand out against such things, as are not lawfull for loue of life to be tasted.

21 But they that had the charge of that wicked feast, for the olde acquaintance they had with the man, taking him aside, besought him to bring flesh of his owne prouision, such as was lawfull for him to vse, and make as if he did eate of the flesh, taken from the sacrifice commanded by the king,

22 That in so doing hee might bee deliuered from death, and for the olde

23 But he began to consider discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellencie of his ancient yeeres, and the honour of his gray head, whereunto hee was come, and his most honest education from a child, or rather the holy lawe made, and giuen by God : therefore hee answered accordingly, and willed them straightwaies to send him to the graue.

24 For it becommeth not our age, said he, in any wise to dissemble, whereby many yong persons might thinke. that Eleazar being fourescore yeres old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion,

25 And so they through mine hypocrisie, and desire to live a little time, and a moment longer, should bee deceived by me, and I get a staine to mine olde age, and make it abominable.

26 For though for the present time I should be delivered from the punish ment of men : yet should I not escape the hand of the Almightie, neither alive nor dead.

27 Wherefore now manfully changing this life, I will shew my selfe such an one, as mine age requireth,

28 And leave a notable example to such as bee yong, to die willingly, and couragiously, for the honourable and holy lawes : and when he had said these words, immediatly he went to the torment,

29 They that led him, changing the good will they bare him a litle before, into hatred, because the foresaid speaches proceeded as they thought, from a || desperate minde.

30 But when hee was readie to die with stripes, he groned, and said, It is manifest vnto the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, that wheras I might haue bin deliuered from death, I [now] endure sore paines in body, by being beaten : but in soule am well content to suffer these things, because I feare him.

31 And thus this man died, leaving his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memoriall of vertue not only vnto yong men, but vnto all his na tion.

CHAP. VII.

The constancie and cruell death of seuen brethren and their mother in one day, because they would not eate swines flesh at the kings commandement seuen brethren with their mother were taken, and compelled by the king against the lawe to taste swines flesh, and were tormented with scourges, and whips: 2 But one of them that spake first said thus: What wouldest thou aske, or learne of vs? we are ready to die, rather then to transgresse the lawes of our fathers.

3 Then the king being in a rage, commanded pannes, and caldrons to be made whot.

4 Which forthwith being heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that spake first, and to cut off the vtmost parts of his body, the rest of his brethren, and his mother looking on.

5 Now when he was thus maimed in all his members, he commanded him being yet aliue, to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the panne : and as the vapour of the panne was for a good space dispersed, they exhorted one another, with the mother, to die manfully, saving thus:

6 The Lord God looketh vpon vs. and in trueth hath comfort in vs. as Deut. 32. * Moises in his song, which witnessed to their faces declared, saying, And he shall be comforted in his seruants.

7 So when the first was dead, after this maner, they brought the second to make him a mocking stocke; and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the haire, they asked him, Wilt thou eate before thou bee punished throughout euery member of thy body?

8 But hee answered in his owne language, and said, No. Wherefore hee also received the next torment in order, as the former did.

9 And when hee was at the last gaspe, hee said, Thou like a fury takest vs out of this present life, but the king of the world shall raise vs vp. who haue died for his lawes, vnto euerlasting life.

10 After him was the third made a mocking stocke, and when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soone, holding forth his hands manfully, 11 And said couragiously, These I had from heauch, and for his lawes I despise them, and from him I hope to receive them againe.

12 Insomuch that the king, and

T came to passe also that | they that were with him marueiled at the yong mans courage, for that he nothing regarded the paines.

15 Now when this man was dead also, they tormented and mangled the fourth in like maner.

14 So when he was ready to die, he said thus, It is good, being put to death by men, to looke for hope from God to be raised vp againe by him : as for thee thou shalt have no resurrection to life.

15 Afterward they brought the fift also, and mangled him.

16 Then looked hee vnto the king and said, Thou hast power ouer men, thou art corruptible, thou doest what thou wilt, yet thinke not that our nation is forsaken of God.

17 But abide a while, and behold his great power, how he will torment thee, and thy seed.

18 After him also they brought the sixt, who being ready to die, said, Be not deceived without cause : for we suffer these things for our selues, having sinned against our God. Therefore marueilous things are done (vnto vs.)

19 But thinke not thou that takest in hand to striue against God, that thou shalt escape vnpunished.

20 But the mother was marueilous aboue all, and worthy of honorable memorie : for when shee sawe her seuen sonnes slaine within the space of one day, she bare it with a good courage, because of the hope that she had in § Lord

21 Yea she exhorted every one of them in her owne language, filled with couragious spirits, and stirring up her wo manish thoughts, with a manly stomacke, she said vnto them,

22 I cannot tell how you came into my wombe : for I neither gaue you breath, nor life, neither was it I that formed the mebers of enery one of you.

23 But doubtlesse the Creator of the world, who formed the generation of man, and found out the beginning of all things, wil also of his owne mercy give you breath, and life againe, as you now regard not your owne selues for his Lawes sake.

24 Now Antiochus thinking himselfe despised, and suspecting it to be a reprochfull speach, whiles the yongest was yet aliue, did not onely exhort him by wordes, but also assured him with oathes, that he would make him both a rich, and a happy man, if hee would turne from the Lawes of his fathers, and that also he would take him for his friend, and trust him with affaires.

25 But when the yong man would in no case hearken vnto him, the king called his mother, and exhorted her, that she would counsell the yong man to saue his life.

26 And when hee had exhorted her with many words, she promised him that she would counsell her sonne.

27 But shee bowing her selfe towards him, laughing the cruell tyrant to scorne, spake in her countrey language on this maner; O my sonne, haue pitie voon mee that bare thee nine moneths in my wombe, and gaue thee sucke three yeeres, and nourished thee, and brought thee vp vnto this age, and endured the troubles of education.

28 I beseech thee, my sonne, looke pon the heauen, and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not, and so was mankinde made likewise;

29 Feare not this tormentour, but being worthy of thy brethren, take thy death, that I may receive thee againe in mercy, with thy brethren.

30 Whiles she was yet speaking these words, the yong man said, Whom wait ye for? I will not obey the kings commandement : but I will obey the commandement of the Law that was giuen vnto our fathers, by Moses.

31 And thou that hast bene the authour of all mischiefe against the Hebrewes, shalt not escape the handes of 82 For wee suffer because of our sinnes.

33 And though the liuing Lord bee angrie with vs a little while for our chastening and correction, yet shall hee be at one againe, with his seruants.

34 But thou, O godlesse man, and of all other most wicked, be not lifted vp without a cause, nor puffed vp with vncertaine hopes, lifting vp thy hand against the seruants of God:

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the judgement of Almightie God, who secth all things.

36 For our brethren who now haue suffered a short paine, are dead under Gods Couenant of euerlasting life : but thou through the judgement of God, shalt receive just punishment for thy pride.

87 But I, as my brethren, offer vp my body, and life for the Lawes of our fathers, beseeching God that he would speedily bee mercifull vnto our nation. and that thou by torments & plagues mayest confesse, that he alone is God:

38 And that in me, and my brethren, the wrath of the Almighty, which is iustly brought vpon all our nation, may 7 But specially tooke he advantage of the night, for such privie attempts, insomuch that the bruite of his manlinesse was spread euery where.

8 So when Philip sawe that this man encreased by little and little, & that things prospered with him still more and more, hee wrote vnto Ptolemeus, the gouernour of Coelosyria & l'henice, to yeeld more aide to the kings affaires.

9 Then forthwith choosing Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of his speciall in all to v busines, with foure thousand friends, he sent him with no fewer then twentie thousand of all nations vnder him, to root out the whole generation of the Iewes; and with him he ioyned also Gorgias a captaine, who in matters of warre had great experience.

10 So Nicanor vndertooke to make so much money of the captine lewes, as should defray the tribute of two thousand talents, which the king was to pay to the Romanes. 11 Wherefore immediatly he sent to the cities voon the sea coast, proclaiming a sale of the captine Iewes, and promising that they should have fourcscore and ten bodies for one talent, not expeclting the vengeance that was to follow vpon him from the Almighty God.

12 Now when word was brought vnto Iudas of Nicanors coming, and he had imparted vnto those that were with him, that the army was at hand, 13 They that were fearefull, and distrusted the justice of God, fled, and conueved themselues away.

14 Others sold all that they had left, and withall besought the Lord to deliuer them, being solde by the wicked Nicanor before they met together:

15 And if not for their owne sakes, yet for y couenants he had made with their fathers, and for his holy and glorious Names sake, by which they were called

16 So Maccabeus called his men together vnto the number of sixe thousand, and exhorted them not to be stricken with terrour of the enemie, nor to feare the great multitude of the heathen who came wrongfully against them, but to fight manfully,

17 And to set before their eyes, the iniury that they had vniustly done to the holy place, and the cruell handling of the city, whereof they made a mockery, and also the taking away of the gouernment of their forefathers:

18 Forthey, said he, trust in their weapons and boldnesse, but our confidence his in the Almightie God, who at a becke can cast downe both them that come a gainst vs. and also all the world.

19 Moreouer, hee recounted vnto them what helps their forefathers had found, and how they were delinered, when under Sennacherib an hundred fourescore and five thousand perished.

20 And he told them of v battel that they had in Babylon with the Galatians, how they came but eight thousand Macedonians, and that the Macedonians being perplexed, the eight thousand destroyed an hundred and twenty thousand, because of the helpe that they had from heaven, & so received a great booty.

21 Thus when hee had made them bold with these words, and ready to die for the Lawes, and the countrey, he diuided his army into foure parts:

22 And joyned with himselfe his owne brethren, leaders of each band, to wit, Simon, and Ioseph, & Ionathan, giuing each one fifteene hundred men.

23 Also (hee appointed) Eleazar to reade the holy booke : and when he had given them this watchword. The help of God; himselfe leading the first band, he loyned battell with Nicanor:

24 And by the helpe of the Almightie, they slew aboue nine thousand of their enemies, and wounded and maimed the most part of Nicanors hoste, and so put all to flight:

25 And tooke their money that came to buy them, and pursued them farre: but lacking time, they returned.

26 For it was the day before the Sabbath, and therefore they would no lonzer pursue them.

27 So when they had gathered their armour together, and spoiled their ene- I That is, the mies, they occupied themselves about mour. the Sabbath, yeelding exceeding praise. & thanks to the Lord, who had preserued them vnto y day, which was the be-

29 When this was done, and they had made a common supplication, they be-sought the merciful Lord to be reconciled with his seruants for euer.

30 Moreover,

Timotheus & Bacchides, who fought against them, they slewe aboue twentie thousand, and very easily got high and strong holds, & divided amongst them selues many spoiles more, and made the || maimed, orphanes, widowes, yea, & the aged also, equal in spoiles w themselves 31 And when they had gathered their armour together, they laid them vp all carefully in couenient places, and the remnant of the spoiles they brought to I erusalem.

32 They alew also Philarches that wicked persô who was w Timotheus. & had annoied the Iewes many waies 33 Furthermore at such time as they kept the feast for the victorie in their coutry, they burnt Calisthenes that had set fire vpon the holy gates, who was fled into a litle house, and so he received a reward meet for his wickednesse.

34 As for that most vngracious Nicanor, who had brought a thousand merchants to buy the Tewes.

85 He was through the helpe of the Lord brought downe by them, of who he made least account, & putting off his glorious apparell, and discharging his company, he came like a fugitive servant through the mid land vnto Antioch, hauing very great dishonour for that his hoste was destroyed.

36 Thus he that tooke vpon him to make good to the Romanes, their tribute by meanes of the captines in Iernsalem, told abroad, that the Iewes had God to fight for them, and therfore they could not be hurt, because they followed the lawes that he gaue them.

CHAP. IX.

Antiochus is chased from Persepolia. 5 Heeis striken with a sore disease, 14 and promiseth to become a lew. 28 He dieth miserably.

Bout that time came Antiochus with || dishonor out of the countrey of Persia. tiochus with || dishonor out

2 For he had entred the citie called Persepolis, and went about to rob the Temple, and to hold the citie, whereupon the multitude running to defend theselues with their weapons, put them to flight, & so it happened y Antiochus being put to flight of the inhabitants, returned with shame.

S Now when he came to Echatana, newes was brought him what had happened vnto Nicanor & Timotheus. 4 Then swelling with anger, heel

30 Moreover of those that were with | thought to avenge vpon the Iewes the disgrace done vnto him by those that made him flie. Therfore commanded he his chariot man to drive without cessing, and to dispatch the journey, the indgement of God now following him. For he had spoken proudly in this sort, v he would come to Ierusalem, & make it a common burying place of y lewes. 5 But the Lord almightie, the God of Israel smote him with an incurable and inuisible plague : for assoone as hee had spoken these words, a paine of the bowels that was remediles, came vpon > him, & sore torments of the inner parts. 6 And that most justly : for bee had tormented other mens bowels with many and strange torments.

7 Howbeit hee nothing at all ceased from his bragging, but still was filled with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Iewes, and commanding to haste the journey; but it came to passe that he fel downe fro his chariot, caried violently, so that having a sore fal, al the mebers of his body were much pained.

8 And thus hee that a little afore thought he might command the waves of the sea (so proud was hee beyond the condition of man) and weigh the high mountaines in a ballance, was now cast on the ground, and carried in an horselitter, shewing foorth voto all, the manifest power of God.

9 So that the wormes rose vp out of the body of this wicked man, and whiles hee liued in sorrow and paine, his flesh fell away, and the filthinesse of his smell was noysome to all his army.

10 And the man that thought a little afore he could reach to the starres of heaven, no man could endure to carry for his intollerable stinke.

11 Here therefore being plagued, hee began to leave off his great pride, and to come to the knowledge [of himselfe] by the scourge of God, his paine encreasing euery moment.

12 And when hee himselfe could not abide his owne smell, hee saide these wordes: It is meete to bee subject vnto God, and that a man that is mortall, should not proudly thinke of himselfe, as if he were God.

13 This wicked person vowed also vnto the Lord, (who now no more would haue mercy voon him) saying thus:

14 That the holy citie (to the which hee was going in haste to lay it euen Apocrypha.

with the ground, & to make it a common burying place) he would set at liberty.

15 And as touching the lewes, whom hee had judged not worthy so much as to be buried, but to be cast out with their children to be deuoured of the foules, and wild beasts, he would make them al equals to y citizens of || Athens, 16 And the holy Temple, which before he had spoiled, hee would garnish with goodly gifts, and restore all the holy vessels with many more, and out of his owne reuenew defray the charges belonging to the sacrifices:

17 Yea, and that also hee would become a Iew himselfe, and goe through all the world that was inhabited, and declare the power of God.

18 But for all this his paines would not cease : for the just judgement of God was come vpo him: therfore despairing of his health, he wrote vnto the Iewes the letter vnderwritten, containing the forme of a supplicatio, after this maner.

19 Antiochus king and gouernour, to the good Iewes his Citizens, wisheth much joy, health, and prosperity.

20 If ye, and your children fare well, and your affaires be to your contentment, I give very great thankes to God, hauing my hope in heauen.

21 As for mee I was weake, or else I would have remembred kindly your honour, and good will. Returning out of Persia, and being taken with a grieuous disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common safety of all:

22 Not distrusting mine health, but hauing great hope to escape this sicknes

23 But considering that even my father, at what time he led an armie into the hie countries, appointed a successor,

25 Againe considering, how that the princes that are borderers, and neigh bors vnto my kingdome, waite for opportunities, and expect what shalbe the euent, I haue appointed my sonne Antiochus king, whom I often comitted, and comended vnto many of you, when I went vp into the high prouinces, to whom I have written as followeth.

26 Therefore I pray, and request you to remember the benefits that I have done vnto you generally, and int speciall, and that every man will be still faithfull to me, and my sonne.

27 For I am perswaded that hee || vnderstanding my minde, will fauou-10, follow rably & graciously yeeld to your desires.

28 Thus the murtherer, and blasphemer having suffered most grieuously, as he entreated other men, so died he a miserable death in a strange countrey in the mountaines.

29 And Philip that was brought vp with him, caried away his body, who also fearing the son of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolomeus Philometor.

CHAP. X.

Iudas recouereth the Citie, and purifieth the Temple. 14 Gorgias vexeth the Iewes. 16 Iudas winneth their holds. 29 Timotheus and his men are discomfited. 35 Gazara is taken, and Timotheus slaine.

Ow Maccabeus, and his company, the Lord guiding them, recoucred the Temple, and the citie.

2. But the altars, which the heathen had built in the open street, & also the Chappels they pulled downe. 3 And having cleansed the Temple, they made another Altar, and striking stones, they tooke fire out of them, and offered a sacrifice after two yeeres, & set forth incense, & lights, and Shewbread. 4 When that was done, they fell flat downe, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such troubles: but if they sinned any more against him, that he himselfe would chasten them with mercie, and that they might not bee deliuered vnto the blasphemous, and barbarous nations.

5 Now vpon the same day that the strangers prophaned the Temple, on the very same day it was cleansed againe, euen the five and twentieth day of the same moneth, which is Casleu.

6 And they kept eight dayes with gladnes as in the feast of the Tabernacles, remembring that not long afore they had helde the feast of the Tabernacles, when as they wandered in the mountaines, and dennes, like beasts.

7 Therefore they bare branches, and faire boughes and palmes also, and sang Psalmes vnto him, that had given them good successe in clensing his place.

8 They ordeined also by a common statute, and decree, That euery yeere those 9 And this was the ende of Antiochus called Epiphanes.

10 Now will wee declare the acts of Autiochus Eupator, who was the sonne of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the warres.

II So when he was come to y crowne, he set one Lysias ouer the affaires of his Realme, and [appointed him] chiefe go-uernour of Coelosyria and Phenice.

12 For Ptolomeus that was called Macron, chosing rather to doe iustice vnto the Iewes, for the wrong that had bene done vnto them, endeuoured to continue peace with them.

13 Whereupon being accused of [the kings] friends, before Eupator, & called traitor at every word, because he had left Cyprus that Philometor had comitted vnto him, & departed to Antiochus Epitor, and not bearing his subtortis as honorable place, he was so discouraged, it becomes that he poysured limselfe and died.

14 But when Gorgias was govern. phanes; || and seeing that hee was in no

14 But when Gorgias was gouer-1 Or, strong nour of the | holds, hee hired souldiers, and nourished warre continually with the lewes:

> 15 And therewithall the Idumeans hauing gotten into their handes the most commodious holdes, kept the lewes occupied, and receiving those that were banished from Ierusalem, they went about to nourish warre.

16 Then they that were wich Maccabeus made supplication, & besought God, that he would be their helper, and so they ranne with violence vpon the strong holds of the Idumeans, 17 And assaulting them strongly, they wanne the holds, and kept off all that fought vpon the wall, and alew all that fell into their hands, and killed no fewer then twentie thousand.

18 And because certaine (who were no lesse then nine thousand) were fled together into two very strong castles, having all maner of things convenient to sustaine the siege.

19 Maccabeus left Simon, & Ioseph, and Zaccheus also, and them that were with him, who were enow to besiege them, and departed himselfe vnto those places, which more needed bis helpe.

20 Now || they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnes, were perswaded for money (through certaine of those that were in the castle) and let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, hee called the gouernours of the people together, and accused those men, that they had sold their brethren for money, & set their enemies free to fight against them.

22 So he slew those that were found traitors, and immediatly tooke the two castles.

23 And having good successe with his weapons in all things hee tooke in hand, hee slew in the two holdes, more then twentie thousand.

24 Now Timotheus whom the Iewes had ouercome before, when he had gathered a great multitude of forraine forces, and horses out of Asia not a few, came as though hee would take lewrie by force of armes.

25 But when hee drew neere, || they | 1 or. Macthat were with Maccabeus, turned themselves to pray vnto God, and they that sprinckled earth vpon their heads, and girded their loynes with sackcloth, 27 So after the prayer, they tooke their weapons, & went on further from the city : and when they drew neere to their enemies, they kept by themselues.

28 Now the Sunne being newly risen, they loyned both together; the one part having, together with their vertue, their refuge also vnto the Lord, for a || pledge of their successe and victorie: 1 or, warthe other side making their rage leader rantorsus. of their battell.

29 But when the battaile waxed strong, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen, fiue comely men vp. on horses, with bridles of golde, and two of them ledde the Iewes,

30 And tooke Maccabeus betwixt them, and couered him on every side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot arrowes & lightenings against the enemies : so that being confounded with blindnesse, and full of trouble, they were killed.

31 And there were slaine [of footemen twentie thousand and fiue hundred, and sixe hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himselfe, hee fled into a very strong holde, called Ga-sara, where Chereas was gonernour. 33 But they that were with Maccabeus, laid siege against the fortresse couragiously foure dayes.

34 And they y were within, trusting to the strength of the place, hlasphemed exceedingly, & vttered wicked words.

35 Neuerthelesse, vpon the fifth day early, twentie yong men of Maccabeus company, inflamed with anger because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall manly, and with a fierce courage killed all that they met withall.

36 Others likewise ascending after them, whiles they were busied with them that were within, burnt the towres, and kindling fires, burnt the blasphemers aliue, and others broke open the gates, and having received in the rest of the army, tooke the city, 37 And killed Timotheus that was hidde in a certaine pit, and Chereas his brother, with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done, they praised the Lord with Psalmes and thankesgiuing, who had done so great things for Israel, and given them the victory.

Ot long after this, Lysias the kings + protectour & cousin, who also managed the sin, who also make affaires, tooke sore displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when he had gathered about fourescore thousand, with all the horsemen, he came against the Iewes, thinking to make the citie an habitation of or, Greci. the || Gentiles,

8 And to make a gaine of the Temple, as of the other Chappels of the heathen, and to set the high Priesthood to sale euery yeere:

4 Not at all considering the power of God, but puffed vp with his ten thousand footmen, and his thousand horsemen, and his fourescore Elephants.

5 So he came to Iudea, & drew neere to Bethsura, which was a strong town, hut distant from Ierusalem about fiue furlongs, and he laid sore siege vnto it.

6 Now when | they that were with Maccabeus heard that he besieged the holdes, they and all the people with lamentation and teares besought the Lord, that he would send a good Angel to deliuer Israel.

Chap.xj.

7 Then Maccabeus himselfe first of all tooke weapons, exhorting the other, that they would icopard themselves together with him, to helpe their brethren : so they went forth together with a willing minde.

8 And as they were at Ierusalem, there appeared before them on horsebacke, one in white clothing, shaking his armour of gold.

9 Then they praised the mercifull God altogether, and tooke heart, iusomuch that they were ready not onely to fight with men, but with most cruell beasts, & to pierce through wals of yron.

10 Thus they marched forward in their armour, hauing an helper from heauen : for the Lord was mercifull vnto them.

11 And giuing a charge vpô their enemies like lions, they slew eleuen thousand footmen, & sixteene hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked, and Lysias himselfe fled away shamefully, and so escaped.

13 Who as hee was a man of vnderstanding, casting with himselfe what osse he had had, and considering that the Hebrewes could not be ouercome, because the Almighty God helped them, he sent vnto them.

14 And perswaded them to agree to all reasonable conditions, & [promised] that hee would perswade the king, that he must needs be a friend vnto them.

15 Then Maccabeus consented to all that Lysias desired, being carefull of the common good; and whatsoeuer Maccabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the lewes, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes from Lysias, to this effect: Lysias vnto the people of the Iewes, sendeth greeting.

17 Iohn and Absalon, who were sent from you, deliuered me the petition subscribed, and made request for the performance of the contents thereof.

18 Therefore what things soeuer were meet to be reported to the king, I haue declared them, and he hath granted as much as might be.

22 Now the kings letter conteined these words, King Antiochus vnto his brother Lysias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is translated vnto y gods, our will is, that they that are in our realme liue quietly, that every one may attend vpon his own affaires. 24 Wee vnderstand also that the Iewes would not consent to our father for to bee brought vnto the custome of the Gentiles, but had rather keepe their owne manner of liuing; for the which cause they require of vs that we should suffer the to liue after their own lawes. 25 Wherefore our mind is, that this nation shall be in rest, and we have determined to restore them their Temple, that they may liue according to the customes of their forefathers.

26 Thou shalt doe well therefore to send vnto them, and || grant them peace, that whe they are certified of our mind, they may be of good comfort, & euer goe heerefully about their owne affaires.

27 And the letter of v king vnto the nation of the lewes was after this maner : king Antiochus sendeth greeting vnto the counsel, & the rest of the Iewes

28 If ye fare well, we have our desire, we are also in good health.

29 Menelaus declared vnto vs. that your desire was to returne home, and to follow your owne businesse.

30 Wherefore they that will depart shall have safe conduct, till the thirtieth day of Xanthicus with securitie.

31 And the Iewes shal vse their owne kind of meats, and lawes, as before, and none of them any maner of wayes shal be molested for things ignorantly done.

32 I have sent also Menelaus, that he may comfort you.

33 Fare ye wel. In the hundred, forty and eight yecre, and the fifteenth day of Or, Aprill. the moneth || Xanthicus.

34 The Romanes also sent vnto them a letter containing these wordes: Quintus Memmius, & Titus Manij-10r, consuls us ||embassadours of y Romanes, send

36 But touching such things as hee

37 Therefore send some with speed, that we may know what is your mind. 38 Farewell, this hundred and eight and fortie yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth Xanthicus.

1 The Kings lieutenants vexe the lewes. 3 They of loppe drowne two hundred lewes. 6 Iudas is amenged vpon them. 11 Hee maketh peace with the Arabians, 16 and taketh Caspis. 22 Timotheus armies ouerthrowen.

Hen these Couenants were made, Lysias went vnto the king, and the lewes were about their husbandrie.

2 But of the gouernours of seueral places, Timotheus, and Apollonius the sonne of Genneus, also Hieronymus, and Demophon, and besides them Nicanor y gouernor of Cyprus would not suffer them to be quiet, and live in peace.

8 The men of Ioppe also did such an vngodly deed: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to goe with their wiues, and children into the boats which they had prepared, as though they had meant them no hurt.

4 Who accepted of it according to the common decree of the citie, as being desirous to live in peace, and suspecting nothing : but when they were gone forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 When Iudas heard of this crueltie done vnto his countrey men, he commanded those that were with him [to make them ready.]

6 And calling vpon God the righteous judge, he came against those murtherers of his brethren, & burnt the hauen by night, and set the boats on fire, and those that fled thither, he slew.

Apocrypha.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs in their iourney toward Timotheus, no fewer then five thousand men on foote, & five hundred horse men of the Arabians, set vpon him.

11 Whereupon there was a very sore battell; but Iudas side hy the helpe of God got the victory, so that the Nomades of Arabia being ouercome, besought Iudas for peace, promising both to give him cattell, and to pleasure him otherwise.

12 Then Iudas thinking indeede that they would be profitable in many things, granted them peace, wherupon they shooke hands, and so they | deparfrom place to place, with ted to their tents. 13 Hee went also about to make a bridge to a certaine strong citie, which was fenced about with walles, and inhabited by people of diuers countries, and the name of it was Caspis.

14 But they that were within it put such trust in the strength of the walles. and prouision of victuals, that they behaued themselues rudely towards them that were with Iudas, railing, and blaspheming, and vttering such words, as were not to be spoken.

15 Wherefore Iudas with his company, calling vpon the great Lord of the world (who without any rammes, or engines of warre did cast downe Iericho in the time of Iosua) gaue a fierce assault against the walles, 16 And tooke the citie by the will of God, and made vnspeakeable slaughters, insomuch that a lake two furlongs broad, neere adjoining thereunto, being filled ful, was seen running with blood.

17 Then departed they from thence seuen hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to Characa vnto the Iewes that are called Tubieni.

18 But as for Timotheus they found him not in the places, for before hee had dispatched any thing, he departed from thence, having left a very strong garrison in a certaine hold:

19 Howbeit, Dositheus, and Sosipater, who were of Maccabeus captaines, went forth, and slew those that Timotheus had left in the fortresse, aboue tenne thousand men.

20 And Maccabeus ranged his armie by bands, & set || them over the bands, and went against Timotheus, who had about him & hundred and twentie thousand men of foote, and two thousand, and five hundred horsemen.

Chap.xij.

21 Nowe when Timotheus had knowledge of Iudas comming, he sent the women and children, and the other baggage vnto a fortresse called Carnion (for the towne was hard to besiege and vnessie to come vnto, by reason of the straitnesse of all the places.)

22 But when Iudas his first band came in sight, the enemies (being smitten with feare, and terrour through the appearing of him that seeth all things) fled amaine, one running this way, another that way, so as that they were often hurt of their owne men, and wounded with y points of their owne swords

23 Iudas also was very earnest in pursuing them, killing those wicked wretches, of whom he slew about thirtie thousand men.

24 Moreouer, Timotheus himselfe fell into the hands of Dositheus, & Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him goe with his life, because hee had many of the Iewes parents, and the brethren of some of them, who, if they put him to death, should not be regarded.

25 So when hee had assured them with many words, that hee would restore them without hurt according to the agreement, they let him goe for the sauing of their brethren.

26 Then Maccabeus marched forth to Carnion, & to the Temple of || Atar-|| i. Fenus. gatis, and there he slew five and twenty thousand persons.

27 And after he had put to flight, and destroyed them. Iudes remooned the hoste towards Ephron, a strong citie, wherin Lysias abode, and a great multitude of divers nations, and the strong yong men kept the wals, and defended them mightily : wherin also was great provision of engines, and darts.

28 But when Iudas and his company had called vpon Almighty God (who with his power breaketh the strength of his enemies) they wanne the citie, and slew twentie and fine thonsand of them that were within.

29 From thence they departed to Scythopolis, which lieth sixe hundreth furlongs from Ierusalem.

SO But when the Iewes that dwelt there had testified that the Scythopolitans dealt louingly with them, and entreated them kindely in the time of their aduersitie : 13 Thev 82 And after the feast called Pentecost, they went foorth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumes.

33 Who came out w three thousand men of foot, & foure hundred horsemen. 34 And it happened that in their fighting together, a few of the Iewes were alaine.

85 At which time Dositheus one of Bacenors company, who was on horsbacke, and a strong man, was still vpon Gorgias, and taking hold of his coate. drew him by force, and when he would haue taken that cursed man aliue, a horseman of Thracia comming vpon him, smote off his ||shoulder, so that Gorgias fled vnto Marisa

36 Now when they that were with or stroke him Gorgias had fought long & were wearie, Judas called vpon the Lord that he would shew himselfe to be their helper, and leader of the battell.

37 And with that he beganne in his owne language, & sung Psalmes with a lowd voyce, & rushing vnawares vpon Gorgias men, he put them to flight. 38 So Iudas gathered his host, and came into the city of Odollam. And when the seuenth day came, they purified themselues (as the custome was) and kept the Sabbath in the same place. 39 And vpon the day following || as the vse had bene, Iudas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that were slaine, and to bury them with their kinsmen, in their fathers graues.

40 Now under the coats of euery one that was slaine, they found things consecrated to the idoles of the lamnites, which is forhidden the lewes by *the Law. Then every man saw that this was y cause wherefore they were slaine. 41 All men therefore praising the ord the righteous Judge, who had pened the things that were hid, 42 Betooke themselves vnto praier, and besought him that the sinne committed, might wholy bee put out of remembrance. Besides, that noble Iudas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sinne, forsomuch as they saw before their eyes the things that came to passe, for the sinne of those were slaine. 43 And when he had made a gathering throughout the company, to the sum of two thousand drachmes of siluer, hee sent it to Ierusalem to offer a sinne offering, doing therein very well, and honestly, in that he was mindfull of the resurrection.

44 (For if he had not hoped that they that were slaine should have risen againe, it had bin superfluous and vaine.

to pray for the dead.)

45 And also in that he perceived that there was great fauour layed vp for those that died godly. (It was an holy, and good thought) wherupon he made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be deliuered from sinne.

CHAP. XIII.

Eupator inuadeth Iudes. 16 Iudas by night alayeth many. 18 Eupators purpose is defea-ted. 23 He maketh peace with Iudas.

N the hundreth forty and ninth yere it was told Iudas that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Iudea;

2 And with him Lysias his protector, and ruler of his affaires, having either of them a Grecian power of footemen, an hundred and ten thousand. and horsmen five thousand, & three hundred, and Elephants two & twenty, and three hundred charets armed w hooks.

3 Menelaus also iovned himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the safegard of the countrey, but because hee thought to haue bin made governour.

4 But the King of kings mooued Antiochus minde against this wicked wretch, and Lysias enformed the king, that this man was the cause of all mischiefe, so that the king commanded to bring him vnto Berea, and to put him to death, as the maner is in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a towre of fifty cubites high full of ashes. and it had a round instrumet which on euery side hanged down into the ashes.

6 And whosoeuer was condemned of sacriledge, or had committed any other grieuous crime, there did all men thrust him vnto death.

7 Such a death it happened that wicked man to die, not having so much as buriall in the earth, & that most justly.

8 For inasmuch as he had committed many sinnes about the altar whose fire and ashes were holy, hee received his death in ashes.

Apocrypha

9 Now v king came with a barbarous & hautie mind, to do far worse to V Iewes then had beene done in his fathers time.

10 Which things when Iudas perceiued, hee commanded the multitude to call vpon the Lord night & day, that if euer at any other time, he would now also helpe them, being at the point to be put from their Law, from their country, and from the holy Temple:

11 And that hee would not suffer the people, that || had even now been but a little refreshed, to be in subjection to the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had all done this together, and besought the mercifull Lord with weeping, and fasting, and lying flat vpon the ground three daies long, Iudas hauing exhorted them, commanded they should be in a readinesse.

IS And Iudas being apart with the Elders, determined before the kings host should enter into Iudea and get the city, to goe foorth and try the matter [in fight] by the helpe of the Lord.

14 So when he had committed [all] to or, Lord the || Creator of the world, & exhorted his souldiers to fight manfully, euen vnto death, for the Lawes, the Temple, the city, the country, and the common-wealth, he camped by Modin.

15 And having given the watchword to them that were about him. Victory is of God; with the most valiant and choice yong men, he went in into the kings tent by night, & slewe in the campe about foure thousand men, and the chiefest of the Elephants, with all that were vpon him.

16 And at last they filled the campe with feare and tumult, and departed with good successe.

17 This was done in the breake of the day, because the protection of the Lord did helpe him.

18 Now when the king had taken a taste of the manlinesse of the Iewes, hee went about to take the holds by policie, 19 And marched towards Bethsura. which was a strog hold of y Iews, but he was put to flight, failed, & lost of his men.

20 For Iudas had conveyed vnto them y were in it, such things aswere necessary.

21 But Rhodocus who was in y Iewes hoste, disclosed the secrets to the enemies. therefore he was sought out, & when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 The king treated with them in Bethsura the second time, gaue his hand, haue of things pertaining to the king, and tooke theirs, departed, fought with Iudas, was ouercome :

23 Heard that Philip who was left ouer the affaires in Antioch || was desperately | or, rebent, confounded, intreated the Iewes, submitted himselfe, and sware to all equal conditions, agreed with them, and offred sacrifice, honoured the Temple, and dealt kindly with the place.

24 And accepted well of Maccabeus, made him principall governor from Ptolemais vnto the Gerrhenians.

25 Came to Ptolemais, the people there were grieued for the couenants : for they stormed because they would make their couenants voide.

26 Lysias went vp to the judgement seat, said as much as could be in defence of the cause, perswaded, pacified, made them well affected, returned to Antioch. Thus it went touching the kings comming and departing.

CHAP. XIIII.

6 Alcimus accuseth Indas. 18 Nicanor maketh peace with Iudas. 39 He seeketh to take Rhasis. 46 who to escape his hands, killeth himselfe.

Fter three yeres was Iudas enformed that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus hauing ensonne of Seleucus having entred by the hauen of Tripolis with a great power and nauie.

2 Had taken the countrey, and killed Antiochus, and Lysias his protectour.

3 Now one Alcimus who had beene hie Priest, and had defiled himselfe wilfully in the times of their mingling (with the Gentiles) seeing that by no meanes hee could save himselfe, nor have any moreaccesse to the holy Altar,

4 Came to king Demetrius in the hundreth and one and fiftieth yeere, presenting vnto him a crowne of golde, and a palme, and also of the boughes which were || vsed solemnly in the Temple : and on so that day he helde his peace.

5 Howbeit hauing gotten opportuni- the Tem ty to further his foolish enterprise. [and] being called into counsel by Demetrius, & asked how the Iewes stood affected, and what they inteded, he answered therunto;

6 Those of the Iewes that bee called Asideans (whose captaine is Iudas Maccabeus) nourish warre, and are seditious, and will not let the realme be in peace.

7 Therfore I being deprined of mine ancestors honor (I meane the hie Priesthood) am now come hither.

of mine owne countrey men : for all our nation is in no small misery, through the vnaduised dealing of them aforesaid.

9 Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, bee carefull for the countrey, and our nation, which is pressed on every side, according to the clemency that thou readily shewest vnto all. 10 For as long as Iudas liueth, it is not possible that the state should be quiet. 11 This was no sooner spoken of him. but others of the kings friends being malitiously set against Iudas, did more incense Demetrius.

12 And foorthwith calling Nicanor, who had bene master of the Elephants. and making him governour over Iudea. he sent him forth.

18 Comanding him to slay Indas, & to scatter them that were w him, & to make Alcimus high priest of the great Temple. 14 Then the heathen that had fled out of Iudea from Iudas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harme and calamities of the Iewes, to be their well-fare.

15 Now when the Iewes heard of Nicanors comming, and that the heathen were vp against them, they cast earth vpon their heads, and made supplication to him that had stablished his people for euer, and who alwayes helpeth his portion with manifestation of his presence.

16 So at the commandement of the captaine, they remooued straightwayes from thence, and came neere vnto them, at the towne of Dessaro.

17 Now Simon, Iudas brother, had ioyned battell with Nicanor, but was somewhat discomfited, through the suddaine silence of his enemies.

18 Neuerthelesse Nicanor hearing of the manlinesse of them that were with Iudas, and the courageousnes that they had to fight for their countrey, durst not try the matter by the sword. 19 Wherefore he sent Posidonius, and Theodotus, & Mattathias to make peace.

20 So when they had taken long aduisement thereupon, and the captaine had made v multitude acquainted therewith. and it appeared that they were all of one minde, they consented to the couenants,

21 And appointed a day to meet in together by themselves, & when the day came. and stooles were set for either of them,

22 Iudas placed armed men ready in convenient places, lest some treachery should bee suddenly practised by the enemies; so they made a peaceable coference.

lem, and did no hurt, but sent away the people that came flocking vnto him.

24 And hee would not willingly haue Indas out of his sight: for hee loued the man from his heart.

25 He praied him also to take a wife, and to beget children: so he maried, was quiet, and | tooke part of this life.

26 But Alcimus perceiving the love ther with that was betwixt them, and considering the conenants that were made, came to Demetrius, and tolde him that Nicanor was not well affected towards the state, for that he had ordained Iudas, a traitor to his realme, to be the kings successour.

27 Then the king being in a rage, and prouoked with the accusations of the most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was much displeased with the couenants, and commaunding him that hee should send Maccabeus prisoner lin all haste vnto Antioch.

28 When this came to Nicanors hearing, he was much cofounded in himselfe, and tooke it grieuously, that hee should make voyd the articles which were agreed vpon, the man being in no fanlt. 29 But because there was no dealing against the king, hee watched his time to accomplish this thing by pollicie.

30 Notwithstading when Maccabeus saw that Nicanor began to bee churlish vnto him, and that he entreated him more roughly then he was wont, perceiuing y such sowre behaviour came not of good, hee gathered together not a few of his men, and withdrew himselfe fro Nicanor.

31 Bnt the other knowing that he was notably preuented by Iudas policie, came into the great and holy Temple, and commanded the Priestes that were offering their vsual sacrifices, to deliuer him yman.

32 And whe they sware that they could not tel where y man was, who he sought, 33 Hee stretched out his right hand toward the Temple, & made an oath in this maner : If you wil not deliuer me Iudas as a + prisoner, I will lay this Temple of Greeke, God even with the ground, and I will breake downe the Altar, and erect a notable temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After these words he departed; then the Priests lift vp their handes towards heauen, & besought him 🕽 was euer a defeder of their nation, saying in this maner :

35 Thou, O Lord of all things, who hast neede of nothing, wast pleased that the Temple of thine habitation should be 36 Thereamong vs.

23 Now Nicanor abode in Ierusa-

36 Therefore now, O holy Lord of all holinesse, keepe this house everyndefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stop euery vnrighteous mouth.

37 Now was there accused vnto Nicanor, one Razis, one of the Elders of Ierusalem, a louer of his countrey men, and a man of very good report, who for his kindnesse was called a father of v Iewes. 38 For in the former times, when they minoled not themselves with the Gentiles, he had bin accused of Iudaisme, and did boldly icopard his body and life with al vehemency for the religion of $ Iewes.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hate that he bare vnto the lewes, sent aboue five hudred men of war to take him.

40 For he thought by taking him to do the Iewes much hurt.

41 Now when the multitude would haue taken the towre, and violently broken into the vtter doore, and bade that fire should be brought to burne it, he being ready to be taken on euery side, fell vpon his sword.

42 Chusing rather to die manfully, then to come into the hands of the wicked to be abused otherwise then beseemed his noble birth.

Apocrypha.

48 But missing his stroke through haste, the multitude also rushing within the doores, he ran boldly vp to the wall, and cast himselfe downe manfully among the thickest of them.

44 But they quickly giving backe, and a space being made, he fell downe into the midst of the void place.

45 Neuerthelesse while there was yet breath within him, being inflamed with anger, he rose vp, and though his blood gushed out like spouts of water, and his wounds were grieuous, yet hee ranne through the midst of the throng, and standing vpon a steepe rocke,

46 When as his blood was now quite gone, hee pluckt out his bowels, & taking them in both his hands, hee cast them vp on the throng, and calling vpon the Lord of life and spirit to restore him those againe, he thus died.

CHAP. XV.

Nicanors blasphemie, 8 Iudas incourageth his men by his dreame. 28 Nicanor is slaine.

Vt Nicanor hearing that Iudas and his company were in the strong places maria, resolued without any danger to set upon them on vsabbath day.

2 Neuertheles, the Iewes that were compelled to go with him, said, O destroy not so cruelly and barbarously, but give honour to that day, which he that seeth all things, hath honoured with holinesse aboue [other dayes.]

3 Then this most vngracious wretch demanded, if there were a mightie one in heaven that had commanded the Sabbath day to be kept.

Chap.xv.

4 And when they said, There is in heauen a liuing Lord, and mightie, who commanded the seventh day to be kept,

5 Then said the other, And I also am mightie vpon earth, & I comand to take armes, and to do the kings busines: yet he obteined not to haue his wicked wil done

6 So Nicanor in exceeding pride and haughtinesse, determined to set vp a publike moument of his victorie ouer Iudas, and them that were with him.

7 But Maccabeus had euer sure confidence that the Lord would helpe him.

8 Wherfore he exhorted his people not to feare the comming of the heathen against them, but to remember the helpe which in former times they had received from heaven, and now to expect the victory, and aid which should come vnto them from the Almightie.

9 And so comforting them out of the law, and the prophets, and withall putting them in mind of the battels that they won afore, he made them more cheerefull.

10 And when he had stirred vp their minds, he gaue them their charge, shewing them therewithall the falshood of the heathen, and the breach of othes.

11 Thus he armed every one of them not so much with defence of shields and speares, as with comfortable and good words: and besides that, he tolde them a dreame worthy to be beleeved, as if it had bin so indeed, which did not a litle reioyce

12 And this was his vision: that Onias, who had hin high Priest, a vertuous, and a good man, reuerend in conversation, gentle in condition, well spoken also, and exercised from a child in all points of vertue, holding vp his hands, prayed for the whole bodie of the Iewes.

13 This done, in like maner there appeared a man with gray haires, & exceeding glorious, who was of a wonderfull and excellent maiestie.

14 Then Onias answered, saying, This is a louer of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy citie. (to wit) Ieremias v prophet of God. | and praying vnto God with their hearts. 15 Whereupon Ieremias, holding forth his right hand, gaue to Iudas a sword of gold, and in giuing it spake thus: 16 Take this holy sword a gift from God, with the which thou shalt wound the adnersaries.

17 Thus being well comforted by the words of Iudas, which were very good, and able to stirre them vp to valour, and to encourage the hearts of the yong men. they determined not to pitch campe, but couragiously to set vpon them, and manfully to trie the matter by conflict, because the citie, and the Sanctuarie, and the Temple were in danger.

18 For the care that they tooke for their wines, and their children, their brethren, and kinsfolkes, was in least account with them : but the greatest, and principall feare, was for the holy Temple.

19 Also they that were in the citie, tooke not the least care, being troubled for the conflict abroad.

20 And now when as all looked what should bee v triall, & the enemies were already come neere, and the armie was set in aray, and the beasts conveniently placed, and the horsemen set in wings:

21 Maccabeus seeing the comming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fiercenesse of the beasts, stretched out his hands towards heaven, and called vpon the Lord, that worketh wonders, knowing that victorie commeth not by armes, but euen as it seemeth good to him, he giveth it to such as are worthy:

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this maner : O Lord, thou diddest send thine Angel in the time of Ezekias king of Iudea, and diddest slay in the host of Sennacherib, an hundred, fourescore, and five thousand.

23 Wherfore now also O Lord of heauen, send a good Angel before vs, for a feare, and dread vnto them.

34 And through the might of thine arme, let those bee stricken with terror, that come against thy holy people to blas-pheme. And he ended thus.

25 Then Nicanor, and they that were with him came forward with trumpets. and songs.

26 But Iudas, and his company encountred the enemies with inuocation, and prayer.

27 So that fighting with their hands, they slew no lesse then thirty and fiue thousand men : for through the appearance of God, they were greatly cheered.

28 Now when the battell was done, returning againe with ioy, they knew that Nicanor lay dead in his harnesse.

29 Then they made a great shout, and a noise, praising the Almighty in their owne language:

30 And Iudas, who was euer the chiefe defender of the citizens both in body, and minde, and who continued his loue towards his countrymen all his life, commanded to strike off Nicanors head, and his hand, with his shoulder, & bring them to Ierusalem.

31 So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were of the Towre.

32 And shewed them vile Nicanors head, and the hand of that blasphemer, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy Temple of the Almightie.

33 And when he had cut out the tongue of that vngodly Nicanor, he commanded that they should give it by pieces vnto the foules, and hang vp the reward of his madnesse before the Temple.

34 So every man praised towards the heaven the glorious Lord, saying Blessed be hee that hath kept his owne place vndefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanors head vpon the Towre, an euident, and manifest signe vnto all, of the helpe of the Lord.

36 And they ordained all with a common decree, in no case to let that day passe without solemnitie: but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which in the Syrian tongue is called Aday, the day before Mardocheus day.

37 Thus went it with Nicanor, and from that time forth, the Hebrewes had the citie in their power; and heere will I make an end.

38 And if I have done well, and as is fitting the story, it is that which I desired: but if slenderly, and meanly, it is that which I could attaine vnto.

39 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine, or water alone; & as wine mingled with water is pleasant, and delighteth the tast: euen so speech finely framed, delighteth the eares of them that read the storie. And heere shall be an end.

I Or, facde.

Ow when * Iesus was borne in Bethlehem of Iudes, in the dayes of Herod the king, behold, there came Wise men from the East to Hierusalem.

King of the Iewes? for we have seene his Starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

S When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Hierusalem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the chiefe Priests and Scribes of the people together, hee demanded of them where Christ should be borne.

5 And they said vnto him, In Bethlehem of Iudea : For thus it is written by the Prophet:

6 And thou Bethlehem in the land of Iuda, art not the least among the Princes of Iuda : for out of thee shall come s Gouernour, that shall lirule my people Israel.

7 Then Herod, when he had priuily called the Wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the Starre appeared:

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Goe, and search diligently for the yong child, and when ye have found thim, bring me word againe, that I may! come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the King, they departed, and loe, the Starre which they saw in the East, went before them, till it came and stood ouer where the young childe was.

10 When they saw the Starre, they reioyced with exceeding great ioy.

II I And when they were come into the house, they saw the yong child with Mary his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him : and when they had opened their treasures, they || presented | Or. ofered. vnto him gifts, gold, and frankincense. and myrrhe.

12 And being warned of God in a dreame, that they should not returne to Herode, they departed into their owne countrey another way.

13 And when they were departed, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeareth to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise and take the young childe, and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and bee thou there vntill I bring thee word: for Herode will seeke the young childe, to destroy him.

14 When he arose, he tooke the yong childe and his mother by night, and de-

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by * Ieremie the Prophet, * Ier. 31. 15.

18 In Rams was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 T But when Herode was dead, behold, an Angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Ioseph in Egypt, 31 So the deuils besought him, saying, If thou cast vs out, suffer vs to goe away into the herd of swine.

32 And he said vnto them, Goe. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine : and behold, the whole herd of swine ranne violently downe a steepe place into the Sea, and perished in the waters.

33 And they that kept them, fled, and went their waies into the citie, and told euery thing, and what was befallen to the possessed of the deuils.

34 And behold, the whole citie came out to meete Iesus : and when they saw him, they besought him that hee would depart out of their coasts.

2 And great multicular were gathered together her hee went into a stood vnto him, so that hee went into a ship, and sate, and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 And hee spake many things vnto them in parables, saying, *Behold, a sower went foorth to sow.

4 And when he sowed, some seedes fell by the wayes side, and the foules came, and denoured them vp.

5 Some fell vpon stony places, where they had not much earth: and foorthwith they sprung vp, because they had no deepenesse of earth.

6 And when the Sunne was vp. they were scorched : and because they had not root, they withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns : and the thornes sprung vp, & choked them. 8 But other fell into good ground, and brought foorth fruit, some an liundred folde, some sixtie folde, some thirty folde.

9 Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And the disciples came, and sayd vnto him, Why speakest thou vnto them in parables?

11 He answered, and said vnto them, Because it is given vnto you to know the mysteries of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not given.

12 *For whosoeuer hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance : but whosoeuer hath not, from him shall be taken away, euen that hee

13 Therefore speake I to them in parables: because they seeing, see not: and hearing, they heare not, neither doe they vnderstand.

14 And in them is fulfilled the prophecie of Esaias, which saith, * By hearing ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand : and seeing yee shall see, and shall not perceiue.

15 For this peoples heart is waxed grosse, and their eares are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed, lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and should vnderstand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heale them.

16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see : and your eares, for they heare.

17 For verely I say vnto you, * that, Luke 10. many Prophets, and righteous men haue desired to see those things which yee see, and haue not seene them; and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

18 ¶ Heare ve therefore the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, then commeth the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sowen in his heart; this is hee which received seede by the way side.

20 But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, & anon with ioy receiveth it :

21 Yet hath hee not root in himselfe. but dureth for a while : for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended.

22 He also that received seed among the thorns, is he that heareth the word. and the care of this world, and the de ceitfulnesse of riches choke the word and he becommeth vnfruitfull.

23 But he that received seed into the good ground, is hee that heareth the word, and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruit, and bringeth foorth, some an hundred fold, some sixtie, some thirty.

24 ¶ Another parable put he forth vato them, saying; The kingdome of heauen is likened vnto a man which sowed good seed in his field:

25 But while men slept, his enemy came & sowed tares among the wheat. and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprung vp, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 So the scruants of the housholder came, and said vnto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seede in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said vnto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said vnto him, Wilt thou then that we goe and gather them vp?

13 Then saith Pilate vnto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witnesse against thee? 14 And he answered him to neuer a word : insomuch that the Gouernour marueiled greatly. 15 Now at that feast the Gouernor was woont to release vnto the people a prisoner, whom they would. 16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. 17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said vnto them. Whom will ye that I release vnto you? Barabbas, or lesus, which is called Christ? 18 For hee knew that for enuie they had delivered him. 19 ¶ When he was set downe on the ludgement seate, his wife sent vnto him, saying, Haue thou nothing to doe with that just man : for I have suffered many things this day in a dreame, because of him. 20 * But the chiefe Priestes and Elders perswaded the multitude that they should aske Barabhas, & destroy Iesus. 21 The Gouernour answered, and said vnto them, Whether of the twaine will ye that I release vnto you? They said, Barabbas. 22 Pilate said vnto them. What shall I doe then with lesus, which is called Christ? They all sayde vnto him, Let him be crucified. 23 And the Gouernour said, Why, what euil hath he done? But they cried out y more, saying, Let him be crucified 24 T When Pilate saw that he could prenaile nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, hee tooke water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this iust person : see yee to it. 25 Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on vs, and on our 26 Then released hee Barabbas vnto them, and when he had scourged Iesus, he delivered him to be crucified. 27 *Then the souldiers of the Goloh. 19. 1. uernour tooke Iesus into the || com-1 Or, gover-nours house. mon hall, and gathered vnto him the whole band of souldiers.

57 . When the Euen was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Ioseph, who also himselfe was Iesus disciple:

58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Iesus : then Pilate commanded the body to be deliuered.

59 And when Ioseph had taken the body, hee wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth.

60 And laide it in his owne newe tombe, which he had hewen out in the rocke : and he rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

The parable of the sower. 14 and the meaning thereof. 21 We must communicate the light of our knowledge to others. 26 The parable of the seede growing secretly, 30 and of the Mustard seede. 35 Christ stilleth the tempest on the Sea.

Matth. 13.

The parable

Nd *he beganne againe to teach by the Sea side : and there was gathered vnto him a great multitude, so that he entred into a ship, and sate in the Sea : and the whole multitude was by the Sea on the land.

2 And he taught them many things by parables, and said vnto them in his doctrine.

3 Hearken, Behold, there went out a sower to sow:

4 And it came to passe as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the foules of the aire came, & deuoured it vp.

5 And some fell on stonie ground, where it had not much earth : and immediately it sprang vp, because it had no depth of earth.

6 But when the Sunne was vp, it was scorched, and because it had no roote, it withered away.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes grew vp, and choked it, and it yeelded no fruite.

8 And other fell on good ground, and did yeeld fruite that sprang vp, and increased, and brought foorth some thirtie, & some sixtie, & some an hundred.

9 And he said vnto them, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And when hee was alone, they that were about him, with the twelve, asked of him the parable.

11 And he said vnto them. Vnto vou it is given to know the mystery of the kingdome of God : but vnto them that are without, all these things are done in parables:

Marth 13.

12 * That seeing they may see, and not perceiue, and hearing they may heare, and not vnderstand, lest at any time they should be converted, and their sinnes should be forgiuen them.

13 And he said vnto them, Know ye

34 And he looked round about on | not this parable? And how then will you know all parables?

14 The Sower soweth the word. 15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sowen, but when they have heard, Satan commeth immediately, and taketh away the word that was sowen in their hearts.

16 And these are they likewise which are sowen on stonie ground, who when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladnesse:

17 And have no roote in themselves. and so endure but for a time : afterward when affliction or persecution ariseth for the words sake, immediately they are offended.

18 And these are they which are sowen among thorns : such as heare the word, 19 And the cares of this world, *and * 1. Tim & the deceitfulnesse of riches, and the lusts of other things entring in, choke the word, and it becommeth vnfruitfull.

20 And these are they which are sowen on good ground, such as heare the word, and receive it, & bring foorth fruit, some thirty fold, some sixtie, and some an hundred.

21 T And he said vnto them, Isacan- Matth. 5. dle brought to be put vnder a || bushell, | 1744 more or vnder a bed? & not to be set on a can-in the original, signal dlesticke?

22 *For there is nothing hid, which measure as Mot. 5, 15. shall not be manifested: neither was any Matth. 10. thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

24 And he said vnto them, Take heed what you heare: # With what measure . Manth. 7. ve mete, it shalbe measured to you: And 2. vnto you that hearc, shal more be given.

25 * For he that hath, to him shall be Matth, 13. giuen : and he that hath not, from him 12. shall be taken, euen that which he hath. 26 ¶ And he said. So is the kingdome of God, as if a man should cast seede into the ground. 27 And should sleepe, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring, and grow vp, he knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth foorth fruite of herselfe, first the blade, then the eare, after that the full corne in the eare.

29 But when the fruite is || brought | 3r, ripe. foorth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the haruest is come.

what comparison shall we compare it? S1 It is like a graine of mustard seed: which when it is sowen in the earth, is earth.

32 But when it is sowen, it groweth vp, and becommeth greater then all herbes, & shooteth out great branches, so that the fowles of the aire may lodge vnder the shadow of it.

33 *And with many such parables spake hee the word vnto them, as they were able to heare it.

34 But without a parable spake he not vnto them, and when they were alone, hee expounded all things to his disciples.

35 *And the same day, when the Euen was come, he saith vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.

36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they tooke him, even as he was in the ship, and there were also with him other litle ships.

37 And there arose a great storme of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship asleepe on a pillow : and they awake him, and say vnto him, Master, carest thou not, that we perish?

39 And hee arose, and rebuked the winde, and said vnto the sea, Peace, be still : and the winde ceased, and there was a great calme.

40 And he said vnto them, Why are ve so fearefull? How is it that you have no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and saide one to another, What maner of man is this, that even the winde and the sea obey him?

6 Now at that Feast he released vnto them one prisoner, whomsoener they desired.

7 And there was one named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him, who had committed murder in the insurrection.

8 And the multitude crying alowd, began to desire him to doe as he had ever done vnto them.

9 But Pilate answered them, say. ing, Will ye that I release vnto you the King of the Iewes?

10 (For hee knew that the chiefe Priests had deliuered him for enuie.)

11 But the chiefe Priests mooued the people, that hee should rather release Barabbas vnto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and said againe vnto them, What will yee then that I shall do vnto him whom ye call the King of the Iewes?

13 And they cried out againe, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate saide vnto them,

Why, what cuill hath hee done? And they cried out the more exceedingly. Crucifie him.

15 ¶ And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas vnto them, and deliuered Iesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.

16 And the souldiers led him away into the hall, called Pretorium, and they call together the whole band.

17 And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crowne of thornes. and put it about his head.

3 It seemed good to me also, having had perfect viderstanding of things from the very first, to write vnto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus,

4 That thou mightest know the certainetie of those things wherein thou hast bene instructed.

5 THere was in the dayes of Herode the king of Iudea, a certaine Priest, named Zacharias, of the course of Ahia, and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

6 And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the Commandements and ordinances of the Lord, blamelesse.

7 And they had no childe, because that Elizabeth was harren, and they both were now well striken in yeeres.

8 And it came to passe, that while he executed the Priests office before God in the order of his course, 9 According to the custome of the Priests office, his lot was to burne in-cense when he went into the Temple of the Lord.

10 *And the whole multitude of the Exo. 30.7 people were praying without, at the leuit 16, 17 time of incense.

11 And there appeared vnto him an Angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the Altar of incense.

Nd * Iesus being full of the holy Ghost, returned from Iordane, and was led by the spirit into the wildernesse,

2 Being fourtie dayes tempted of the deuil, and in those dayes he did eat nothing : and when they were ended, he afterward hungred.

3 And the deuil saide vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 And Iesus answered him, sayling, It is written, that man shall not line by bread alone, hut by enery word of God.

5 And the deuil taking him vp into an high mountaine, shewed vnto him all the kingdomes of the world in a moment of time.

6 And the deuil said vnto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them; for that is deliuered vnto me, & to whomsoeuer I will, I giue it.

7 If thou therefore wilt | worship me, all shalbe thine.

8 And lesus answered and said vnto him, Get thee behinde me, Satan : for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him onely shalt thou serue.

9 And hee brought him to Hierusalem, and set him on a pinacle of the Temple, and said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, cast thy selfe downe from hence.

10 For it is written, He shall give his Angels charge ouer thee, to keepe thee. 11 And in their handes they shall beare thee vp. lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Iesus answering, said vnto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the deuil had ended all the temptation, hee departed from him for a season.

Christ teacheth the people out of Peters ship. 4 In a miraculous taking of fishes, sheweth how he wil make him and his partners fishers of men: 12 Cleanseth the leper: 16 Prayeth in the wildernesse: 18 Healeth one sicke of the palsie: 27 Calleth Matthew the Publicane: 29 Eauth with sinners, as being the Physician of soules: 34 Foretelleth the fastings and afflictions of the Apostles after his ascension: 35 And likeneth faint hearted and weake disciples, to olde bottels and worne garments.

Nd *it came to passe, that * Mat. 4. 18. as the people preassed vp-on him to heare the word of God, hee stood by the lake of Genesareth, 2 And sawe two ships standing by the lake : but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their

3 And he entred into one of the ships, which was Simons, and prayed him, that he would thrust out a little from the land : and he sate downe, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 Now when he had left speaking, he said vnto Simon, Lanch out into the deepe, and let downe your nets for a draught.

5 And Simon answering, said vnto him, Master, wee haue toiled all the night, and haue taken nothing : neverthelesse at thy word I will let downe

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, and their net hrake:

7 And they beckened vnto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and helpe them. And they came, & filled both the ships, so that they began to sinke.

8 When Simon Peter saw it, he fell downe at Iesus knees, saying, Depart from me, for I am a sinfull man, O

9 For he was astonished, and al that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken.

13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I wil : be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosie departed from him.

14 And hee charged him to tell no man : but, Goe, and shewe thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy clensing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimonie vnto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him, and great multitudes came together to heare, and to be healed hy him of their infirmities.

16 ¶ And he withdrew himselfe into the wildernesse, and prayed.

17 And it came to passe on a certaine day, as hee was teaching, that there were Pharisees and Doctours of the Law sitting hy, which were come out of euery towne of Galilee, and Iudea, and Hierusalem : and the power of the Lord was present to heale them.

Mat. 2. 7. 18 ¶ * And behold, men hrought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsie : and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in, because of the multitude, they went vpon the house top, & let him downe through the tiling with his couch, into the midst before Icsus.

20 And when he saw their faith, hee said vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are for-

CHAP. VI.

Christ reproueth the Pharises blindnesse a bout the observation of the Sabbath, by Scripture, reason, and miracle: 13 Chooseth twelue Apostles: 17 Healeth the diseased: 20 Preacheth to his disciples before the people of blessings, and curses: 27 How we must loue our enemies: 46 And ioyne the obedience of good workes, to the hearing of the word : least in the cuill day of temptation, we fall like an house built vpon the face of the earth, without any foundation.

7 And the Scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heale on the Sabbath day : that they might find an accusation against him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise vp, and stand foorth in the mids. And he arose, and stood foorth.

9 Then said Iesus vnto them, I will aske you one thing, Is it lawfull on the Sabbath dayes to doe good, or to doe euill? to saue life, or to destroyit?

10 And looking round about vpon them all, he said vnto the man, Stretch foorth thy hand. And he did so : and his hand was restored whole as the other.

Christ preacheth repentance vpon the punishment of the Galileans, and others. 6 The fruitlesse figge tree may not stand. 11 Hee healeth the crooked woman: 18 sheweth nearest the crooked working of the word in the hearts of his chosen, by the parable of the graine of mustard seed, and of leuen: 24 exhorteth to enter in at the straite gate, St and reproueth Herode, and Hierusalem.

Here were present at that season, some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled blood Pitate survivite with their sacrifices.

2 And Iesus answering, said vnto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners aboue all the Galileans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay : but except yee repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

5 I tell yon, Nay; but except yee repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 Thee spake also this parable, A certaine man had a figtree planted in his Vineyard, and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said hee vnto the dresser of his Vineyard, Beholde, these three yeeres I come seeking fruit on this figtree, and finde none : cut it downe, why cumbreth it the ground?

15 The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doeth not each one of you on the Sabbath loose his oxe or his asse from the stall, and leade him away to watering?

16 And ought not this woman being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, loe these eighteene veeres, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?

17 And when hee had said these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed & all the people reioyced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 ¶ * Then said he, Vnto what is the kingdome of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it?

19 It is like a graine of mustard seed, which a man tooke, and cast into his 20 And he arose and came to his fa ther. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ranne, and fell on his necke, and kissed him.

21 And the sonne said vnto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy some.

22 But the father saide to his seruants, Bring foorth the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shooes on his feete.

23 And bring hither the fatted calfe, and kill it, and let vs eate and be merrie.

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe; bee was lost, & is found. And they began to be merie.

15 And he said vnto them, Ye are they which iustifie your selues before men, but God knoweth your hearts: that he had wasted his goods.

2 And hee called him, and said vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Give an accompt of thy stewardship : for thou mayest bee no longer Steward.

S Then the Steward said within himselfe. What shall I doe, for my lord taketh away from mee the Stewardship? I cannot digge, to begge I am ashamed.

4 I am resolued what to doe, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.

5 So hee called every one of his lords detters vnto him, and said vnto the first. How much owest thou vnto my lord?

6 And hee said, An hundred | measures of oyle. And hee saide vnto him, Take thy bill, and sit downe quickly, and write fiftie.

35 And the people stood beholding, & the rulers also with them derided him, saying, Hee saued others, let him saue himselfe, if he be Christ, y chosen of God.

36 And the souldiers also mocked him, comming to him, and offering him vineger.

37 And saying, If thou be the king of the lewes, saue thy selfe.

38 And a superscription also was written oper him in letters of Greeke. and Latin, & Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

39 ¶ And one of † malefactors, which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, saue thy selfe and vs.

40 But the other answering, rebuked him, saying, Doest not thou feare God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation ?

41 And we indeed instly; for we receiue the due reward of our deeds, but this man hath done nothing amisse.

42 And he said vnto Iesus, Lord, remember me when thou commest into thy kingdome.

43 And Iesus said vnto him, Verily, I say vnto thee, to day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

44 And it was about the sixt houre, and there was a darkenesse ouer all the learth, vntill the ninth houre.

45 And the Sunne was darkened, and the vaile of the temple was rent in the mids.

46 ¶ And when Iesus had cried Past 31. 6. with a loud voice, he said, * Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit : And hauing said thus, he gaue vp the ghost. 47 Now when the Centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood a farre off, beholding these things.

7 There commeth a woman of Samaria to draw water: Iesus sayth vnto her. Giue me to drinke.

8 For his disciples were gone away vnto the city to huy meate.

9 Then saith the woman of Samaris vnto him, How is it that thou, being a Iewe, askest drinke of me, which am a woman of Samaria? For the Iewes haue no dealings with the Samaritanes.

10 Iesus answered, and said vnto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that sayth to thee. Give me to drinke; thou wouldest have asked of him, and hee would have given thee liuing water.

11 The woman saith vnto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to drawe with, and the Well is deepe : from whence then hast thou that living water?

12 Art thou greater then our father Iacob, which gaue vs the Well, and dranke thereof himselfe, and his children, and his cattell?

15 Iesus answered, and said vnto her. Whosoeuer drinketh of this water, shall thirst againe:

14 But whosoeuer drinketh of the water that I shal give him, shall never thirst : but the water that I shall give him, shalbe in him a well of water sprin-

15 The woman saith vnto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.

16 Iesus saith vnto her, Goe, call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered, and said, I have no husband. Iesus said vnto her. Thou hast well said, I have no husband:

23 But the houre commeth, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit, and in trueth : for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 *God is a Spirit, and they that 2. Cor. 3. worship him, must worship him in spirit, and in trueth.

25 The woman saith vnto him, I know that Messias commeth, which is called Christ: when he is come, hee will tell vs all things.

26 Iesus sayth vnto her, I that speake vnto thee, am hee.

27 T And vpon this came his disciples, and marueiled that he talked with the woman : yet no man said, What seekest thou, or, Why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city. and sayth to the men, 40 So when the Samaritanes were come vnto him, they besought him that he would tarie with them, and he abode there two dayes.

41 And many moe beleeued, because of his owne word:

42 And said vnto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying, for we have heard him our selues, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saujour of the world.

Matth. 13 43 ¶ Now after two dayes he departed thence, and went into Galilee:

44 For Iesus himselfe testified, that a Prophet hath no honour in his owne countrey.

45 Then when hee was come into Galilce, the Galileans received him, hauing seene all the things that hee did at Hierusalem at the Feast for they also went vnto the Feast.

46 So Iesus came againe into Ca-Chap. 2. 1 na of Galilce, *where hee made the water wine. And there was a certaine : Or, Courts | | | noble man, whose some was sieke at Capernaum.

47 When he heard that Iesus was come out of Iudea into Galilee, hee went vnto him, and besought him that he would come downe, and heale his sonne : for he was at the point of death.

48 Then said Iesus vnto him, Except ve see signes and wonders, yee will not beleeue.

49 The noble man saith vnto him, Syr, come downe ere my child die.

50 Icsus saith vnto him, Go thy way, thy sonne liueth. And the man beleened the word that Iesus had spoken vnto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, his seruants met him, and told him, saving, Thy sonne liucth.

52 Then inquired hee of them the houre when he began to amend: and they said vnto him, Yesterday at the seuenth houre the fever left him.

53 So the father knewe that it was at the same houre, in the which lesus said vnto him, Thy sonne liueth, and himselfe beloeued, and his whole house.

14 Afterward Iesus findeth him in the Temple, & said vnto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sinne no more, lest a worse thing come vnto thee.

15 The man departed, and tolde the Iewes that it was Iesus which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Iewes persecute Iesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the Sabbath day.

17 T But Icsus answered thim, My Father worketh hitherto, & I worke.

18 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him, not onely because hee had broken the Sabbath, but said also, that God was his father, making himselfe equall with God.

19 Then answered Iesus, and saide vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you. The sonne can doe nothing of himelfe, but what he seeth the Father doe: for what things soeuer he doeth, these also doth the sonne likewise.

20 For the father loueth the sonne. and sheweth him all things that himsclfe doth : & he will shew him greater works then these, that ye may marueile. 21 For as the Father raiseth vp the lead, and quickeneth them : euen so the Sonne quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father judgeth no man: but hath committed all judgement vnto the Sonne:

23 That all men should honour the Son, euen as they bonour the Father. He that honoureth not & Sonne, honoreth not y Father which hath sent him.

24 Verily, verily I say vnto you, Hee that heareth my word, & beleeueth on him that sent mee, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation : but is passed from death vnto life.

25 Verily, verily I say vnto you, The houre is comming, & now is, when the dead shall heare the voice of the Sonne of God: and they that heare, shall live. 26 For as the Father hath life in himselfe : so hath he given to the Sonne to haue life in himselfe: 27 And hath given him authority to execute judgement also, because he is the Sonne of man. 28 Marueile not at this : for the houre is comming, in the which all that are in the graues shall heare his voice.

29 And shall come foorth, * they that himselfe away, ||a multitude being in || haue done good, vnto the resurrection of life, and they that have done euill, vnto the resurrection of damnation.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peters brother, saith vnto him.

9 There is a lad here, which hath fine barley loanes, and two small fishes : but what are they among so many?

12 When they were filled, he said vnto his disciples, Gather vp the fragments that remaine, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelue baskets with the fragments of the fiue barley loaues, which remained ouer and about, vnto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had! seene the miracle that Iesus did, said, This is of a trueth that Prophet that should come into the world.

15 ¶ When Iesus therefore perceiued that they would come and take him by force, to make him a King, hee departed againe into a mountaine, himselfe alone.

16 * And when euen was now come. * Matth. 14. his disciples went downe vnto the sea, 17 And entred into a ship, and went ouer the sea towards Capernaum : and it was now darke, and Iesus was not come to them.

20 But he saith vnto them, It is I, be not afraid.

21 Then they willingly received him into the ship, and immediatly the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other boat there, saue that one whereinto his disciples were entred, and that Iesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone :

23 Howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias, nigh vnto the place where they did eate bread, after that the Lord had given thankes:

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Iesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said vnto me, Goe to the noole of Siloam, and wash : and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they vnto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind.

14 And it was the Sabbath day when Icsus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then agains the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said vnto them, Hee put clay vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and doe see.

16 Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because hee keepeth not the Sabbath day. O. thers said, How can a man that is a sinner, doe such miracles? and there was a division among them.

17 They say vnto the blind man againe, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, Hee is Prophet.

18 But the Iewes did not beleeve concerning him, that hee had bin blind, and received his sight, vntill they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, who ye say was borne blind? how then doth he now see?

20 His parents answered them, and said, We know that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blind:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we know not, or who hath opened his eyes we know not : hee is of age, aske him, he shall speake for himselfe.

22 These words spake his parents, because they feared the lewes : for the lewes had agreed already, that if any man did confesse that he was Christ, he should be put out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age, aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that was blind, and said vnto him, Giue God the praise, we know that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered, and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: One thing I know, that whereas I was blind, now I see.

26 Then saide they to him againe, What did he to thec? How opened hee thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not heare: wherfore would you heare it againe? Will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then they reuiled him, and said, Thou art his disciple, but we are Moses disciples.

29 Wee know that God spake vnto Moses : as for this fellow, we knowe not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and said vnto them, Why herein is a marueilous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

SI Now we know that God heareth not sinners : but if any man bee a worshipper of God, and doth his will, him he heareth.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde:

33 If this man were not of God, he could doe nothing.

34 They answered, and saide vnto him, Thou wast altogether borne in sinnes, and doest thou teach vs? And they ||cast him out.

35 lesus heard that they had cast him. him out; and when hee had found him. he said vnto him, Doest thou beleeue on the Sonne of God?

36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might beleeve on him?

37 And Iesus said vnto him, Thou hast both seene him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he said, Lord, I beleeue : and he worshipped him.

39 ¶ And Iesus said, For judgment I am come into this world, that they which see not, might see, and that they which see, might be made blind.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him, heard these words, and saide vnto him, Are wee blinde also?

41 Iesus saide vnto them, If yee were blind, ye should have no sinne : but now ye say, We see, therfore your sinne remaineth.

Ow a certaine man was sicke, named Lazarus of Bethanie, the towne of Mary, and her sister Martha.

2 (*It was that Mary which anounted the Lord with oyntment, and wiped his feete with her haire, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)

3 Therefore his sister sent vnto him, saying, Lord, behold, hee whom thou louest, is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard that, hee said, This sicknesse is not vnto death, but for the glory of God, that the Sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sicke, he abode two dayes still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that, saith hee to his disciples, Let vs go into Indea againe. 8 His disciples say vnto him, Master, the Iewes of late sought to stone thee, and goest thou thither againe?

9 Iesus answered, Are there not twelve houres in the day? If any man walke in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10 But if a man walke in the night, hee stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

42 And I knewe that thou hearest me alwayes: but because of the people which stand by, I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

43 And when hee thus had spoken, he cryed with a loude voice, Lazarus, come foorth.

44 And he that was dead, came forth, bound hand & foot with graue-clothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Iesus saith vnto them, Loose him, and let him goe.

45 Then many of the lewes which came to Mary, and had seene the things which Iesus did, beleeved on him.

46 But some of them went their wayes to the Pharises, and tolde them what things Iesus had done.

47 ¶ Then gathered f chiefe Priests and the Pharises a councell, and said, What doe wee? for this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will beleeue on him, and the Romanes shall come, and take away both our place and nation.

49 And one of them named Caiaphas, being the high Priest that same yeere, said vnto them, Ye know nothing at all,

50 Nor consider that it is expedient Chap. 18.
for vs., that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 And this spake he not of himselfe: but being high Priest that yeere, he prophecied that Iesus should die for that nation:

52 And not for that nation only, but that also hee should gather together in one, the children of God that were scattered abroad.

53 Then from that day foorth, they tooke counsell together for to put him to death.

54 Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes: but went thence vnto a countrey neere to the wildernesse, into a city called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 ¶ And the Iewes Passeouer was nigh at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to Hierusalem before the Passeouer to purifie themselues.

56 Then sought they for Iesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the Temple, What thinke ye, that he will not come to the feast?

57 Now both the chiefe Priests and the Pharises had giuen a commandement, that if any man knew where hee were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

1 Jesus excuseth Mary anointing his feet. 9 The people flocke to see Lazarus. 10 The high Priests consult to kill him. 12 Christ rideth into Jerusalem. 20 Greekes desire to see fesus. 23 Heforetelleth his death. 37 The Jewes are generally blinded: 42 yet many chiefe rulers beleeue, but do not confesse him: 44 therfore Jesus calleth earnestly for confession of faith.

Then

2 There they made him a supper, and Martha serued : but Lasarus was one of them y sate at the table with him.

3 Then tooke Mary a pound of ointment, of Spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Iesus, & wiped his feet with her haire : and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4 Then saith one of his disciples. Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne, which should betray him,

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poore?

*Che 13. 29 6 * This he said, not that he cared for the poore ; but because hee was a thiefe, and had the hag, and hare what ras put therein.

7 Then said Iesus, Let her alone, against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For the poore alwayes yee haue with you: hut me ye have not alwayes.

9 Much people of the Iewes therefore knew that he was there : and they came, not for Iesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.

10 T But the chiefe Priests consulted, $ they might put Lazarus also to death, 11 Because that by reason of him many of the lewes went away and beleeued on Iesus.

Cha. Er. 8.

12 ¶ *On the next day, much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Iesus was comming to Hierusalem.

13 Tooke branches of Palme trees, and went foorth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna, blessed is the king of Israel that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

14 And Iesus, when he had found a yong asse, sate thereon, as it is written,

Zach. s. s. 15 *Feare not, daughter of Sion, hehold, thy King commeth, sitting on an asses colt.

16 These things understood not his disciples at the first : but when Iesus was glorified, then remebred they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things vnto

20 ¶ And there were certaine Greeks among them, that came vp to worship at the feast:

21 The same came therefore to Philip which was of Bethsaids of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see 22 Philip commeth and telleth Andrew : and againe Andrew and Philip told Iesus.

23 ¶ And Iesus answered them, saying, The houre is come, that the Sonne of man should be glorified.

24 Verely, verely, I say vnto you, Except a corne of wheat fall into the ground, and die, it abideth alone : but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 . He that loueth his life, shall lose Marth. 10. it : and hee that hateth his life in this world, shall keepe it vnto life eternall.

26 If any man serue me, let him follow me, and where I am, there shall also my seruant be: If any man serue me, him will my father honour.

27 Now is my soule troubled, and what shall I say? Father, saue me from this houre, but for this cause came I vnto this houre.

28 Father, glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and wil glorifie it againe.

29 The people therefore that stood by, and heard it, said, that it thundered: others said, An Angel spake to him.

30 Iesus answered, and said, This voice came not because of mee, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the judgement of this world : now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32 And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men vnto me.

33 (This hee said, signifying what death he should die)

3 Iesus knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God:

4 He riseth from supper, and layed aside his garments, and tooke a towell, and girded himselfe.

5 After that, he powreth water into a bason, and beganne to wash the disciples feete, and to wipe them with the towell wherewith he was girded.

6 Then commeth he to Simon Peter : and Peter saith vnto him, Lord, doest thou wash my feete?

7 Iesus answered, and said vnto him. What I doe, thou knowest not now : but thou shalt know heereafter.

8 Peter saith vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feete. Iesus answered him. If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

7 Therefore that Disciple whome Iesus loued, saith vuto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fishers coate vnto him, (for hee was naked) & did cast himselfe into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a litle ship (for they were not farre from land, but as it were two hundred cubites) dragging the net with fishes.

9 Assoone then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coales there, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

22 Yee men of Israel, heare these words, Iesus of Nazareth, a man approued of God among you, by miracles, wonders, and signes, which God did by him in the midst of you, as yee your selues also know

23 Him, being delivered by the determinate counsell and foreknowledge of God, yee haue taken, and by wicked hands, have crucified, and slaine:

24 Whom God hath raised vp, hauing loosed the paines of death: because it was not possible that hee should be holden of it.

25 For Dauid speaketh concerning Psal 16. 9. him, * I foresaw the Lord alwayes before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moued.

26 Therefore did my heart reioyce, and my tongue was glad: Moreoucr also, my flesh shall rest in hope, 27 Because thou wilt not leave my soule in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy one to see corruption.

29 Men and hrethren, ||let me freely speake vnto you of the Patriarch Da-* 1. King. 2. uid, that he is both dead & buried, and his sepulchre is with vs vnto this day:

30 Therefore being a Prophet, *and knowing that God had sworne with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loines, according to the flesh, hee would raise vp Christ, to sit on his throne:

31 He seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, *that his soule was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

82 This lesus hath God raised vp. whereof we all are witnesses.

53 Therefore being hy the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and heare.

34 For Danid is not ascended into the heavens, but he saith himselfe, * The Post 110. Lord said vnto my Lord. Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Vntill I make thy foes thy footstoole.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Iesus, whom ye haue crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 ¶ Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said vnto Peter, and to the rest of the Apostles, Men and brethren, What shall we doe?

38 Then Peter said vnto them, Repent, and be baptized enery one of you in the Name of Iesus Christ, for the remission of sinnes, and ye shal receive the gift of the holy Ghost.

39 For the promise is vnto you, and to your children, and to all that are afarre off, euen as many as the Lord our God ahall call.

40 And with many other words did hee testifie and exhort, saying, Saue your selues from this votoward generation.

41 Then they that gladly received his word, were baptized and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand soules.

42 And they continued stedfastly in the Apostles doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in praiers.

43 And feare came vpon every soule: and many wonders and signes were done by the Apostles.

44 And all that beleeved were together, and had all things common,

CHAP. III.

Peter preaching to the people that came to see a lame man restored to his feete, 12 professeth the cure not to have beene wrought by his, or Iohnsowne power, or holinesse, but by God, and his sonne Iesus, and through faith God, and his sonne lesus, and unrough tain in his Name: 13 Withall reprehending them for crucifying lesus. 17 Which because they did it through ignorance, and that thereby were fulfilled Gods determinate counsell, and the Scriptures: 19 He exhorteth them by repentance and faith to seeke remission of their sinnes, and saluation in the same lesus.

Owe Peter and Iohn went vp together into the Temple at the houre of prayer, beeing the ninth houre.

2 And a certaine man lame from his mothers womb was caried, whom they laide daily at the gate of the Temple which is called Beautifull, to aske almes of them that entred into the Temple.

3 Who seeing Peter & John about to go into the Temple, asked an almes. 4 And Peter fastening his eyes vpon him, with Iolin, said, Looke on vs.

5 And he gaue heede vnto them, expecting to receive something of them. 6 Then Peter said, Siluer and gold haue I none, but such as I haue, give I thee : In the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, rise vp and walke.

7 And hee tooke him by the right hand, & lift him vp : aud immediatly his feete and ancle bones received strength.

8 And hee leaping vp. stood, and walked, and entred with them into the Temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saw him wal king, and praising God.

10 And they knew that it was hee which sate for almes at the beautifull gate of the Temple : and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened vnto him.

11 And as the lame man which was healed, helde Peter and Iohn, all the people ranne together vnto them in the porch, that is called Solomons, great-v wondring.

12 4 And when Peter sawe it, hee answered vnto the people, Yee men of Israel, why marueile ye at this? or why looke yee so earnestly on vs, as though by our owne power or holinesse we had imade this man to walke?

13 The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Iacob, the God of our fathers hath glorified his sonne Iesus, whom we deliuered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when hee was determined to let him goe.

17 And now brethren, I wote that through ignorance yec did it, as did also 18 But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, hee hath so fulfilled.

19 ¶ Repent yee therefore, and bee converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shal come from the presence of the Lord.

20 And hee shall send Iesus Christ,

CHAP. IIII.

The rulers of the Iewes offended with Peters Sermon, 4 (though thousands of the people were connerted that heard the word) (mprison him, and Iohn. 5 After, vpon examination Peter boldly auouching the lame man to be healed by the Name of lesus, and that by the same lesus onely we must be eternally saued, 13 They command him and John to preach no more in that Name, adding also threatning, 23 Whereupon the Church fleeeth to prayer. 31 And God by mouing the place where they were assembled, testified that he heard their prayer; confirming the Church with the gift of the holy Ghost, and with mutuall love and charitie.

Nd as they spake vnto the people, the Priests and the ||captaine of the Temple, and the Sadduces came vpon them,

2 Being grieued that they taught the people, and preached through Iesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold vnto the next day : for it was now euentide.

4 Howbeit, many of them which heard the word, beleeved, and the number of the men was about fine thou-

5 ¶ And it came to passe on the morow, that their rulers, and Elders, and Scribes.

6 And Annas the high Priest, and Caiphas, and Iohn, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kinred of the high Priest, were gathered together at Hierusalem.

7 And when they had set them in the middest, they asked, By what power, or by what name haue ye done this?

8 Then Peter filled with the holy Ghost, said vnto them. Ye rulers of the said vnto them. people, and Elders of Israel,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what meanes he is made whole,

10 Be it knowen vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that hy the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whome God raised from the dead, euen by him, doeth this man stand here before you, whole.

11 This is the stone which was set at nought of you huilders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there saluation in any other : for there is none other name vnder heauen giuen among men whereby we must be saued.

13 ¶ Now when they sawe the boldnesse of Peter and John, and perceined that they were vulearned and ignorant men, they marueiled, and they tooke knowledge of them, that they had bene with Icsus.

14 And beholding the man which was healed, standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the Council, they conferred among themselves, 16 Saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath bene done by them, is manifest to all them that dwell in Hierusalem, and we cannot denie it.

17 But that it spread no farther among the people, let vs straitly threaten them, that they speake henceforth to no man in this Name.

18 And they called them, and commanded them, not to speake at all, nor teach in the Name of Iesus.

19 But Peter and John answered. and said vnto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God, to hearken vnto you more then vnto God, judge ye.

20 For wee cannot but speake the things which we have seene and heard.

21 So when they had further threatned them, they let them goe, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people : for all men glorified God for that which was done.

22 For the man was about fourtie veeres olde, on whome this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 ¶ And being let goe, they went to their owne company, and reported all that the chiefe Priests and Elders had 31 ¶ And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldnesse.

32 And the multitude of them that beleeued, were of one heart, and of one soule : Neither said any of them, that ought of the things which he possessed, was his owne, but they had all things

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witnesse of the resurrection of the Lord Iesus, and great grace was vpon them all. 34 Neither was there any among them that lacked : For as many as were possessors of lands, or houses, sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were solde, 35 And laide them downe at the A postles feete . And distribution was made vnto euery man according as hee had necde.

36 And Ioses, who by the Apostles was surnamed Barnabas (which is, being interpreted, The sonne of consolation) a Leuite, and of the Countrey of

CHAP. V.

After that Anamas and Sapphira his wife for their hypocrisic at Peters rebuke had fallen downe dead, 12 and that the rest of the Apostles had wrought many miracles, 14 to the increase of the faith: 17 The Apostles are againe imprisoned, 19 But deliuered by an Angel bidding them to preach openly to all: 21 When, after their teaching accordingly in the temple, 29 and before the Councill, 33 they are in danger to be killed, through the aduise of Gamaliel, a great councellour among the Icwes, they be kept aliue,

Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, solde apossession, of the price, his wife also being priny to it, and brought a certaine part, and layd it at the Apostles feete.

3 But Peter said, Ananias, Why hath Satan filled thine heart || to lie to | Or. to dethe holy Ghost, and to keepe backe part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine owne? and after it was sold, was it not in thine owne power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied vnto men, but vnto God.

5 And Ananias hearing these words, fell downe, and gaue vp the ghost : and great feare came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the yong men arose, wound him vp, and caried him out, and buried

7 And it was about the space of three houres after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Peter answered vnto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she saide, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter saide vnto her, How is it that ye have agreed together, to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feete of them which have buried thy husband, are at the doore, and shall cary thee out.

10 Then fell she downe straightway at his feete, and yeelded vp the ghost: And the yong men came in, and found her dead, and carying her forth, huried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came vpon all the Church, and vpon as many as heard these things.

12 ¶ And by the hands of the Apostles, were many signes and wonders wrought among the people. (And they were all with one accord in Solomons porch.

17 Then the high Priest rose vp. and al they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadduces) and were or, enuie. filled with ||indignation,

18 And laid their hands on the Apostles, & put them in the common prison. 19 But the Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doores, and brought them foorth, and said, 20 Goe, stand and speake in the Temple to the people all the words of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entred into the Temple early in the morning, & taught; but the high Priest came, and they that were with him, and called the Councill together, and all the Senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

26 Then went the captaine with the officers, and brought them without violence : (For they feared the people, lest they should have bene stoned.)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Councill. and the high Priest asked them,

34 Then stood there vp one in the Councill, a Pharisce, named Gamaliel. a doctour of Law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles forth a litle space, 35 And said vnto them, Yee men of Israel, take heed to your selues, what ye intend to doe as touching these men.

37 After this man rose vp Iudas of Galilee, in the dayes of the taxing, and drew away much people after him : hee also perished, and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38 And now I say vnto you, refraine from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsell or this worke be of men, it will come to nought.

CHAP. VIII.

By occasion of the persecution in Hierusalem, the Church being planted in Semaria, & By Philip the Deacon who preached, did miraracles, and baptized many, among the rest Simon the sorcerer a great seducer of the people: 14 Peter and John come to confirme, and inlarge the Church : where by prayer, and imposition of hands giving the holy Ghost, 18 When Simon would have bought the like power of them, 20 Peter sharpely reprouing his hypocrisic, and couc-tousnesse, and exhorting him to repentance: together with John preaching the word of the Lord, returne to Hierusalem. 26 But the Angel sendeth Philip to teach, & haptize the Ethiopian Eunuch.

Nd Saul was consenting vnto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against great persecution against the Church which was at Hierusalem, and they were all scattered ahroad through out the regions of Iudea, and Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 And deuout men carried Steuen to his buriall, and made great lamentation ouer him.

3 As for Saul, he made hauocke of the Church, entring into every house, and hailing men and women, committed them to prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad, went euery where preaching the word.

5 Then Philip went downe to the citie of Samaria, and preached Christ

6 And the people with one accord gaue heed vnto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For vncleane spirits, crying with lowd voyce, came out of many that were possessed with them; and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great low in that citie.

9 But there was a certaine man called Simon, which before time in the same citie vsed sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himselfe was some great one.

10 To whom they all gaue heed from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they beleeved Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdome of God, and the Name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. 13 Then Simon himselfe beleeved also : and when hee was baptized, hee continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signes which were done.

14 Now when the Apostles which were at Hierusalem, heard that Samaris had received the word of God, they sent vnto them Peter and Iohn.

15 Who when they were come downe, praied for them that they might receive the holy Ghoat.

16 (For as yet hee was fallen vpon none of them : onely they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.)

17 Then layde they their hands on them, and they received the holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the Apostles hands, the holy Ghost was given, hee offered them money,

19 Saying, Giue me also this power, that on whomsoeuer I lay handes, hee may receive the holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter, for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednesse, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forginen

23 For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitternesse, and in the bond

24 Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for mee, that none of these things which ye have spoken, come voon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Hierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many villages of the Sama-

26 And the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise, and goe toward the South, vnto the way that goeth downe from Hierusalem vnto Gaza, which is desert.

27 And hee arose, and went : and behold, a man of Ethiopia, an Eunuch of great authority vnder Candace queene of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Hierusalem for to worship, 28 Was returning, and sitting in his charet, read Essias the Prophet.

29 Then the Spirit saide vnto Philip, Goe neere, and lowne thy selfe to this

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him reade the Prophet Esaiss, and said, Vnderstandest thou what thou readest?

S1 And hee said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he desired Philip, that hee would come vp, and sit with him.

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water : and the Eunuch said, See, here is water, what doeth hinder me to be baptized?

37 And Philip said, If thou beleeuest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered, and said, I beleeue that Iesus Christ is the Sonne of God.

38 And he commanded the charet to stand still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip, and the Eunuch, and he baptized him.

39 And when they were come vp out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the Eunuch saw him no more : and hee went on his way reioycing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing thorow he preached in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

Nd Saul yet breathing out threatnings & slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went vnto the high Priest.

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus, to the Synagogues, that if hee found any of this way, whether they were men or women, hee might bring them bound vnto Hierusalem.

3 And as he iourneyed he came neere Damascus, and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven.

4 And he fel to the earth, and heard a voice saying vnto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou Lord? And the Lord said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest : It is hard for thee to kicke against the prickes.

on thy Name. 15 But the Lord said vnto him, Goe thy way: for hee is a chosen vessell vnto me, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, and Kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I will shew him how great things hee must suffer for my Names

17 And Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, and putting his hands on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord (euen Iesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediatly there fell from his eyes as it had bene scales, and he receiued sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And when hee had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certaine dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus. 20 And straightway hee preached Christ in the Synagogues, that hee is the Sonne of God.

10 And he became very hungry, and would haue eaten : But while they made ready, he fell into a traunce,

11 And saw heauen opened, and a certaine vessell descending vnto him, as it had beene a great sheete, knit at the foure corners, and let downe to the earth:

12 Wherein were all maner of foure footed beasts of the earth, and wilde beasts, and creeping things, and foules of the ayre.

13 And there came a voyce to him, Rise, Peter : kill, and eate.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten any thing that is common or vncleane.

15 And the voice spake vnto him a-gaine the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrise : & the vessel was received vp againe into heaven.
17 Now while Peter doubted in himselfe what this vision which he had seene, should meane: behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had made inquirie for Simons house, and stood before the gate, 18 And called, and asked whether Simon, which was sirnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 While Peter thought on the vision, the spirit said vuto him, Behold, three men sceke thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, doubting nothing: for I haue sent them.

21 Then Peter went downe to the men, which were sent vnto him from Cornelius, and said, Behold, I am hee, wherefore ve are come? 22 And they saide, Cornelius the Centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the lewes, was warned from God by an holy Angel, to send for thee into his house, and to heare words 24 And the morrow after they entred into Cesarea : and Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and neere friends.

25 And as Peter was comming in, Cornelius met him, and fell downe at his feete, and worshipped him.

26 But Peter tooke him vp, saying, Stand vp, I my selfe also am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, hee went in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he said vnto them, Ye know how that it is an vnlawfull thing for a man that is a Iewe, to keepe company or come vnto one of another nation : but God hath shewed me, that I should not call any man common or vncleane.

29 Therfore came I vnto you without gainesaying, as soone as I was sent for. I aske therefore, for what intent ye have sent for me.

30 And Cornelius said, Foure daies agoe I was fasting vntill this houre, and at the ninth houre I prayed in my house, and behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing, 15 And they that conducted Paul, brought him vnto Athens, and receiuing a commaundement vnto Silas and Timotheus, for to come to him with all speed, they departed.

16 T Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when hee saw the city | wholy | or, full of given to idolatrie.

17 Therefore disputed he in the Synagogue with the lewes, and with the deuout persons, and in the market dayly with them that met with him.

18 Then certaine Philosophers of the Epicureans, and of the Stoikes, eucountred him : and some said, What will this | babbler say? Other some, He or, base seemeth to be a setter foorth of strange fellow. gods: because hee preached vnto them lesus, and the resurrection. 19 And 11 And hee + continued there a veere and sixe monethes, teaching the word of God among them.

12 ¶ And when Gallio was the Deputie of Achaia, the lewes made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgement seaf.

13 Saying, This fellow perswadeth men to worship God contrary to the Law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gallio said vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or wicked lewdnesse. O yee Iewes, reason would that I should beare with 18 ¶ And Paul after this taried there yet a good while, and then tooke his leaue of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila: having shorne his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he himselfe entred into the Synagogue, and reasoned with the Iewes.

20 When they desired him to tary longer time with them, hee consented not:

21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must by all meanes keepe this feast that commeth, in Hierusalem; but I will returne againe vnto you, *if God will : and he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he had landed at Cesarea, and gone vp, and saluted the Church, he went downe to Antioch.

23 And after he had spent some time there, hee departed, and went ouer all the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia in order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 ¶ * And a certaine Iew, named Apollos, borne at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mightie in the Scriptures, came to Ephesus.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord, and being feruent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing onely the baptisme of Iohn.

26 And he began to speake boldly in the Synagogue : whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and expounded vnto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when hee was disposed to passe into Achaia, the brethren wrote. exhorting the disciples to receive him : who, when he was come, helped them much which had beleeved through grace.

28 For hee mightily continued the Hewes, and that publikely, shewing by the scriptures, that Iesus was Christ.

The holy Ghost is given by Paula handa. 9
The Iewes blaspheme his doctrine, which is confirmed by miracles. 13 The Iewish exorcists 16 are beaten by the deuill. 19 Coniuring books are burnt. 24 Demetrius, for loue of gaine, raiseth an vprore against Paul, 35 which is appeared by the Towns-clerke.

Nd it came to passe, that while Apollos was at Co-rinth, Paul hauing passed thorow the vpper coasts, cameto Ephesus, and finding certaine disciples,

2 He said vnto them, Haue ye receiued the holy Ghost since yee beleeved? And they saide vnto him, Wee haue not so much as heard whether there be any holy Ghost.

3 And he said vnto them, Vnto what then were ye baptized? And they saide, Vnto Iohns Bantisme.

4 *Then saide Paul, John verely Mat. 3.11. baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they should beleeue on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Iesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

6 And when Paul had laide his hands vpon them, the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake with tongues, and prophecied.

7 And all v men were about twelue. 8 And hee went into the Synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three moneths, disputing and perswading the things concerning the Kingdome of God.

9 But when divers were hardened, and beleeued not, but spake euill of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the schoole of one Tyrannus.

10 And this continued by the space of two yeeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the word of the Lord Iesus, both Iewes and Greeks. 11 And God wrought speciall miracles by the hands of Paul: 12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sicke handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the cuill spirits went out of them.

13 Then certaine of the vagabond Iewes, exorcistes, tooke vpon them to call ouer them which had euill spirits, the Name of the Lord lesus, saying, We adjure you by Iesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seuen sonnes of one Sceua a Iewe, and chiefe of the Priests, which did so.

15 And the cuill spirit answered, and said, Iesus I knowe, and Paul I know, but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euill spirit was, leapt on them, and onercame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowen to all the Iewes and Greekes also dwelling at Ephesus, and feare fell on them all, and the Name of the Lord Iesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleeved came, and confessed, and shewed their deedes.

19 Many also of them which vsed curious arts, brought their bookes together and burned them before all men and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of siluer.

20 So mightily grew the word of God, and preuailed.

21 ¶ After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when hee had passed thorow Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Hierusalem, saying, After

I have bin there, I must also see Rome. 22 So hee sent into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto him, Ti motheus and Erastus, hut he himselfe stayed in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no small stirre about that way.

24 For a certaine man named Demetrius, a siluer smith, which made siluer shrines for Diana, brought no small gaine vnto the craftsmen:

25 Whom he called together, with the workemen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we hane our wealth. 26 Moreover, ye see & heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath perswaded and turned away much people, saying, that they bee no gods, which are made with hands.

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nonght : but also that the Temple of the great goddesse Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia, and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were ful of wrath, & cried out, saying, Great is Diana of y Ephesians.

29 And the whole citie was filled with confusiou, and hauing caught Gaius and Aristarchus men of Macedonia Pauls companions in transile, they rushed with one accord into the Theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certaine of the chiefe of Asia, which were his friends, sent vnto him, desiring him that he would not aduenture himselfe into the Theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another : for the assembly was confused, and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Iewes putting him forward. And Alexander beckened with the hand, and would have made his defence vnto the people.

84 But when they knew that he was a Iewe, all with one voyce about the space of two houres cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

85 And when the towne clarke had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there y knoweth not how that the citie of the Ephesians is +a worshipper of the great god-tore the desse Diana, and of the image which fell per. downe from Iupiter?

Paul goeth to Macedonia. 7 He celebrateth the Lords Supper, and preacheth. 9 Euty-chus having fallen downe dead, 10 is raised to life. 17 At Miletum be calleth the Elders together, telleth them what shall befall to himselfe, 28 committeth Gods flocke to them, 29 warneth them of false teachers. 32 commendeth them to God, 36 prayeth with them, and goeth his way.

Nd after the vprore was ceased, Paul called vnto him the disciples, and imbraced them, & departed, for to go into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone ouer those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,

S And there abode three moneths: and when the Iewes layed waite for him, as hee was about to saile into Syria, hee purposed to returne thorow Macedonia.

10 And Paul went downe, and fell on him, and embracing him, saide, Trouble not your selues, for his life is liu him.

11 When hee therefore was come vp againe, & had broken bread, and eaten. and talked a long while, even till breake of day, so he departed. ..

12 And they brought the yong man aliue, and were not a little comforted.

13 ¶ And wee went before to ship, and sailed vuto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had hee appointed, minding himselfe to goe afoote.

14 And when he met with vs at Assos, wee tooke him in, and came to Mitvlene.

15 And wee sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios, and the next day we arrived at Samos, and taried at Trogyllium: and the next day we came to Miletus.

16 For Paul had determined to saile by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Hierusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 ¶ And from Miletus hee sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the Church.

18 And when they were come to him, he said vnto them, Ye know from the first day that I came into Asia, after what maner I have bene with you at all seasons.

19 Seruing the Lord with all humilitie of minde, and with many teares, and temptations, which befell me by the lying in wait of the lewes:

20 And how I kept backe nothing that was profitable vito you, but liaue shewed you, and have taught you publikely, and from house to house, 21 Testifying both to the lewes and also to the Greekes, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 And now behold, I goe bound in the spirit vnto Hierusalem, not knowing the things that shal befall me there:

23 Saue that the holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions | abide me.

24 But none of these things moone me, neither count I my life deare vnto my self, so that I might finish my course with ioy, & the ministery which I haue received of the Lord Iesus, to testifie the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now behold, I know that ye all, among whom I haue gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you co record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men. ;

27 For I have not shunned to declare vnto you all the counsell of God.

28 ¶ Take heed therefore vnto your selues, & to all the flocke, ouer the which the holy Ghost hath made you ouerseers, to feed the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing shall grieuous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Also of your owne selues shal men arise, speaking peruerse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember that by the space of three yeeres, I ceased not to warne euery one night and day with teares. 32 And now brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you vp, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

36 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, & prayed with them all. 37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him, 38 Sorrowing most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see hisface no more. And they accompanied him vnto the ship.

5 And when we had accomplished those dayes, we departed, and went our way, and they all brought vs on our way, with wives and children, till wee were out of the citie : and wee kneeled downe on the shore, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leaue one of another, we tooke ship, and they returned home againe.

7 And when wee had finished our course from Tyre, wee came to Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day we that were of Pauls company, departed, and came vnto Cesarea, and wee entred into the house of Philip the Euangelist (which Chap. 6. 5 was one of the seuen) & abode with him.

17 And when we were come to Hierusalem, the brethren received vs gladly 18 And the day following Paul went in with vs vnto lames, and all the Elders were present.

19 And when hee had saluted them, hee declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministerie.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, & said vnto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Iewes there are which beleeue, and they are all scalous of the Law.

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, saying, that they ought not to cir-cumcise their children, neither to walke after the customes.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together : for they will heare that thou art come.

23 Doe therefore this that we say to thee: Wee haue foure men which haue a vow on them.

24 Them take, and purific thy selfe with them, & bee at charges with them. that they may *shaue their heads: and all may know that those things wherof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest orderly, and keepest the Law.

25 As touching the Gentiles which beleeue. • wee haue written and concluded, that they observe no such thing, saue onely that they keepe themselues from things offered to idoles, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia, when they saw him in the Temple, stirred vp all the people, and laide hands on him.

39 But Paul said, I am a man which am a lew of Tarsus, a citie in Cilicia, a citizen of no meane citie : & I beseech thee suffer me to speake vnto the people.

40 And when he had given him licence, Paul stood on the staires, and beckened with the hand vnto the people : and when there was made a great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying.

CHAP. XXII.

6 And it came to passe, that as I made my journey, & was come nigh vn. to Damascus about noone, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me.

7 And I fell vnto the ground, and heard a voice saying vnto mee, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And 1 answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said vnto me, I am Iesus of Nazareth who thou persecutest.

9 And they that were with me saw indeede the light, and were afraid; but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I saide, What shall I doe, Lord? And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and goe into Damascus, and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a deuout man according to the law, having a good report of al the Iewes which dwelt there. 13 Camevnto me, and stood, & said vnknow his will, & see that I ust one, and shouldest heare the voice of his mouth. 15 For thou shalt be his witnes vnto al men, of what thou hast seene & heard.

16 And now, why tariest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sinnes, calling on the name of the Lord. 17 And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Hierusalem, euen while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance.

18 And saw him saying vnto mee, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Hierusalem : for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 And I said, Lord, they know that I imprisoned, and beat in euery synagogue them that beleeved on thee.

20 * And when y blood of thy martyr * Chap. 7. Steuen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting vnto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, & threw dust into the aire, 24 The chiefe captaine commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that hee should be examined by scourging: that he might know wherfore they cried so against him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge a man that is a Romane, and vncondemned?

26 When the Centurion heard that, hee went and told the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heede what thou doest, for this man is a Romane.

30 On the morrow, because he would haue knowen the certaintie wherefore he was accused of the Iewes, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the chiefe Priests and all their Councill to appeare, and brought Paul downe, and set him before them.

CHAP. XXIII.

As Paul pleadeth his eause, 2 Ananias commandeth them to smite him. 7 Dissension among his accusers. 11 God encourageth him. 14 The lewes laying waite for Paul, 20 is declared vnto the chiefe captaine. 27 He sendeth him to Felix the gouernour.

Nd Paul earnestly beholand brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God vntill this day.

2 And the high Priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him, to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then saith Paul vnto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall : for sittest thou to judge mee after the Law, and commandest mee to be smitten contrary to the Law?

4 And they that stood by, said, Reuilest thou Gods high Priest?

5 Then said Paul, I wist not, brethren, that hee was the high Prist : For it is written, * Thou shalt not speake euill of the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceiued that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, hee cryed out in the Councill, Men and brethren, *I am a Pharisee, the sonne of a Pharisee : * of the hope and resurrection of the dead, I am called in question.

7 And when hee had so said, there arose a dissension betweene the Pharisees and the Sadducees : and the multitude was diuided.

8 * For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor spirit : but the Pharisees confesse both.

9 And there arose a great cry : and the Scribes that were of the Pharisees partarose, and stroue, saying, Wee finde

With a great summe obtained I thist Ino euill in this man : but if a spirit or an freedome. And Paul said, But I was Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chiefe captaine fearing lest Paul should have bene pulled in pieces of them, commanded the souldiers to goe downe, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following, the Lord stood by him, and saide, Bee of good cheere. Paul : for as thou hast testified of mee in Hierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, certaine of the Iewes banded together, and bound themselues under ||a curse, saying, that | Or. with they would neither eate nor drinke till an oath of they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then fourtie which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priests and Elders, and said, Wee have bound our selves vnder a great curse, that wee will eate nothing vntill wee haue slaine Paul.

15 Now therefore we with the Councill, signific to the chiefe captaine that he bring him downe vnto you to morrow, as though yee would enquire something more perfectly concerning him and we, or euer he come neere, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying in wait, hee went and entred into the castle, & told Paul, 17 Then Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, and said, Bring this yong man vnto the chiefe captaine : for he hath a certaine thing to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought him to the chiefe captaine, and said, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and praied mee to bring this yong man vnto thee.

who hath something to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chiefe captaine tooke him by the hand, and went with him aside prinately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he said, The lewes have agreed to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring downe Paul to morrow into the Council, as though they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But do not thou yeeld vnto them: for there lie in wait for him of them moe then fourtie men, which have bound themselues with an othe, that they will ncither

Paul fent to Felix. (neither eate nor drinke, till they have) killed him : and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.

22 So the chiefe captaine then let the yong man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man, that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And he called vnto him two Centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers to goe to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore andten, and spearemen two hundred, at the third houre of the night.

24 And prouide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe vnto Felix the gouernour.

25 And hee wrote a letter after this

26 Claudius Lysias, vnto the most excellent Gouernour Felix, sendeth

27 This man was taken of the Iewes and should have beene killed of them : Then came I with an armie, and rescued him, having vnderstood that he was a Romane.

28 And when I would have knowen the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him foorth iuto their Council.

29 Whom I perceived to be accused of questions of their lawe, but to haue nothing laide to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.

30 And when it was tolde me, how that the Iewes laid waite for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and gaue commandement to his accusers also, to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the souldiers, as it was commaunded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 On the morow, they left the horsemen to goe with him, and returned to 34 And when the gouernour had read the letter, he asked of what prouince he was. And when he vnderstood that he was of Cilicia:

1 Paul being accused by Tertullus the Oratour,

10 answereth for his life and doctrine. 24 Hel preacheth Christ to the governour and his wife. 26 The governour hopeth for a bribe, but in vaine. 27 At last, going out of his office, hee leaueth Paul in prison.

Nd after fine dayes, Ananias the hie Priest descended with the Elders, and with a certaine Oratour named Tertullus, who enformed the gouernour against Paul. 2 And when he was called foorth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee we enioy great quietnesse, and that very worthy deeds are done vnto this natio by thy prouidence:

3 Wee accept it alwayes, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulnesse.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not farther tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy clemencie a few words.

5 For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a moouer of sedition among all the Iewes throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes.

6 Who also hath gone about to profane the Temple : whom we tooke, and would have judged according to our

7 But the chiefe captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him away out of our hands:

8 Commanding his accusers to come vnto thee, by examining of whom thy selfe mayest take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes also assented, saying that these things were so.

10 Then Paul, after that the gouernour had beckened vnto him to speake, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many yeeres a ludge vnto this nation, I do the more checrefully answere for my selfe:

11 Because that thou mayest vnderstand, that there are yet but twelue dayes, since I went vp to Hierusalem for to worship.

12 And they neither found me in the Temple disputing with any man, nei-ther raising vp the people, neither in the Synagogues, nor in the citie:

13 Neither can they proue the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way which they call heresie, heresie, so worship I the God of my fa-1 thers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Law and the Prophets, 15 And haue hope towards God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and vniust.

16 And herein doe I exercise my selfe to haue alwayes a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.

17 Now after many yeeres, I came to bring almes to my nation, & offrings: 18 *Wherupon certaine Iewes from Asia found me purified in the Temple, neither with multitude, nor with tu-

22 Aud when Felix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them and said, When Lysias the chiefe captaine shall come downe. I will know the vttermost of your matter.

23 And he commanded a Centurion to keepe Paul, and to let him have libertie, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister, or come vnto him.

24 And after certaine dayes, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla. which was a lew, he sent for Paul, and heard him cocerning the faith in Christ.

25 And as he reasoned of righteousnesse, temperance, and judgement to come, Felix trembled and answered, Go thy way for this time, when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that money should haue bene giuen him of Paul, that hee might loose him : wherefore hee sent for him the oftner, and comuned with him.

27 But after two veeres, Portius Festus came into Felix roome; and Felix willing to shew the Iewes a pleasure, left Paul bound.

CHAP. XXV.

2 The lewes accuse Paul before Festus. 8 Heanswereth for himselfe, 1! and appealeth vnto Cesar. 14 Afterwards, Festus openeth his matter to king Agryppa, 23 and he is brought forth. 25 Festus cleareth him to have done nothing worthy of death.

Owe when Festus was come into the prouince, after three dayes he ascended fro Cesarea to Hierusalem. 2 Then the high Priest, and the chiefe of the lewes informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 And desired favour against him. that he would send for him to Hierusalem, laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that hee himselfe would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go downe with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickednesse in him.

6 And when hee had taried among them || more then ten dayes, hee went | Or, as some downe vnto Cesarea, and the next day of more then sitting in the judgement seat, comman gift or ien ded Paul to be brought.

7 And when hee was come, the lewes which came downe from Hierusalem, stood round about, and laide many and grieuous complaints against Paul, which they could not proue,

8 While hee answered for himselfe. Neither against the law of the lewes. neither against the Temple, nor vet against Cesar, haue I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus willing to doe the lewes a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou goe vp to Hierusalem, and there be judged of these things be-

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesars judgement seat, where I ought to bee judged; to the lewes have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die : but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliuer me vnto them. I appeale vnto Cesar.

12 Then Festus when he had conferred with the Councill, answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine dayes, king Agripps and Bernice, came vnto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And when they had beene there many dayes, Festus declared Pauls cause vnto the king, saying, There is a certaine man left in bonds by Felix:

King Agrippa

15 About whom when I was at Hierusalem, the chiefe Priests and the Elders of the lewes enformed me, desiring to haue judgement against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the maner of the Romanes to deliuer any man to die, before that he which is accused, have the accusers face to face, and have licence to answere for himselfe concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without any delay, on the morrow I sate on the judgement seate, and comanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood vp, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:
19 But had certaine questions against him of their owne superstition, and of one Iesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aline.

22 Then Agrippa said vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morrow, said he, thou shalt heare

23 And on the morrow when Agrippa was come and Bernice, with great pompe, and was entred into the place of hearing, with the chiefe captaines, and principall men of the citie; at Festus commaundement Paul was brought 24 And Festus said, King Agripps, and all men which are heere present with vs, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Iewes haue dealt with me, both at Hierusalem, and also heere, crying that he ought not to line any longer.

25 But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and that he himselfe hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him. 26 Of whom I have no certaine thing to write vnto my Lord : Wherefore I have brought him foorth before you, and apenially before thee, O king Agripps, that after examination had,

CHAP. XXVI.

2 Paul, in the presence of Agrippa, declareth his lifefrom his childhood, 12 and howmira-culously he was converted, and called to his Apostleship. 24 Festus charged him to be mad, whereunto he answereth modestly. 28 Agrippe is almost perswaded to be a christi-an Si The whole company pronounce him innocent.

Hen Agrippa said vnto Paul, Thou art permit-ted to speake for thy selfe. Then Paul stretched foorth the hand, and answered for himselfe, 2 I thinke my selfe happy, king A. grippa, because I shall answere for my selfe this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

16 But rise, and stand vpon thy feete, for I have appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witnesse, both of these things which thou hast seene, & of those things in the which I will appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee,

18 To open their eyes, and to turne them from darknesse to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receive forginenesse of sinnes, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heavenly vision:

20 But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Hierusalem, and thorowout all the coasts of Iudea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turne to God, and do works meete for repentance.

21 For these causes the lewes caught mee in the Temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Hauing therefore obteined helpe of God, I continue vnto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things then those which the Prophets and Moses did say should come :

23' That Christ should suffer, and that hee should be the first that should rise from the dead, & should shew light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as hee thus spake for himselfe, Festus saide with a lowd voyce, Paul, thou art beside thy selfe, much lcarning doeth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus, but speake foorth the words of trueth and sobernesse.

26 For the King knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake freely : for I am perswaded, that none of these things are hidden from him, for this thing was not done in a corner.

31 And when they were gone aside, they talked betweene themselues, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death, or of bonds.

3 And the next day wee touched at Sidon : And Iulius courteously entreated Paul, and gaue him libertie to goe vnto his friends to refresh himselfe.

11 Neuerthelesse, the Centurion beleeued the master and the owner of the shippe, more then those things which were spoken by l'aul.

12 And because the hauen was not commodious to winter in, the more part aduised to depart thence also, if by any meanes they might attaine to Phenice, and there to winter; which is an hauen of Creete, and lieth toward the Southwest, and Northwest.

25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheere: for I beleeue God, that it shall be euen as it was tolde me.

26 Howbeit, we must be cast vpon a certaine Iland.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as wee were driven vp and downe in Adria about midnight, the shipmen deemed that they drew neere to some countrey:

28 And sounded, and found it twentie fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded againe, and found it fifteene fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest we should have fallen vpon rockes, they cast foure ancres out of the sterne, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let downe the boat into the sea, vnder colour as though they would have cast ancres out of the fore-ship, 31 Paul said to the Centurion, and to the souldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saued.

32 Then the souldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 And while the day was comming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have taried, and continued fasting, having taken nothing.

34 Wherefore, I pray you to take some meat, for this is for your health : for there shall not an haire fall from the head of any of you.

38 And when they had eaten enough they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the land : but they discouered a certaine creek, with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had || taken vp the ankers, they committed themselues ento the sea, & loosed the rudder bands, and hoised up the maine saile to the winde, and made toward shore.

41 And falling into a place where two seas met, they ranne the shippe a ground, and the forepart stucke fast, and remained vnmoueable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.

42 And the souldiers counsel was to kil the prisoners, lest any of them should swimme out, and escape.

43 But the Centurion, willing to saue Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commanded that they which could swimme, should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land:

44 And the rest, some on boords, and some on broken pieces of the ship : and so it came to passe that they escaped all safe to land.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Paul, after his ship wracke is kindly entertained of the Barbarians. 5 The viper on his hand hurteth him not. 8 He healeth many diseases in the Iland. 11 They depart towards Rome. 17 Hee declareth to the Iewes the cause of his comming. 14 After his preaching some were perswaded, and some beleeued not. 30 Yet he preacheth there two yeeres.

Nd when they were escaped, then they knew that the Iland was called Y Melita.

2 And the barbarous people shewed vs no little kindnesse : for they kindled a fire, and received vs euery one because of the present raine, and because of the cold.

5 And hee shooke off the beast into the fire, and felt no harme.

6 Howbeit, they looked when hee should have swollen, or fallen downe dead suddenly : but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harme come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a God.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chiefe man of the Iland, whose name was Puhlins, who receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes courteously.

8 And it came to passe that the father of Publius lay sicke of a feuer, and of a bloody-flixe, to whom Paul entred in, and prayed, and layed his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, others also which had diseases in the Iland, came, and were healed:

11 And after three moneths wee departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the Ile, whose signe was Castor and Pollux.

12 And landing at Syracuse wee taried there three dayes.

13 And from thence wee fet a compasse, and came to Rhegium, and after one day the South winde blew, and we came the next day to Puteoli:

14 Where wee found brethren, and were desired to tary with them seuen dayes: and so we went toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meet vs as farre as Appli forum, and the three Tauernes: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and tooke courage.

16 And when we came to Rome, the Centurion delivered the prisoners to the Captaine of the guard : but Paul was suffered to dwell by himselfe, with a souldier that kept him.

17 And it came to passe, that after three dayes, Paul called the chiefe of the Ifraels hope.

19 But when the Iewes spake a gainst it, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore haue I called for you, to see you, and to speake with you: because that for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chaine.

21 And they saide vnto him, Wee neither received letters out of Iudea concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came, shewed or spake any harme of thee.

22 But we desire to heare of thee what thou thinkest : for as concerning this sect, we know that enery where it is spoken against. 23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging, to whom he expounded and testified the kingdome of God, perswading them concerning Iesus, both out of the law of Moses, and out of the Prophets, from morning till evening.

EPISTLE OF PAVL THE

Apostle to the Romanes.

CHAP. I.

Paul commendeth his calling to the Romanes, 9 and his desire to come to them. 16 What his Gospel is, and the righteousnesse which it sheweth. 18 God is angry with all maner of sin. 2t What were the sinnes of the Gentiles.

▲ AVL uant sus Christ, cal. to bee an Apostle. parated vnto the Gospel of

he had promi-sed afore by his Prophets in the holy Scriptures.)

3 Concerning his Sonne Iesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of Dauid according to the flesh,

4 And †declared to be the Sonne of God, with power, according to the Spirit of holinesse, by the resurrection from the dead.

5 By whom we have received grace and Apostleship | for obedience to the faith among all nations for his Name,

6 Among whom are ye also the called of lesus Christ.

7 To all that be in Rome, beloued of God, called to be Saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Iesus Christ.

8 First I thanke my God through Iesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole

9 For God is my witnesse, whom I serue | with my spirit in the Gospel of his Sonne, that without ceasing 1 make mention of you, alwayes in my

10 Making request, (if by any meanes now at length I might haue a prosperous iourney by the will of God) to come vnto vou.

11 For I long to see you, that I may impart vnto you some spirituall gift, to the end you may be established,

12 That is, that I may be comforted together | with you, by the mutual faith lor. in you, both of you and me.

13 Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come vnto you, (but was let hitherto) that I might have some fruit lamong you also, even as among other 10, in you. Gentiles

14 I am debter both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians, both to the wise, and to the vnwise.

15 So, as much as in mee is, I am ready to preach the Gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gopel of Christ : for it is the power of God vnto saluation, to euery one that beleeueth, to the lew first, and also to the Greeke.

17 For therein is the righteousnesse of God reueiled from faith to faith : as it is written, * The just shall live by faith. Absc. z. 4.

18 For the wrath of God is reueiled from heauen against all vngodlinesse, and vnrighteousnesse of men, who hold the trueth in vnrighteousnesse.

19 Because that which may bee knowen of God, is manifest in ||them, tor, to for God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For the inuisible things of him from the Creation of the world, are clearely seene, being understood by the things that are made, euen his eternal! Power and Godhead, || so that they are 10r, that without excuse:

in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened:

22 Professing themselves to be wise,

they became fooles:

23 And changed the glory of the vncorruptible #God, into an image made like to corruptible man, and to hirdes, and foure footed beasts, and creeping

24 Wherefore God also gave them vp to vncleannesse, through the lusts of their owne hearts, to dishonour their owne bodies betweene themselues:

25 Who changed the trueth of God into a lye, and worshipped and serued the creature more then the Creatour, who is blessed for euer. Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them. vp vnto vile affections : for euen their women did change the naturall vse into that which is against nature:

27 And likewise also the men, leauing the naturall vse of the woman, burned in their lust one towards another, men with men working that which is vaseemely, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their erronr which was meet.

28 And even as they did not like to retaine God in their knowledge, God gaue them ouer to ||a reprobate minde, to doe those things which are not con-euill things, disobedient to parents;

32 Who knowing the judgement of God, (that they which commit such things, are worthy of death) not onely do the same, but || have pleasure in them that doe them.

CHAP. II.

They that sinne, though they condemne it in others, cannot excuse themselves, 6 and much lesse escape the judgement of God, 9 whether they be lewes or Gentiles. 14 The Gentiles cannot escape, 17 nor yet the lewes, 25 whom their Circumcision shall not profit, if they keepe not the Law.

Herefore, thou art inexcusable, U man, under the indeest:
for wherein thou indeest cusable, O man, whoseeanother, thou condemnest the thy selfe, for thou that judgest doest the same things. 2 But wee are sure that the judgement of God is according to trueth, against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which doe such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgement of God?

4 Or despisest thou the riches of his goodnesse, and forbearance, and long suffering, not knowing that the goodnes of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But after thy hardnesse, and impenitent heart, * treasurest vp vnto thy " Iames s selfe wrath, against the day of wrath, and reuelation of the righteous judgement of God:

21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? thou that preachest a man should not steale, doest thou steale?

22 Thou that savest a man should not commit adulterie, doest thou commit adulterie? thou that abhorrest idols, doest thou commit sacriledge?

23 Thou that makest thy boast of the Law, through breaking the Law dishonourest thou God?

24 For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles, through you, as it is written :

25 For Circumcision verily profiteth if thou keepe the Law : but if thou be a breaker of the Law, thy Circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore, if the vncircumcision keepe the righteousnesse of the Law, shall not his vncircumcision be counted for Circumcision?

27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfill the Law, judge thee, who by the letter, and Circumcision, doest transgresse the Law?

28 For hee is not a Iew, which is one outwardly, neither is that Circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:

29 But he is a Iew which is one inwardly, and Circumcision is, that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAP. III.

The lewes prerogative: 3 which they have not lost: 9 Howbeit the Law continceth them also of sinne: 20 Therefore no flesh is instifled by the Law, 28 but all, without difference, by faith onely: 31 And yet the Law is not abolished.

Hat advantage then hath the Iew? or what profit is there of Circumcision?

2 Much euery way: chiefly, because that vnto them were committed the Oracles of S For what if some did not believe? shall their vnbeliefe make the faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid : yea, let God be true, but every man a lier, as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy Peal 51.4 sayings, and mightest ouercome when thou art iudged.

5 But if our vnrighteousnesse commend the righteousnesse of God. what shall we say? is God vnrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I speake as a man)

6 God forbid : for then how shall God judge the world?

7 For if the trueth of God bath more abounded through my lye vnto his glory? why yet am I also judged as a sinter?

8 And not rather as wee be slanderously reported, and as some affirme that we say. Let vs doe cuill, that good may come : whose damnation is itist.

9 What then? are wee better then they? No in no wise : for we have before t proued both Iewes, and Gentiles, t Gr. charthat they are all vnder sinne,

10 As it is written. There is none righteous. no not one:

21 But

Iustification

21 But nowe the righteousnesse of God without the Lawe is manifested, being witnessed by the Lawe and the Prophets.

22 Eucu the righteousnesse of God, which is by faith of Iesus Christ vnto all, and vpon all them that beleeue : for there is no difference:

23 For all haue sinned, and come short of the glory of God, 24 Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Iesus Christ:

a Or, fore-ordensed.

25 Whom God hath || set forth to bee a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousnesse for or passes the ||remission of sinnes, that are past, through the forbearance of God.

26 To declare, I say, at this time his righteousnesse : that hee might bee just, and the justifier of him which beleeueth in Iesus.

27 Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what Law? Of works? Nay : but by the Law of faith.

28 Therefore wee conclude, that a man is justified by faith, without the deeds of the Law.

29 Is he the God of the Iewes only? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also:

30 Seeing it is one God which shall iustifie the circumcision by faith, and vncircumcision through faith.

31 Doe we then make void the lawe through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the Law.

CHAP. IIII.

Abrahams faith was imputed to him for righteousnesse, 10 before hee was circumcised.
13 By faith only he and his seed received the promise.
16 Abraham is the father of all that beleeue. 24 Our faith also shall be imputed to vs for righteousnes.

Hat shall we say then, that Abraham our father, as perteining to the flesh, hatb found?

2 For if Abraham were iustified by workes, hee hath whereof to glory, but not before God.

S For what saith the Scripture? Abraham beleeued God, and it was counted vnto him for righteousnes.

4 Now to him that worketh, is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.

Chap.iiij. | 5 But to him that worketh not, but beleeueth on him that iustifieth the vngodly; his faith is counted for righ-

by faith

6 Euen as Dauid also describeth the blessednesse of the man, vnto whom God imputeth righteousnesse without works:

7 Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiuen, and whose sinnes lare couered.

8 Blessed is the man to whome the Lord will not impute sinne.

9 Commeth this blessednes then vpon the circumcision onely, or voon the vncircumcision also? for wee say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousnesse.

10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in vncircumcision? not in circumcision, but in vncirenmeision.

11 And hee received the signe of circumcision, a seale of the righteousnesse of the faith, which hee had yet being vncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that beleeue, though they be not circumcised; that righteousnesse might be imputed vnto them also:

12 And the father of circumcision, to them who are not of the circumcision onely, but also walke in the steppes of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet vncircumcised.

13 For the promise that he should be the beire of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed through the Lawe, but through the righteousnesse of faith. 14 For if they which are of the law be beires, faith is made voide, and the promise made of none effect.

15 Because the law worketh wrath: for where no Lawe is, there is no transgression. 16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might bee by grace; to the ende the promise might be sure to all the seede, not to that onely which is of the Law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of vs all,

17 (As it is written, I have made Gen. 17. 8 thee a father of many nations) || before 107, sike vn. him whom he beleeved, even God who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which bee not, as though they

19 And being not weake in faith, hee considered not his owne body now dead, when hee was about an hundred vere old, neither yet the deadnes of Saraes wombe.

20 Hee staggered not at the promise of God through vnbeliefe : but was strong in faith, gining glory to God:

21 And being fully perswaded, that what he had promised, he was able also to performe.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousnesse.

28 Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him :

24 But for vs also, to whome it shall bee imputed, if wee beleeue on him that raised vp Iesus our Lord from the dead.

25 Who was deliuered for our offences, and was raised againe for our justification.

CHAP. V.

Being justified by faith, wee have peace with God, 9 and ioy in our hope, 8 that sith we ware reconciled by his blood, when wee were evenies, 10 wee shall much more be assed being reconciled. 19 As sinne and death came by Adam, 17 so much more righte-ousnesse and life by Icsus Christ. 20 Where sinne abounded, grace did superabound.

Herefore being instified by faith, wee hane peace with God, through Iesus Christ.

2 By whom also wee haue accesse by faith, into this grace wherein wee stand, and reloyce in hope of the glory of God.

3 And not onely so, but we glory in tribulations also, knowing that tribulation worketh patience:

4 And patience, experience : and experience, hope :

5 And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts, by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs.
6 For when wee were yet without strength, lin due time, Christ died for the vngodly.

7 For scarcely for a righteous man will one die : yet peradnenture for a good man, some would even dare to towards vs. in that, while we were vet ainners, Christ died for va.

9 Much more then being now justified by his blood, we shalbe saued from wrath through him.

10 For if when wee were enemies. we were reconciled to God, by the death of his sonne : much more being reconciled, we shalbe saued by his life.

11 And not onely so, but wee also ioy in God, through our Lorde Iesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement.

12 Wherefore, as by one man sinne entred into the world, and death by sin: and so death passed upon all men, || for | Or, issue that all have sinned.

13 For vntill the Law sinne was in the world : but sin is not imputed when there is no Law.

14 Neuertheles, death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adams transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come:

15 But not as the offence, so also is the free gift: for if through the offence of one, many bee dead : much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

16 And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift : for the judgement was by one to condemnation : but the free gift is of many offences vnto justification.

17 For if | by one mans offence, death 1 Or. by one raigued by one, much more they which ofence. receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteournes, shall reigne in life by one, Iesus Christ.

18 Therfore as || by the offence of one, | or, by one sudgment came vpon all men to condemnation: euen so by the || righteousnes of 10r. by one righteousnes one, the free gift came vpon all men vnto iustification of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience many were made sinners: so by the obedience of one, shall many bee made righteous.

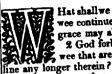

20 Moreouer, the Lawe entred, that the offence might abound: but where sinne abounded, grace did much 21 That as sinne hath reigned vnto death; euen so might grace reigne thorow righteousnes vnto eternall life, by Iesus Christ onr Lord.

CHAP. VI.

Wee may not liue in sinne, 2 for wee are dead vnto it, 3 as appeareth by our baptisme. 12 Let not sinne raigne any more, 18 because wee haue yeelded our selues to the service of rightsousnesse, 23 and for that death is the wages of sinne.

10r. ere.

Hat shall we say then? shall wee continue in sinne: that grace may abound?

2 God forbid: how shall wee that are dead to sinne,

3 Know ye not, that so many of vs as were baptised into Iesus Christ, were haptized into his death?

4 Therefore wee are buryed with him by baptisme into death, that like as Christ was raised vp from the dead by the glorie of the Father : euen so wee also should walke in newnesse of life.

5 For if we have bene planted together in the likenesse of his death : wee shalbe also in the likenesse of his resurrection:

6 Kuowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the bodie of sinne might bee destroyed, that hencefoorth we should not serue sinne.

7 For he that is dead, is + freed from Gr. justified

8 Now if we be dead with Christ, we beleeue that we shal also live with him:

9 Knowing that Christ being raysed from the dead, dieth no more, death hath no more dominion over bim.

10 For in that he dyed, he dyed ento sinne once : but in that hee liueth, hee liueth vnto God.

11 Likewise reckon yee also your selves to be dead indeed vnto sinne : but aliue vnto God, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sinne reigne therfore in your mortall body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13 Neither yeeld yee your members to sinne: but yeelde your selues vnto God, as those that are aliue from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousnesse vnto God.

14 For sinne shall not have dominion ouer you, for yee are not under the Law, but vnder Grace.

15 What then? shal we sinne, because wee are not vnder the Law, but vnder Grace? God forbid.

16 Know ye not, that to whom yee yeeld your selves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey : whether of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto righteousnesse?

17 But God bee thanked, that yee were the seruants of sinne : but ye haue obeyed from the heart that fourme of doctrine, twhich was deliuered tor.

19 I speake after the maner of men, because of the infirmitie of your flesh: for as yee haue yeelded your members servants to vncleannesse and to iniquitie, vnto iniquitie : euen so now yeelde your members seruants to righteousnesse, vnto holinesse.

20 For when yee were the seruants of sinne ye were free tfrom righteous | tGr. to right

21 What fruit had yee then in those things, whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death.

22 But now being made free from sinne, and become seruants to God, yee hane your fruit vnto holinesse, and the end euerlasting life.

23 For the wages of sinne is death : but the gift of God is eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VII.

No law bath power ouer a man, longer then hee liueth. 4 But wee are dead to the law. 7 Yet is not the law sinne, 12 but holy, just, good, 16 as I acknowledge, who am grieued because I cannot keepe it.

Now ye not, hrethren (for I speake to them that knowe the Lawe) how that the Lawe hath dominion ouer a man, as long as he liueth? 2 For the woman which hath an husbaud, is bound by the law to her husband, so long as he liueth: but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of the husband.

3 So then if while her husband liueth, shee be married to another man, sbee shalbe called an adulteresse : but if her husband be dead, shee is free from that law, so that she is no adulteresse, though she be married to another man. 4 Where-more then conquerours, through him that loued vs.

38 For I am perswaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39 Nor beight, nor depth, nor any other creature, shalbe able to separate vs from the love of God, which is in Christ lesus our Lord.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sinne : but the spirit is life, because of righteousnesse. 11 But if the spirit of him that raised vp Iesus from the dead, dwell in you: he that raised vp Christ from the dead, shall also quicken your mortall bodies, ior, because by his spirit that dwelleth in you. 12 Therfore brethren, we are detters not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13 Forif ye liue after the flesh, ye shall die : but if ye through the spirit doe mortifie the deeds of the body, ye shall liue. 14 For as many as are led by the spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God. 15 For ye haue not received the spirit of bondage againe to feare ; but ye haue received the spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, father. 16 The spirit it selfe beareth witnes

17 And if children, then heires, heires of God, and joynt heires with Christ : if so be that we suffer with him, that wee may be also glorified together. 18 For I reckon, that the sufferings of this present time, are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be reuealed in vs.

19 For the earnest expectation of the creature, waiteth for the manifestation of the sonnes of God.

20 For the creature was made subiect to vanitie, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope:

1 Gods mercies must moose vs to please God.
3 No man must thinke too well of himselfe,
6 But attend eneric one, on that calling, wherein he is placed. 9 Loue, and many other dueties are required of vs. 19 Renenge is specially forbidden.

Beseech you therefore brethren, by the mercies of God, that yee present your bodies a liuing sacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, which is your reasonable seruice.

2 And bee not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renuing of your minde, that ye may proue what is that good, that acceptable and perfect will of God.

3 For I say, through the grace giuen vnto mee, to euery man that is among you, not to thinke of himselfe more highly then hee ought to thinke, but to thinke † soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.

4 For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office:

5 So we being many are one bodie in Christ, and every one members one of another.

6 Haning theu gifts, differing according to the grace that is given to vs. whether prophecie, let vs prophecie according to the proportion of faith.

CHAP. XIII.

Subjection, and many other ducties wee owe to the Magistrates. 8 Love is the fulfilling of the Law. 11 Gluttonic and drunkennes, and the worken of darkenesse, are out of season in the time of the Gospel.

Et euery soule bee subiect vnto the higher powers:
For there is no power but of God. The powers that be, are || ordeined of God.

2 Whosoeuer therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist, shall receive to themselues damnation.

S For rulers are not a terrour to good works, but to the euill. Wilt thou then not bee afraide of the power? doe that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same.

4 For hee is the minister of God to thee for good : but if thou do that which is enill, be afraid : for he beareth not the sword in vaine: for he is the minister of God, a reuenger to execute wrath vpon him that doeth cuill.

5 Wherfore ye must needs be subject, not onely for wrath, but also for conscience sake

6 For, for this cause pay you tribute lalso: for they are Gods ministers, attending continually vpon this very thing. 7 Render therfore to all their dues, tribute to whom tribute is due, custome to whome custome, feare to whome feare, honour to whom honour.

8 Owe no man any thing, but to loue one another : for hee that loueth another hath fulfilled the Law.

9 For this, Thou shalt not commit adulterie, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witnesse. Thou shalt not couet : and if there be any other commandement, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

10 Loue worketh no ill to his neighbour, therefore loue is the fulfilling of the Law.

11 And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleepe: for now is our saluation neerer then when we beleeved.

12 The night is farre spent, the day is at hand : let vs therefore cast off the workes of darkenesse, and let vs put on the armour of light. 1 Or, decent.

14 But put yee on the Lord Iesus Christ, and make not prouision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof.

CHAP. XIIII.

Men may not contemne nor condemne one the other for things indifferent: 13 But take heed that they give no offence in them: 15 For that the Apostle producth valawfull by many reasons.

7 For none of vs liueth to himselfe. and no man dieth to himselfe.

8 For whether we live, we live vnto the Lord : and whether wee die, we die vnto the Lord : whether wee live therefore or die, we are the Lords.

9 For to this ende Christ both died. and rose, and revived, that hee might be Lord both of the dead and living.

11 For it is written, *As I liue, saith the Lord, euery knee shall bow to mee, and euery tongue shall confesse to God.

12 So then every one of vs shall give accompt of himselfe to God.

13 Let vs not therefore judge one another any more : but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling blocke, or an occasion to fall in his brothers way.

39 The wife is bound by the Lawe as long as her husband liueth : but if her husband bee dead, shee is at liberty to bee maried to whom shee will, onely in the Lord.

15 But if a woman haue long haire, it is a shame vnto him?

18 For first of all when yee come together in the Church, I heare that there be || divisions among you, and I partly beleeue it.

19 For there must bee also || heresies among you, that they which are approucd may be made manifest among you.

20 When yee come together therefor we can force into one place, this is | not to eate the Lords Supper.

21 For in cating, every one taketh before other, his owne supper : and one is hungry, and an other is drunken.

22 What, have ye not houses to eate and to drinke in? Or despise yee the Church of God, and shame ||them that haue not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I prayse you not.

23 For I have received of the Lord that which also I deliuered voto you. that the Lord Iesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, tooke bread:

27 Wherefore, whosoener shall eate this bread, and drinke this cup of the Lord vnworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

Spirituall gifts 4 are divers, 7 yet all to profit withall. 8 And to that ende, are diversly bestowed: 12 That by the like proportion, as the members of a natural body, tend all to the 16 mutuall decency, 22 service, and 26 succour of the same body; 27 so wee should doe one for another, to make vp the mysticall body of Christ.

Ow concerning spirituall giftes, brethren, I would not haue you ignorant.

2 Yee know that yee were Gentiles, caryed away vnto these dumbe idoles, euen as ve were led.

3 Wherefore I giue you to vnderstand, that no man speaking by the spirit of God, calleth Iesus || accursed : and | Or. Anathat no man can say that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost.

4 Nowe there are diversities of gifts, but the same spirit.

5 And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord.

Spirituall gifts.

Chap.xiii.

Charitie praised.

6 And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God, which worketh all in all.

7 But the manifestation of the spirit, is given to every man to profit with-

8 For to one is given by the spirit, the word of wisedome, to another the word of knowledge, by the same spirit.

9 To another faith, by the same spirit : to another the gifts of healing, hy the same spirit :

10 To another the working of miracles, to another prophecie, to another discerning of spirits, to another divers kindes of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues.

11 But all these worketh that one and the selfe same spirit, dividing to eue-ry man seuerally as he will. 12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the membrs of that one body, being many, are one bodie : so also is Christ.

13 For by one spirit are we all haptized into one bodie, whether wee bee Iewes or +Gentiles, whether wee bee bond or free : and have beene all made to drinke into one spirit.

14 For the body is not one member,

15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the eare shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body : is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath God set the members, eucry one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now are they many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot say vnto the hand. I have no need of thee : nor againe, the head to the feete, I have no neede of you.

22 Nay, much more those members of the bodie, which seeme to bee more feeble, are necessary.

23 And those members of the bodie, which wee thinke to bee lesse honourable, vpon these we || bestow more abundant honour, and our vncomely parts haue more ahundant comelinesse. 24 For our coinely parts have no need : but God hath tempered the bodie together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:

25 That there should be no ||schisme in | 0r, divithe body : but that the members should haue the same care one for another.

26 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it : or one member be honoured, all the members reloyce with it.

27 Now yee are the body of Christ, and members in particular.

28 And God hath set some in the Church, first Apostles, secondarily Prophets, thirdly Teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helpes in gouernmets, ||diuersities of tongues.|2 Or, kinds.

3 And though I bestowe all my goods to feede the poore, and though I giue my body to bee burned, and haue not charitie, it profiteth me nothing.

8 Charitie neuer faileth : but whether there be prophesies, they shall faile; whether there bee tongues, they shall cease; whether there bee knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9 For we know in part, and we prophesie in part.

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part, shalbe done away.

11 When I was a childe, I spake as a childe. I vnderstood as a childe. I Ithought as a childe; but when I became a man, I put away childish 12 For now we see through a glasse, tdarkely : but then face to face : now I know in part, but then shall I know euen as also I am knowen.

13 And now abideth faith, hope, charitie, these three, but the greatest of these is charitie.

CHAP. XIIII.

Prophecie is commended, 2. 3. 4 and preferred before speaking with tongues, 6 by a comparison drawen from musicall instruments. 12 Both must bee referred to edification, 22 as to their true and proper end. 26 The true vse of each is taught, 27 and the abuse taxed. 34 Women are forbidden to speake in the Church.

Ollow after charitie, and Ollow after charitie, and desire spirituall giftes, but rather that yee may prophesie.

2 For he that speaketh in an unknowen tongue, speaketh not vn-Gr. heareth to men, but vnto God : for no man + vnderstandeth him : howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3 But he that prophesieth, speaketh vnto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh in an unknowen tongue, edifieth himselfe: but hee that prophesieth, edifieth the Church.

5 I would that yee all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is hee that prophesieth, then hee that speaketh with tongues, except hee interprete, that the Church may receine edifying.

6 Now brethren, if I come vnto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speake to you either by reuelation, or by know-

7 And even things without life giuing sound, whether pipe or harpe, except they give a distinction in the llsounds, how shall it be knowen what 10r. tunes. is piped or harped?

9 So likewise you, except ye vtter by the tongue words teasie to be vnder-tant stood, how shall it be knowen what is spoken? for ye shall speake into the aire.

10 There are, it may bee, so many kindes of voices in the world, and none of them are without signification.

11 Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voyce, I shall bee vnto him that speaketh, a Barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a Barbarian vnto mee.

12 Euen so ye, forasmuch as yee are zealous tof spirituall gifts, seeke that yee t Gr. of spi-may excell to the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore let him that speaketh n an unknowen tongue, pray that he may 14 For if I pray in an unknowen tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my vnderstanding is vnfruitfull.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and wil pray with understanding also : I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the vnderstanding also.

16 Else, when thou shalt blesse with the spirit, how shall hee that occupieth the roome of the vulcarned, say Amen at thy giving of thankes, seeing he vnderstandeth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verily givest thankes well: but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake with tongues more then you all.

19 Yet in the Church I had rather speake fine words with my vnderstanding, that by my voyce I might teach others also, then ten thousand words in an vnknowen tongue.

23 If therefore the whole Church be come together into some place, and all speake with tongues, & there come in those that are vnlearned, or vnbeleeuers, will they not say that ye are mad?

24 But if all prophesie, and there come in one that beleeueth not, or one vnlearned: he is conuinced of all, he is judged of all.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Church, and let him speake to himselfe, and to God. 29 Let the Prophets speake two or three, and let the other judge. 30 If any thing be reueiled to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace. 31 For yee may all prophesie one by one, that all may learne, and all may be comforted.

32 And the spirits of the Prophets are subject to the Prophets.

38 For God is not the authour of + con-Gr. tumult, fusion, but of peace, as in all Churches of the Saints.

34 Let your women keepe silence in the Churches, for it is not permitted vnto them to speake; but they are commanded to bee vnder obedience : as also

Gen. 3. 16. saith the Law. 35 And if they will learne any thing, let them aske their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speake in the Church.

36 What? came the word of God out from you? or came it vnto you onely?

37 If any man thinke himselfe to be a Prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge, that the things that I write vnto you, are the commandements of the Lord.

38 But if any man bee ignorant, let him be ignorant.

4 And that he was buried, and that he rose againe the third day according to the Scriptures.

5 And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the twelue.

5 And that hee was seene of aboue fine hundred brethren at once : of whom the greater part remaine vnto this present, but some are fallen asleepe.

7 After that, he was seen of Iames. then of all the Apostles.

8 And last of all he was seene of me also, as of tone borne out of due time.

9 For I am the least of the Apostles, that am not meet to be called an Apostle because I persecuted y Church of God

10 But by the grace of God I am what I am : and his grace which was bestowed vpo me, was not in vaine : But I laboured more abundantly then they all, yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me:

11 Therefore, whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye beleeved.

12 Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some a mong you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen.

14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and your faith is also vaine:

25 For he must reigne, till hee hath put all enemies vnder his feete.

26 The last enemie that shall be destroved, is death.

27 For he hath put all things vnder his feete; but when hee saith all things are put vnder him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things vnder him.

28 And when all things shall bee subclued vnto him, then shal the Sonne also himselfe bee subject vnto him that put all things vnder him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shal they do, which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all, why are they then baptized for the dead?

36 Thou foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened except it die

37 And that which thou sowest. thou sowest not that body that shall be. but bare graine, it may chance of wheate, or of some other graine.

38 But God giueth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his owne body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also celestiall bodies, and bodies terrestriall : But the glorie of the celestiall is one, and the glorie of the terrestriall is another.

41 There is one glory of the sunne, another of the moone, and another glorie of the starres : for one starre differeth from another starre in glorie.

42 So also is the resurrection of the dead, it is sowen in corruption, it is raised in incorruption.

43 It is sowen in dishonour, it is raysed in glorie: it is sowen in weakenesse, it is raysed in power:

44 It is sowen a naturall body, it is raised a spirituall bodie. There is a naturall bodie, and there is a spirituall

45 And so it is written: The first man Adam was made a liuing soule, the last Adam was made a quickening

46 Howbeit that was not first which is spirituall : but that which is naturall, and afterward that which is spirituall.

47 The first man is of the earth, earthy: The second man is the Lord from heaven.

48 As is the earthy, such are they that are earthy, and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, wee shall also beare the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh & blood cannot inherite the kingdome of God : neither doth corruption inherite incorruption.

THE SECOND EPISTLE

of Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

CHAP. I.

The Apostle incourageth them against troubles, by the comforts and deliverances which God had given him, as in all his afflictions. 8 so particularly in his late danger in Asia. 12 And calling both his owne conscience, and theirs to witnesse, of his sincere maner of preaching the immutable trueth of the Gospel, 15 liee excuseth his not comming to them, as proceeding not of lightnesse, but of his lenitie towards them.

ည Aul an Apostle of lesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothie our brother, vnto the Church of God, which is at Corinth, with all the Saints, which are in all Achaia:

2 Grace bee to you and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Ie-

3 Blessed be God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort,

4 Who comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort, wherewith we our selves are comforted of God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound in vs. so our consolation also a-boundeth by Christ.

6 And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and saluation, which is ||effectuall in the enduring of the same sufferings, which wee also suffer : or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation, and saluation.

7 And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing, that as you are partakers of the sufferings, so shall yee be also of the consolatiou.

8 For we would not, brethren, haue you ignorant of our trouble which came to vs in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, aboue strength, in so much that we dispaired even of life.

9 But we had the || sentence of death | or, anin our selves, that we should not trust swere. in our selves, but in God which raiseth the dead.

10 Who deliuered vs from so great a death, and doeth deliuer : in whom we trust that he will yet deliuer vs :

11 You also helping together by prayer for vs, that for the gift bestowed vpon vs by the meanes of many persons, thankes may bee given by many on our behalfe.

12 For our rejoycing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicitie and godly sinceritie, not with fleshly wisedome, but by the grace of God, wee have had our conversation in the world, and more aboundantly to you-

13 For we write none other things vnto you, then what you reade or acknowledge, and I trust you shall acknowledge euen to the end.

14 As also you have acknowledged vs in part, that we are your rejoycing, euen as ye also are ours, in the day of the Lord Iesus.

15 And in this confidence I was minded to come vnto you before, that you might haue a second || benefit : Or. grace.

16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and of you to bee brought on my way toward Iudea.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I vse lightnesse? or the things that I purpose, doe I purpose according to the flesh, that with mee there should be yea yea, and nay nay?

Hauing shewed the reason why he came not to them, 6 Hee requireth them to forgiue and to comfort that excommunicated person, 10 Euen as himselfe also vpon his true repentance had forgiuen him, 12 declaring repentance nan torgitten min, az uccaring withall why hee departed from Troas to Ma-cedonia, 14 and the happy successe which God gaue to his preaching in all places.

¥ Vt I determined this with my selfe, that I would not come againe to you in heauinesse. 2 For if I make you sorie, who is hee then that maketh mee glad, but the same which is made sorie

3 And I wrote this same vnto you, least when I came, I should haue sor row from them of whome I ought to reioyce, having confidence in you all, that my toy is the toy of you all.

4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart, I wrote vnto you with many teares, not that you should bee grieued, but that yee might knowe the loue which I have more abundantly

5 But if any haue caused griefe, hee hath not grieued mee, but in part : that I may not ouercharge you all.

10r, censure 6 Sufficient to such a man is this || punishment, which was inflicted of many.

14 Now thankes bee vnto God, which alwayes causeth vs to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery

15 For wee are vnto God, a sweet sanour of Christ, in them that are saucd, and in them that perish.

16 To the one wee are the sauour of death vnto death; and to the other, the sauour of life vnto life : and who is sufficient for these things?

17 For wee are not as many which Corrupt the word of God : but as of 10r, deals sinceritie, but as of God, in the sight of with. God speake we in Christ.

CHAP. III.

Lest their false teachers should charge him with vaineglory, hee sheweth the faith and graces of the Corinthians, to bee a sufficient commendation of his ministerie. 6 Whereupon entring a comparison betweene the ministers of the Law & of the Gospel, 12 he proueth that his ministerie is so far the more excellent, as the Gospel of life and libertie is more glorious then the law of condemnation.

Oe wee begin againe to commend our selues? or need wee, as some others, Epistles of commendati-en to you, or letters of comon to you, or letters of commendation from you?

4 And such trust haue wee through Christ to Godward:

5 Not that wee are sufficient of our selues to thinke any thing as of our selves : but our sufficiencie is of God :

6 Who also hath made vs able ministers of the New Testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit : for the letter killeth, but the spirit || giueth life.

8 How shall not the ministration of the spirit, be rather glorious?

9 For if the ministration of condemnation bee glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousnesse exceed in glorie.

10 For euen that which was made glorious, had no glorie in this respect hy reason of the glorie that excelleth.

II For if that which is done away, was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12 Seeing then that wee haue such 10r, tolines hope, we vse great || plainnesse of speech.

13 And not as Moses, which put a vaile ouer his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly looke to the end of that which is abolished:

14 But their mindes were blinded: for votill this day remaineth the same vaile vntaken away, in the reading of the old testament : which vaile is done away in Christ.

CHAP. IIII.

I He declareth how hee hath vsed all synceritie and faithfull diligence in preaching the Go-spel, 7 and bow the troubles and persecu-tions which he dayly indured for the same, did redound to the praise of Gods power, 12 to the benefit of the Church, 16 and to the Apostles owne eternall glory.

Herefore, seeing we have this ministery, as we have received mercie wee faint not:

3 But if our Gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost:

4 In whom the God of this world bath blinded the minds of them which beleeue not, lest the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine vnto them.

5 For we preach not our selues, but Christ Iesus the Lord, and our selues your seruants for Iesus sake.

6 For God who commaunded the light to shine out of darkenes, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Iesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of the power may be of God, and not of vs.

8 Wee are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despaire, 9 Persecuted, but not forsaken; without help cast downe, but not destroyed.

Hee proceedeth in exhorting them to puritie of life, 2 and to beare him like affection as hee doeth to them. 3 Whereof, lest hee might seeme to doubt, liee declareth what comfort he tooke in his afflictions, by the report which Titus gave of their godly sorrow. which his former Epistle had wrought in them, 13 and of their louing kindnes and obedience towards Titus, answerable to his former hoastings of them.

Auing therefore these pro-mises (dearely beloued) let vs cleanse our selues from all filthines of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holinesse

CHAP. VIII.

He stirreth them vp to a liberall contribution for the poore Saints at Ierusalem, by the example of the Macedonians, 7 by commendation of their former forwardnesse, 9 by the example of Christ, 14 and by the spiri-tuall profit that shall redound to themselues thereby: 16 Commending to them the integritie and willingnesse of Titus, and those other brethren, who vpon his request, exhortation and commendation, were purposely come to them for this businesse.

Oreouer, brethren, wee do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the Churches of Macedonia, 2 How that in a great trial of affliction, the abundance of their ioy, and their deepe pouertie, abounded vnto the riches of their liberalitie.

7 Therefore (as ye abound in euery thing, in faith, and vtterance, & knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue to vs) see that yee abound in this grace also.

24 Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the Churches, the proofe of your loue, & of our boasting on your behalfe.

CHAP. IX.

Hee yeeldeth the reason why, though hee knewe their forwardnesse, yet hee sent Titus and his brethren before hand. 6 And hee proceedeth in stirring them vp to a bountifull almes, as being but a kind of sowing of seed, 10 which shall returne a great increase to them, 13 and occasion a great sacrifice of thanksgivings vnto God.

Or as touching the mini-Or as touching the mini-string to the Saints, it is superfluous for mee to write to you.

For commending of his Apostleship, though he might glory of his wonderfull revelations. 9 Yet hee rather chuseth to glory of his in-firmities, 11 blaming them for forcing him to this vaine boasting. 14 Hee promiseth to come to them againe: but yet altogether in the affection of a father, 10 although hee feareth he shall to his griefe finde many offenders, and publike disorders there.

T is not expedient for me, doubtlesse, to glory, I wil come to visions and reue-lations of the Lord. 2 I knewe a man in Christ aboue fourteene yeeres agoe, whether in the body, I cannot tell, or whether out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth : such a one, caught vp to the third heaven.

3 And I knew such a man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth.)

7 And least I should bee exalted aboue measure through the abundance of the reuelations, there was given to me a * thorne in the flesh, the messenger of Sathan to huffet me, lest I should be exalted aboue measure.

8 For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from 9 And he said vnto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weaknes. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest vpon me.

10 Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christes sake: for when I am weake, then am

I strong. 11 I am become a foole in glorying, ye haue compelled me. For I ought to haue beene commended of you: for in nothing am I behinde the very chiefest Apostles, though I be nothing.

12 Truely the signes of an Apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signes and wonders, and mighrie deeds.

13 For what is it wherein yee were inferior to other Churches, except it bee that I my selfe was not burthensome to you? forgiue me this wrong.

14 Behold, the third time I am readie to come to you, and I will not bee burthensome to you; for I seeke not yours, but you : for the children ought not to lay vp for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15 And I wil very gladly spend and bee spent for + you, though the more abundantly I loue you, the lesse I bee loued.

16 But be it so : I did not burthen you: neuerthelesse beeing craftie, caught you with guile.

17 Did I make a gaine of you by any of them, whom I sent vnto you?

18 I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother: did Titus make a gaine of you? Walked wee not in the same spirit? walked wee not in the same steps?

19 Againe, thinke you that we excuse our selues vnto you? wee speake before God in Christ: but wee doe all things,

20 For I feare lest when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that I shall bee found vnto you such as ye would not, lest there bee debates, enuyings, wraths, strifes, backebitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults, 21 And least when I come againe, my God will humble mee among you, and that I shall bewaile many which haue sinned alreadie, and haue not repented of the vncleannesse, and fornieation, and lasciniousnesse which they have committed.

CHAP. XIII.

He threatneth severitie, and the power of his Apostleship against obstinate sinners. 3 And aduising them to a triall of their faith, 7 and to a reformation of their sinnes before his comming, 11 He concludeth his Epistle with a generall exhortation and a prayer.

His is the third time I am comming to you: in the mouth of two or three witnesses shal euery word be established.

2 I told you before, and foretell you as if I were present the second time, and being absent, now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that if I come againe I will not

3 Siuce ye seeke a proofe of Christ, speaking in me, which to you-ward is not weake, but is mightie in you.

4 For though hee was crucified through weaknesse, yet he liueth by the power of God : for wee also are weake fin him, but wee shall live with him by or, with the power of God toward you.

5 Examine your selues, whether ye be in the faith: proue your owne selues. Know yee not your owne selues, how that Iesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

6 But I trust that yee shall knowe that we are not reprobates.

7 Now I pray to God, that ye doe no euill, not that we should appeare approued, but that ye should doe v which is honest, though we be as reprobates.

8 For wee can doe nothing against the trueth, but for the trueth.

Paul to the Galatians.

CHAP. L.

6 He wondereth that they have so mone left him, and the Gospel, 8 And accuracth those that preach any other Gospel then hee did. 11 He learned the Gospel not of men, but of God: 14 And sheweth what he was before his calling, 17 and what he did presently after it.

Aul an Apostle, not of men, neither by man, but by Iesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him fro the dead, 2 And all the brethren which are with mee, vnto the Churches of Galatia : 3 Grace bee to you and peace, from God the Father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ.

4 Who gave himselfe for our sinnes, that he might deliuer vs from this present euill world, according to the will of God, and our Father,

5 To whom bee glorie for euer and euer, Amen.

6 I marueile, that you are so soone remoued from him, that called you into the grace of Christ, vnto an other Gospel:

7 Which is not another; but there bee some that trouble you, and would peruert the Gospel of Christ.

8 But though we, or an Angel from heauen, preach anyother Gospel vnto you, then that which wee haue preached vnto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now againe. If any man preach any other Gospel vnto you, then that yee have receiued, let him be accursed.

10 For doe I now perswade men, or God? or doe I seeke to please men? For if I yet pleased men, I should not bee the seruant of Christ.

11 But I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of me, is not after man.

12 For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the reuelation of Iesus Christ.

15 For yee haue heard of my conuersation in time past, in the lewes Religion, how that be youd measure I persecuted the Church of God, and wasted it:

14 And profited in the Iewes Religion, aboue many my tequals in mine | Gr. equals owne nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, who separated me from my mothers wombe, and called me by his grace,

16 To reueale his sonne in mee, that I might preach him among the heathen, immediatly I conferred not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I vp to Ierusalem, to them which were Apostles before me, but I went into Arabia, and returned againe vuto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeeres, I | went | Or, returvp to Ierusalem to see Peter, and a- ned bode with him fifteene dayes.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth when he went vp againe to Hierusalem, and for what purpose: 3 And that Titus was not circumcised: 11 And that he resisted Peter, and told him the reason, 14 why hee and other being Iewes, doe beleeue in Christ to bee lustified by faith, and not by workes: 20 And that they live not in sinne, who are so justified.

1 Or. seue.

Hen fourteene yeeres after. I went vp againe to Ierusalem with Barnabas, and tooke Titus with me also.

2 And I went vp by reuelation, and communicated vnto them that Gospel, which I preach among the Gentiles, but || privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any meanes I should runne, or had runne in vaine.

3 But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greeke, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of false brethren vnawares brought in, who came in priuily to spie out our libertie, which wee haue in Christ Iesus, that they might bring vs into bondage.

5 To whom wee gaue place by subiection, no not for an houre, that the trueth of the Gospel might continue with you.

6 But of these, who seemed to bee somewhat, (whatsoeuer they were, it maketh no matter to mee, God accepteth no mans person,) for they who seemed to be somewhat, in conference added nothing to me.

7 But contrariwise, when they saw that the Gospel of the vncircumcision was committed vnto me, as the Gospel of the circumcision was vnto Peter:

8 (For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the Apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mightie in mel towards the Gentiles.)

9 And when lames, Cephas and Iohn, who seemed to bee pillars, perceiued the grace that was given vnto me, they gaue to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that wee should goe vnto the heathen, and they vnto the circumcision.

10 Onely they would that wee should remember the poore, the same which I also was forward to doe.

11 But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face. because he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certaine came from Iames, he did eate with the Gentiles : but when they were come, hee withdrew, and separated himselfe, fearing them which were of the Circumcisio.

13 And the other Iewes dissembled likewise with him, insomuch that Barnabas also was caried away with their dissimulation.

14 But when I saw that they walked not vprightly according to the truth of the Gospel, I said vnto Peter before them al, If thou, being a Iew, liuest after the maner of Gentiles, and not as doe the Iewes, why compellest thou the Gentiles to liue as do the lewes?

15 We who are Iewes by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles, 16 Knowing that a man is not iustified by the works of the Law, but by the faith of Iesus Christ, even we have beleeued in Iesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the workes of the Law: for by the workes of the Law shall no flesh be iustified.

17 But if while we seeke to be justified by Christ, wee our selues also are found sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of sinne? God forbid.

18 For if I build againe the things which I destroyed, I make my selfe a transgressour.

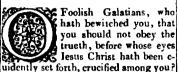

19 For I through y Law, am dead to the Law, that I might live vnto God.

20 I am crucified with Christ. Neuertheles, I liue, yet not I, but Christ liueth in me, and the life which I now liue in the flesh, I liue by the faith of the sonne of God, who loued mee, and gaue himselfe for me.

21 I doe not frustrate the grace of God : for if righteousnes come by the Lawe, then Christ is dead in vaine.

CHAP.

He asketh what moved them to leave the faith, and hang vpon the Law? 6 They that be-leeue are justified, 9 & blessed with Abraham. 10 And this he sheweth by many reasons.

6 Euen as Abraham beleeved God, and it was laccounted to him for righteousnesse.

7 Knowe wee therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 And the Scripture foreseeing that God would justifie the heathen through faith, preached before the Gospel vnto Abraham, saying, "In thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then, they which bee of faith, are blessed with faithfull Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the works of the lawe, are vnder the curse : for it is written, * Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the booke of the Law to doe

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the Law, being made a curse for vs : for it is written. * Cursed is every one that hangeth on tree:

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles, through Iesus Christ: that wee might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 Breihren, I speake after the maor, testa. | ner of men : though it be but a mans ||couenant, yet if it bee confirmed, no man disanulleth, or addeth thereto.

16 Now to Abraham and his seede were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many, but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ.

17 And this I say, that the Couenant that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the Lawe which was foure hundred and thirtie veres after, cannot disanul, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance bee of the Law, it is no more of promise : but God gaue it to Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then seructh the Law? it was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come, to whome the promise was made, and it was orderned by Angels in the hand of a Media-

20 Now a mediatour is not a Mediatour of one, but God is one.

21 Is the Lawe then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had beene a Lawe giuen which could have given life, verily righteous nesse should have bene by the Law.

22 But the Scripture hath concluded all under sinne, that the promise by faith of Iesus Christ might be given to them that beleeue.

23 But before faith came, wee were kept under the Law, shut up unto the faith, which should afterwards bee reuealed.

24 Wherefore the Law was our Schoolemaster to bring us vnto Christ, that we might be justified by Faith.

25 But after that Faith is come, we are no longer vnder a Schoolemaster.

26 For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Iesus.

27 For as many of you as haue bene baptized into Christ, haue put on Christ.

28 There is neither Iewe, nor Greeke, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female : for ye are all one in Christ Iesus.

29 And if yee be Christs, then are ye Abrahams seed, and heires according to the promise.

27 For it is written, *Reioyce thou * Esa, 54. barren that bearest not, breake foorth and cry thou that traueilest not; for the desolate hath many moe children then she which hath an husband.

28 Now wee, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise.

29 But as then hee that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the Spirit, euen so it is now

30 Neuerthelesse, what saith the Scripture? *Cast out the bondwoman Gen. 21 and her sonne : for the son of the bondwoman shall not bee heire with the son of the freewoman.

31 So then, brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, but of the free.

17 That the God of our Lord Iesus Christ the Father of glorie, may give vnto you the Spirit of wisedome and reuelation || in the knowledge of him:

18 The eyes of your understanding being inlightned : that yee may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glorie of his inneritance in the Saints:

19 And what is the exceeding greatnesse of his power to vs-ward who betion of the leeue, according to the working to his mightic power:

20 Which he wrought in Christ when he raised him from the dead, and set him st his owne right hand in the heauenly places, power, and might, and dominion, and which is called the Circumcision in the cuery name that is named, not onely in this world, but also in that which is to come:

22 And hath put all things vnder his feete, and gaue him to be the head ouer all things to the Church, 23 Which is his body, the fulnesse of him that filleth all in all.

CHAP. II.

By comparing what we were by 3 nature, with what we are 5 by grace: 10 He declareth, that wee are made for good workes; and 13 beeing brought neere by Christ, should not live as 11 Gentiles, and 12 forreiners in time past, but as 19 citizens with the Saints, and the family of God.

Nd you hath hee quickned who were dead in trespasses, and sinnes,

2 Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the aire, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience.

6 And hath raised us vp together, and made vs sit together in heavenly places in Christ Iesus:

7 That in the ages to come, hee might shew the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kindenesse towards vs. through Christ Iesus.

8 For by grace are ye saued, through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God :

9 Not of workes, lest any man should boast.

10 For wee are his workemanship, created in Christ Iesus vnto good workes, which God hath before |ordei 107. prepa. ned, that we should walke in them.

11 Wherefore remember that ye being in time passed Gentiles in the flesh, 21 Farre aboue all principalitie, and who are called uncircumcision by that flesh made by hands, 12 That at that time yee were with. out Christ, being aliens from the common wealth of Israel, and strangers from the couenants of promise, having no hope, & without God in the world.

13 But now in Christ Iesus, ye who sometimes were far off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ.

14 For hee is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken downe the middle wall of partition betweene vs:

15 Hauing abolished in his flesh the enmitie, cuen the Lawe of Commandements conteined in Ordinances, for to make in himselfe, of twaine, one newel man, so making peace.

14 And many of the brethren in the others. Lord, waxing confident, by my bonds. are much more bold to speake the word without feare.

15 Some in deed preach Christ, euen of enuie and strife, and some also of good will.

16 The one preach Christ of contention, not syncerely, supposing to adde affliction to my bonds:

17 But the other of loue, knowing that I am set for the defence of the Gospel.

18 What then? Notwithstanding euery way, whether in pretence, or in trueth : Christ is preached, and I therein doe reioyce, yea, and will reioyce.

19 For I know that this shall turne to my saluation through your prayer, and the supplie of the spirit of lesus Christ, 20 According to my earnest expectation, and my hope, that in nothing I shalbe ashamed : but that with all boldnes, as alwayes, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.

21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gaine.

22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour : yet what I shall chuse, I wote not.

23 For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, & to bee with Christ, which is farre better.

25 And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and iov of faith.

26 That your reloyeing may bee more abundant in Iesus Christ for me, by my comming to you againe.

27 Onely let your conversation bee as it becommeth the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may heare of your affaires, that yee stand fast in one spirit, with one minde, striuing together for the faith of the Gospel, 28 And in nothing terrified by your aduersaries, which is to them an eui dent token of perdition : but to you of saluation, and that of God.

29 For vnto you it is given in the behalfe of Christ, not onely to beleeue on him, but also to suffer for his sake, 30 Hauing the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now heare to be in me.

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth them to vnitie, and to all humble-nesse of minde, by the example of Christs humilitie and exaltation: 12 To a carefull proceeding in the way of saluation, that they bee as lights to the wicked world, 16 and comforts to him their Apostle, who is now ready to bee offered vp to God. 19 He hopeth to send Timothie to them, whom hee greatly commendeth, 23 as Epaphroditus also, whom he presently sendeth to them.

26 For hee longed after you all, and was full of heavinesse, because that yee had heard that he had bene sicke.

27 For indeed he was sicke nigh vnto death, but God had mercy on him : and not on him onely, but on mee also, lest I should have sorow vpon sorow.

28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that when ye see him againe, ye may reloyce, and that I may bee the lesse sorrowfull.

CHAP. III.

Hee warneth them to beware of the false teachers of the Circumcision, 4 shewing that himself bath greater cause then they, to trust in the righteousnesse of the Law: 7 which notwithstanding hee counteth as doung and losse, to gaine Christ and his righteousnesse, 12 therein acknowledging his owne imper-fection. 15 Hee exhorteth them to be thus minded, 17 and to imitate him, 18 and to decline the waies of carnall Christians.

Inally, my brethren, reioyce in the Lorde. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grieuous: but for you it is 2 Beware of dogs, beware of euill workers: beware of the concision.

3 For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and reiovce in Christ Iesus, and haue no confidence in the flesh.

4 Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that hee hath whereof hee might trust in the flesh, I more:

5 Circumcised the eight day, of the stocke of Israel, of the tribe of Beniamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrewes, as touching the Law, a Pharise:

6 Concerning zeale, persecuting the Church : touching the righteousnesse which is in the Law, blamelesse.

7 But what things were gaine to me, those I counted losse for Christ.

8 Yea doubtlesse, and I count all things but losse, for the excellencie of the for whom I have suffered the losse of all things, and doe count them but doung, that I may win Christ, 9 And be found in him, not having mine owne righteousnesse, which is of the Law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousnesse which is of God by faith:

10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable vnto his death, 11 If hy any meanes I might attaine vnto the resurrection of the dead.

12 Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect : but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Iesus.

13 Brethren, I count not my selfe to haue apprehended : but this one thing I doe, forgetting those things which are behinde, and reaching forth vnto those things which are before, 14 I presse toward the marke, for the price of the high calling of God in Christ Iesus.

15 Let vs therefore, as many as bee perfect, bee thus minded : and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reueale even this vnto you.

16 Neuerthelesse, whereto wee haue alreadie attained, let vs walke by the same rule, let vs minde the same thing.

17 Brethren, be followers together of me, and marke them which walke so, as ye haue vs for an ensample.

18 (For many walke, of whome I haue told you often, and now tell you cuen weeping, that they are the enemies of the crosse of Christ:

19 Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glorie is in their shame, who minde earthly things.)

20 For our conversation is in heauen, from whence also we looke for the Saujour, the Lord Iesus Christ:

21 Who shall change our vile bodie, that it may bee fashioned like vnto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things vnto himselfe.

CHAP. IIII.

From particular admonitions 4 hee proceedeth to generall exhortations, 10 shewing how hee rejoyced at their liberalitie towards him lying in prison, not so much for the supply of his owne wants, as for the grace of God in them. 19 And so he concludeth with prayer and salutations.

Herefore, my brethren, dearely beloued and long-ed for, my ioy and crowne, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearely beloued.

2 I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntiche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord.

3 And I entreat thee also, true yokefellow, helpe those women which laboured with me in the Gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellow labourers, whose names are in the booke of life.

5 Let your moderation be knowen vnto all men. The Lord is at hand.

6 Bee carefull for nothing: but in euery thing by prayer and supplication with thankesgiuing, let your request be made knowen vnto God.

7 And the peace of God which passeth all vnderstanding, shall keepe your hearts & minds through Christ Iesus.

8 Finally, brethren, whatsoeuer things are true, whatsoeuer things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoeuer things are pure, whatsoeuer things are louely, whatsoeuer things are of good report; if there bee any vertue, and if there bee any praise, thinke on these things:

9 Those things which ye have both learned and received, and heard, and seene in mee, doe : and the God of peace shall be with you.

13 I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding, yee haue well done, that we did communicate with my affliction.

After salutation hee thanketh God for their faith, 7 confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras, 9 Praieth further for their increase in grace, 14 describeth the true Christ, 21 encourageth them to receive Iesus Christ, and commendeth his owne ministery.

Apostle Aul Christ. Tesus will of God, Timotheus our brother,

2 To the saints and faithfull brethren in Christ, which are at Colosse, grace be vnto you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord lesus

3 We give thanks to God, and the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, praying alwayes for you,

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Iesus, and of the love which yee haue to all the Saints, Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

CHAP. 1.

The Thessalonians are given to understand both how mindfull of them S. Paul was at all times in thanks-giving, & prayer: 5 and also how well he was perswaded of the truth, and sinceritie of their faith, & connersion to God.

🐜 Aul and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the These alonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lord fesus Christ: grace be vnto you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Iesus Christ.

2 We give thankes to God alwaies for you all, making mention of you in our prayers.

3 Remembring without ceasing your worke of faith, and labour of loue. and patience of hope in our Lord Iesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father:

4 Knowing, brethren || beloued, 1 Or. beloyour election of God.

5 For our Gospel came not vnto you in word onely : but also in power. and in the holy Ghost, and in much assurance, as yee know what maner of men we were among you for your sake.

6 And yee became followers of vs. and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with iov of the holy Ghost :

Or your selues, brethren, knowe our entrance in voto you, that it was not in vaine.

2 But euen after that wee had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, wee were bold in our God, to speake vnto you the Gospel of God with much contention.

3 For our exhortation was not of deceite, nor of vncleannesse, nor in guile:

4 But as we were allowed of God to bee put in trust with the Gospel, euen so wee speake, not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5 For neither at any time vsed wee flattering wordes, as yee knowe, nor a cloke of couetousnesse, God is witnesse:

6 Nor of men sought we glorie, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have beene || hurdensome, as the Apostles of Christ.

7 But wee were gentle among you, euen as a nurse cherisheth her chil-

8 So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to haue imparted vnto you, not the Gospel of God only, but also our owne soules, because ye were deare vnto vs.

9 For yee remember, brethren, our labour and trausile: for labouring night and day, because wee would not bee chargeable vnto any of you, wee preached vnto you the Gospel of God.

10 Yee are witnesses, and God also, how holily, and justly, and vnblameably wee behaued our selues among you that beleeue.

11 As you know, how wee exhorted and comforted, and charged every one of you, (as a father doeth his children.)

12 That ye would walke worthy of God, who hath called you vnto his kingdome and glory.

13 For this cause also thanke wee God without ceasing, because when yee received the word of God, which yee heard of vs, yee received it not as the word of men, hut (as it is in trueth) the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that beleeue.

14 For yee, hrethren, became followers of the Churches of God, which in Iudea are in Christ Iesus : for ye also haue suffered like things of your owne countreymen, even as they have of the 16 Forbidding vs to speake to the Gentiles, that they might bee saued, to fill vp their sinnes alway : for the wrath is come vpon them to the vttermost.

17 But wee, brethren, beeing taken from you for a short time, in presence, not in heart, endeuored the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.

18 Wherefore we would have come vnto you (euen I Paul) once & againe: but Satan hindered vs.

CHAP. III.

S. Paul testifieth his great loue to the Thessalonians, partly by sending Timothie vnto them to strengthen and comfort them : partly by reioycing in their weldoing: 10 and partly by praying for them, and desiring a safe comming vnto them.

5 For this cause when I could no longer forbeare, I sent to know your faith, lest by some meanes the tempter haue tempted you, and our labor be in vaine.

6 But now when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your faith and charitie, and that ye have good remembrance of vs alwayes, desiring greatly to see vs, as we also to see you:

7 Therefore brethren, wee were comforted ouer you in all our affliction and distresse, by your faith:

8 For now we "liue, if ye stand fast in the Lord.

9 For what thankes can we render to God againe for you, for all the loy wherewith wee toy for your sakes before our God, 13 To the end hee may stablish your hearts vnhlameable in holinesse before God euen our Father, at the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ with all his Saints.

CHAP. IIII.

Hee exhorteth them to goe on forward in al manner of godlinesse, 6 to live holily and iustly, 9 to louc one another, 11 and quietly to followe their owne businesse: t3 and last of all to sorrow moderately for the dead. 17 And vnto this last exhortation is annexed a briefe description of the resurrection, and second comming of Christ to judgement.

Vt of the times and the sca-sons, brethren, yee haue no nced that I write vnto you.

2 For your selues knowe perfectly that the day of the Lord so commeth as a thiefe in the night.

3 For when they shal say, Peace and safety : then sudden destructio commeth vpon them, as trausile vpon a woman with childe, and they shall not escape.

4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkenesse, that that day should ouertake you as a thiefe.

5 Yee are all the children of light, and the children of the day : we are not of the night, nor of darkenesse.

6 Therefore let vs not sleepe, as doe others: but let vs watch and be sober.

7 For they that sleepe, sleepe in the night, and they that bee drunken, arc drunken in the night.

8 But let vs who are of the day, bee sober, putting on the brestplate of faith and loue, and for an helmet, the hope of saluation.

THE FIRST EPISTLE

of Paul the Apostle to Timothie.

CHAP. I.

Timothie is put in mind of the charge which was given vnto him by Paul at his going to Macedonia. 5 Of the right vse and end of the Law. 11 of Saint Pauls calling to be an Apostle, 20 and of Hymeneus & Alexander.

Aul an Apostle of Iesus Christ by the commaundement of God our Sauiour, & Lord Iesus Christ which is our hope, Vnto Timothie my own sonne in the Faith : Grace, mercie, and peace from God our Father, and Iesus Christ our Lord.

3 As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus when I went into Maccdonia, that thou mightest charge some that they teach no other doctrine, 4 Neither give heed to fables, and endlesse genealogies, which minister questions, rather then edifying which is in faith : so doe.

5 Now the end of the commandement is charity, out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith vn-

7 Desiring to bee teachers of the Law, vnderståding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirme.

8 But we know that the Law is good, if a man vse it lawfully.

9 Knowing this, that the Law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawlesse and disobedient, for the vngodly, and for sinners, for vnholy, and profane, for murderers of fathers. and murderers of mothers, for manslavers.

10 For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankinde, for men-stealers, for liars, for periured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine, 11 According to the glorious Gospel of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.

12 And I thanke Christ Iesus our Lord, who hath enabled mee : for that he counted me faithfull, putting me into the Ministerie.

13 Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecuter, and injurious. But I obtained mercie, because I did it ignorantly, in vnbeliefe.

14 And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant, with faith, & loue, which is in Christ Iesus.

15 This is a faithfull saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ lesus came into the world to saue sinners, of whom I am chiefe.

16 Howbeit, for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first, Iesus Christ might shew foorth all long suffering. for a paterne to them which should hereafter beleeue on him to life euerla-

17 Now vnto v king eternal, immortall, inuisible, the onely wise God, be honour and glory for euer & euer. Amen.

18 This charge I commit vnto thee, sonne Timothie, according to the prophesies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest warre a good warfare, 19 Holding faith, and a good conscience, which some having put away, con-cerning faith, have made shipwracke.

20 Of whom is Hymeneus and Alexander, whome I have delivered vnto Satan, that they may learne not to blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

4 For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be recei ued with thankesgiuing:
5 For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Iesus Christ, nourished up in the wordes of faith, and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

7 But refuse prophane and olde wiues fables, and exercise thy selfe rather vnto godlinesse.

8 For bodily exercise profiteth ||litle, but godlinesse is profitable vnto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

9 This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation:

10 For therfore we both labour, and suffer reproch, because we trust in the liuing God, who is the Sauiour of all men, specially of those that beleeue.

Il These things command & teach. 12 Let no man despise thy youth, but be thou an example of the beleevers, in word, in conversation, in charitie, in spirit, in faith, in puritie.

13 Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14 Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophesie, with the laying on of the hands of the Preshyterie.

15 Meditate vpon these things, give thy selfe wholly to them, that thy profi-tor, in all ting may appeare || to all.

16 Take heed vnto thy selfe, and vnto the doctrine : continue in them : for in doing this, thou shalt both saue thy selfe, and them that heare thee.

Sanctuarie. 3 And after the second vaile, the Tabernacle which is called y Holiest of all:

4 Which had the golden Censor, and the Arke of the Couenant ouerlayed round about with gold, wherein was the Golden pot that had Manna, and Aarons rod that budded, and the Tables of the Couenant.

5 And ouer it the Cherubims of glory shadowing the Mercyseat; of which we cannot now speake particularly.

6 Now when these things were thus ordained, the Priestes went alwaves into the first Tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.

7 But into the second went the high Priest alone once euery yeere, not with-out blood, which he offered for himselfe, and for the errors of the people.

8 The holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the Holiest of all, was not yet made manifest, while as the first Tabernacle was yet standing:

9 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offred both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the seruice perfect, as pertayning to the conscience,

10 Which stood onely in meates and drinkes, and divers washings, and | car-10, rice, or nall ordinances imposed on them vntill the time of reformation.

11 But Christ being come an high Priest of good things to come, hy greater and more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this huilding:

12 Neither by the blood of Goats and Calues: but by his owne blood hee entred in once into the Holy place, ha-obtained eternall redemption | hath he appeared to put away sinne by wing for vs.

13 For if the blood of Bulls, and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the vncleane, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:

14 How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit, offered himselfe without ||spot to God, purge your conscience from dead workes, to serue the liuing God?

15 And for this cause hee is the Mediatour of the New Testament, that by meanes of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were vnder the first Testament, they which are called, might receive the promise of eternall inheritance.

16 For where a Testament is, there must also of necessitie || bee the death of the Testatour.

17 For a Testament is of force after men are dead : otherwise it is of no strength at all whilest the Testatour liueth.

18 Whereupon, neither the first Testament was || dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken euery precept to all the people according to the Law, he tooke the blood of Calues or, purple, and of Goates, with water and || scarlet wooll, and hysope, and sprinckled both the booke and all the people, 20 Saying, This is the blood of the Testament which God hath enjoyned vnto you.

21 Moreouer, hee sprinkled with blood both the Tabernacle, and all the vessels of the Ministery.

22 And almost all things are hy the Law purged with blood : and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should bee purified with these, but the heauenly things themselues with better sacrifices then these.

24 For Christ is not entred into the Holy places made with handes, which are the figures of the true, but into heauen it selfe, now to appeare in the presence of God for vs.

25 Nor yet that he should offer himselfe often, as the high Priest entreth into the Holy place, euery yeere with blood of others:

26 For then must hee often haue suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world, the sacrifice of himselfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men once to die, but after this the Iudge-same promise. 10 For hee looked for a citie which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith also Sara her selfe received strength to conceive seede, and was delivered of a child when she was pastage, because she judged him faithful who had promised.

CHAP. L.

Hee blesseth God for his manifold spiritualleraces: 10 shewing that the saluation in Christ is no newes, but a thing prophesied of olde: 13 And exhorteth them accordingly to a godly conucrsation, forasmuch as they are now borne anew by the word of God.

Triall of faith.

Eter an Apostle of Jesus Christ. to the strangers scattred thorowout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

2 Elect. according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit vnto obedience, and sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ : Grace vnto you and peace be multiplied.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which according to his +abundant mercy, hath begotten vs againe vnto a liuely hope, by the resurrection of Iesus Christ from the dead.

4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not a way, reserved in heaven || for you,

5 Who are kept by the power of God through faith vnto saluation, ready to be reuealed in the last time.

6 Wherin ye greatly reioyce, though now for a season (if neede bee) yee are in heavinesse through manifolde tempta-

7 That the triall of your faith, being much more precious then of golde that perisheth, though it bee tryed with fire, might be found vnto praise, and honor, and glory, at the appearing of Iesus Christ:

8 Whom having not seene, yee love, in whom though now ye see him not, yet beleeuing, ye reloyce with loy vnspeakeable, and full of glory,

9 Receiving the ende of your faith. cuen the saluation of your soules:

10 Of which saluation the Prophets haue inquired, and searched diligently, who prophesicd of the grace that should come vnto you,

11 Searching what, or what maner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signifie, when it testified beforehand the suffrings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12 Vnto whome it was reuealed, that not voto themselves, but voto vs. they did minister the things which are now reported vnto you, by them that haue preached the Gospel voto you, with the holy Ghost sent downe from heauen, which things the Angels desire to looke into.

13 Wherefore gird vp the loynes of your minde, bee sober, and hope tto the Gr. perfect end, for the grace that is to bee brought ly. vnto you at the reuelation of lesus Christ:

14 As obedient children, not fashioming your selues according to the former lusts, in your ignorance:

15 But as hee which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all maner of conuersation :

for I am holy.

17 And if ye call on the Father, who and 20.7. without respect of persons judgeth according to enery mans worke, passe the time of your solourning here in feare :

18 For as much as ye know that yee were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and golde, from your vaine conversation received by tradition from your fathers:

19 But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lambe without blemish and without spot, traised him up from the dead, and gaue | him glorie, that your faith and hope might be in God.

22 Seeing yee haue purified your soules in obeying the truth through the Spirit, voto vofained loue of the hrethren : see that ye loue one another with a pure heart feruently,

23 Being borne againe, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God which liueth and abideth

CHAP. II.

He dehorteth them from the breach of charitie: 4 ahewing that Christ is the foudation wherupon they are built. tl He beseecheth them also to abstaine from fleshly lustes, 13 To bee obedient to magistrates, 18 and teacheth seruants how to obey their masters, 20 patiently suffering for well doing after the example of Christ.

Ilerefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and enuies, and euill speakings, Psal. 34.

Ikewise, ye wiues, be in subjection to your owne husbands, that if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be wonne by the conuersation of the wines:

2 While they beholde your chaste conversation coupled with feare:

3 Whose adorning, let it not bee that outward adorning, of plaiting the haire, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparell.

4 But let it bee the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, euen the ornament of a meeke and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

5 For after this manner in the olde time, the holy women also who trusted in God adorned themselues, beeing in subjection vnto their owne husbands.

6 Euen as Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him Lord, whose † daughters ye are as long as ye doe well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

15 But sanctifie the Lord God in your hearts, & be ready alwayes to give an answere to euery man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you. with meckenesse and || feare :

16 Hauing a good conscience, that whereas they speake euill of you, as of euill doers, they may bee ashamed that falsly accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that yee suffer for well doing, then for euill doing.

18 For Christ also hath once suffered for sinnes, the just for the vniust, that he might bring vs to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit.

19 By which also he went and preached vnto the spirits in prison,

20 Which sometime were disobedient, when once the long-suffering of God waited in the dayes of Noah, while the Arke was a preparing : wherein few, that is, eight soules were saued by water.

21 The like figure whereunto, euen Baptisme, doth also now saue vs, (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answere of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Iesus Christ.

22 Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God, Angels, and authorities, and powers being made subject vnto him.

CHAP. IIII.

Hee exhorteth them to cease from sinne by the example of Christ, and the consideration of the generall end, that now approcheth: 12 and comforteth them against persecution.

Orasmuch then as Christ flesh, arme your selves likewise with the same minde : for hee that hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sinne:

2 That

S For the time past of our life may suffice vs to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciuiousnes, lusts, excesse of wine, reuellings, banquetings, and ahhominable idolatries.

4 Wherein they thinke it strange, that you runne not with them to the same excesse of riot, speaking enilof you: 5 Who shal give accompt to him that is ready to judge the quicke & the dead.

6 For, for this cause was the Gospel preached also to them that are dead. that they might bee judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 But the ende of all things is at hand: be we therefore sober and watch vnio braver.

8 And aboue all things have feruent

11 If any man speake, let him speake as the oracles of God : if any man minister, let him doe it as of the ability which God giveth, that God in all things may bee glorified through Iesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and euer. Amen.

12 Beloued, thinke it not strange concerning the fiery triall, which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened vnto you.

13 But reioyce in as much as yee are partakers of Christes sufferings; that when his glory shalbe reueiled, we may be glad also with exceeding joy.

14 If ye be reproched for the Name of Christ, happie are ve, for the spirit of glory, and of God resteth vpon you: on their part hee is euill spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 But let none of you suffer as a murtherer, or as a theefe, or as an euill doer, or as a busibody in other mens

16 Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorifie God on this behalfe.

17 For the time is come that judge-

2 That he no longer should live the ment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at vs. what shall the ende bee of them that obey not the Gospel of God?

18 And if the righteous scarcely be saued, where shall the vngodly and the sinner appeare?

19 Wherfore, let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit the keeping of their soules to him in well doing, as vnto a faithfull Creator.

CHAP. V.

He exhorteth the Elders to feede their flocks, 5 the yonger to obey, 8 and all to bee sober, watchfull, and constant in the faith : 9 to resist the cruell adversarie the deuill.

He Elders which are a-mong you I exhort, who am also an Elder, and a witnesse of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be reucaled.

CHAP. I.

He describeth the person of Christ, in whome we have eternal life, by a comunion with God: a to which we must addoine holinesse of life, to testifie the trueth of that our communion and profession of faith, as also to assure vs of the forginenesse of our sinnes hy Christs death.

from v beginning. which wee haue heard, which wee haue seene with our eyes, which wee haue looked vpop, and our hands have handled of the word of life.

2 (For the life was manifested, and we have seene it, and beare witnes, and shew vnto you that eternall life which was with the Father, and was manifested vnto vs.)

8 That which wee haue seene and heard, declare we vnto you, that ye also may have felowship with vs; and truely our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Sonne Iesus Christ.

4 And these things write we vnto you, that your ioy may be full.

5 This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare vnto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkenesse at all.

6 If we say that we have felowship with him, and walke in darkenesse, we lie, and doe not the trueth.

7 But if wee walke in the light, as he is in the light, wee haue fellowship one with another, and the hlood of Iesus Christ his Sonne clenseth vs from all sinne.

8 If we say that we have no sinne, we deceive our selves, and the trueth is 10 If we say that we have not sinned, wee make him a liar, and his word is not in vs.

CHAP. II.

He comforteth them against the sinnes of infirmitie. 3 Rightly to know God, is to keepe his commaundements, 9 to loue our brethren. 15 and not to love the world. 18 We must beware of seducers: 20 from whose deceits the godly are safe preserved by perseverance in faith, and holinesse of life.

Y little children, these things write I vnto you, that ye sinnenot. And if a ny man sinne, we haue an Aduocate with the Father, Iesus Christ the righteous:

2 And he is the propitiation for our sinnes : and not for ours onely, but also for the sinnes of the whole world.

5 But who so keepeth his word, in him verely is the love of God perfected: herehy know we that we are in him.

6 He that sayeth he abideth in him, ought himselfe also so to walke, euen as he walked.

12 I write vnto you, little children, because your sinnes are forgiuen you for his Names sake.

13 I write vnto you, fathers, because vee have knowen him that is from the beginning. I write vnto you, young men, because you have overcome the wicked one. I write vnto you, little children, because yee haue knowen the Father.

14 I haue written vnto vou, fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I have written vnto you, young men, because yee are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and yee haue ouercome the wicked one.

15 Loue not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man loue the world, the loue of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, hut is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof, but hee that doeth the will of God, abideth for euer.

18 Little children, it is the last time: and as yee haue heard that Antichrist shall come, even now are there many Antichrists, whereby wee know that it is the last time.

19 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs : for if they had beene of vs, they would no doubt have continued with vs: but they went out that they might be made manifest, that they were not all of vs.

20 But ye have an vnction from the holy One, and ye know all things.

21 I haue not written vnto you, because vee know not the trueth: but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the trueth.

22 Who is a lier, but hee that denieth that Iesus is the Christ? hee is Antichrist, that denyeth the Father, and the Sonne.

23 Whosoeuer denieth the Sonne. the same hath not the Father: but he that acknowledgeth the Sonne, hath the Father also.

24 Let that therefore shide in you which yee haue heard from the beginning: if that which we have heard from the beginning shall remaine in you, vee also shall continue in the Sonne, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that hee hath promised vs. euen eternall life.

26 These things have I written vnto you, concerning them that seduce

27 But the anointing which ye haue received of him, abideth in you : and yee need not that any man teach you : But. as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is trueth, and is no lye: and euen as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in || him.

28 And now, little children, shide in him, that when hee shall appeare, wee may have confidence, and not bee ashamed before him at his comming.

29 If ye know that he is righteous, ye know that enery one which doeth 10, know ye righteousnesse, is borne of him.

CHAP. III.

Hee declareth the singular love of God towards vs, in making vs his sonnes: 3 Who therefore ought obediently to keepe his commaundements, 11 As also brotherly to loue one another.

Eholde, what manner of loue the Father hath bestowed vpon vs, that wee should be called the sonnes of God: therfore the world knoweth vs not, because it knewe him

2 Beloued, now are we the sonnes of God, and it doeth not yet appeare, what wee shall be : but wee know, that when he shall appeare, we shall bee like him : for we shall see him as he is.

3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himselfe, euen as he is pure.

4 Whosoeuer committeth sinne, transgresseth also the lawe : for sinne is the transgression of the law.

5 And ve know that hee was manifested to take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne.

6 Whosoeuer ahideth in him, sinneth not: whosoeuer sinneth, hath not seene lum, neither knowen him.

7 Lit-

7 Little children, let no man deceiue you : he that doth righteousnes, is righteous, euen as he is righteous.

8 He that committeth sinne, is of the deuill, for the deuill sinneth from the beginning: for this purpose the Sonne of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the deuill.

9 Whosoeuer is borne of God, doth not commit sinne: for his seede remaineth in him, and he cannot singe, because he is borne of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the deuill: whosoeuer doeth not righteousnesse, is not of God, neither hee that loueth not his brother.

11 For this is the ||message that yee heard from the beginning, that wee should loue one another.

12 Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slewe his hrother : and wherefore slewe hee him? because his owne workes were enill, and his hrothere righteous.

13 Marueile not, my brethren, if the world hate you.

14 Wee know that wee haue passed from death vnto life, because wee loue the brethren: he that loueth not his hrother, ahideth in death.

15 Whosoeuer hateth his brother, is a murtherer, and yee knowe that no murtherer hath eternall life abiding in lhim.

16 Hereby perceive wee the love of God, because he layd downe his life for vs, and wee ought to lay downe our liues for the brethren.

17 But who so hath this worlds good, and seeth his brother hath need, and shutteth vp his bowels of compassion from him; how dwelleth the loue of God in him?

18 My little children, let vs not loue in word, neither in tongue, hut indeede and in trueth.

19 And herehy wee know that wee are of the trueth, and shall tassure our hearts before him.

20 For if our heart condemne vs, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Beloued, if our heart condemne vs not, then have wee confidence towards God.

22 And whatsoeuer we aske, wee receiue of him, because we keepe his commandement, and doe those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23 And this is his commandement. that we should beleeue on the Name of his Sonne Iesus Christ, and loue one another, as hee gaue vs commande-

24 And hee that keepeth his commandements dwelleth in him, and hee in him: and hereby wee know that hee shideth in vs. hy the spirit which hee hath given vs.

CHAP. IIII.

He warneth them not to beleeve all teachers. who boast of the spirit, but to try them by the rules of the Catholike faith: 7 and hy many ressons exhorteth to brotherly loue.

Eloued, beleeue not enery spirit, hut trie the spirits, whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby know ye the spirit of God: euery spirit that confesseth that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God.

3 And cuery Spirit that confesseth not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: and this is that spirit of Antichrist, whereof you have heard, that it should come, and euen now already is it in the world.

4 Ye are of God, little children, and haue ouercome them : because greater is he that is in you, then he that is in the 5 They are of the world . therefore speake they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6 We are of God: hee that knoweth God, heareth vs : he that is not of God heareth not vs, hereby know wee the spirit of trueth, and the spirit of errour.

7 Beloned, let vs loue one another; for loue is of God: and euery one that loueth, is borne of God and knoweth God.

8 Hee that loueth not, knoweth not God : for God is love.

9 In this was manifested the loue of God towards vs, because that God sent his only begotten Sonne into the world, that we might liue through him.

10 Herein is loue, not that wee loued God, but that he loued vs. and sent his Sonne to be y propitiation for our sins.

11 Beloued, if God so loued vs, wee ought also to loue one another.

12 No man hath seene God at any time. time. If wee love one another, God world, but he that beleeveth that Iesus dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfected t Gr. loue with vs.

13 Hereby know wee that we dwell in him and he in vs, because hee hath giuen vs of his Spirit.

14 And we have seene, and doe testifie, that the Father sent the Sonne to be the Saujour of the world.

15 Whosocuer shall confesse that Iesus is the Sonne of God. God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16 And we have knowen and beleeued the loue that God hath to vs. God is loue, and hee that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein is tour love made perfect. that wee may have boldnesse in the day of Iudgement, because as hee is, so are we in this world.

18 There is no feare in loue, but perfect loue casteth out feare : because feare liath torment : hee that feareth, is not made perfect in loue.

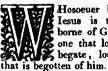

19 We loue him: because hee first loued vs.

20 If a man say, I loue God, and hateth his brother, he is a lyar. For hee that loueth not his hrother whom hee hath seene, how can he loue God whom he hath not seene?

21 And this commandement haue we from him, that he who loueth God, loue his brother also.

CHAP. V.

Hee that loueth God, loueth his children, and keepeth his Commandements: 3 which to the faithful are light, and not grieuous. 9 lesus is the Sonne of God, able to saue vs. 14 and to heare our prayers, which we make for our selues, and for others.

Hosoeuer beleeueth that borne of God : and euery one that loueth him that begate, loueth him also 2 By this wee know that wee loue the children of God, when we love God and keepe his commandements.

3 For this is the love of God, that we keepe his commandements, and his commandements are not gricuous.

4 For whatsoeuer is borne of God. ouercommeth the world, and this is the victorie that ouercommeth the world, euen our faith.

5 Who is he that ouercommeth the is the Sonne of God?

6 This is hee that came hy water and hlood, euen Iesus Christ, not hy water onely, but hy water and blood: and it is the Spirit that beareth witnesse, because the Spirit is trueth.

7 For there are three that beare record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the holy Ghost : and these three are one.

8 And there are three that beare witnesse in earth, the Spirit, and the Water, and the Blood, and these three agree in one.

9 If we receive the witnesse of men, the witnesse of God is greater : for this is the witnesse of God, which hee hath testified of his Sonne.

10 Hee that beleeueth on the Sonne of God, hath the witnesse in himselfe: he that beleeueth not God, hath made him a liar, because he beleeueth not the record that God gaue of his Sonne.

11 And this is the record, that God hath given to vs eternall life, and this life is in his Sonne.

12 Hee that hath the Sonne, hath life; and hee that hath not the Sonne. hath not life.

13 These things haue I written vnto you that beleeve on the Name of the Sonne of God, that ye may know, that ye haue eternall life, and that yee may beleeue on the Name of the Sonne of God.

14 And this is the confidence that we have || in him, that if wee aske any | Or. conthing according to his will, hee heareth vs.

15 And if we know that he heare vs. whatsoeuer wee aske, wee know that we have the petitions that wee desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sinne a sinne which is not vnto death, hee shall aske, and he shall give him life for them that sinne not vnto death. There is a sinne vnto death : I doe not say that he shall pray for it.

17 All vnrighteousnes is sinne, and there is a sinne not vnto death.

18. We know that whosocuer is borne of God, sinneth not: hut hee that is begotten of God, keepeth himselfe, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

4 For there are certaine men crept in vnawares, who were before of olde ordained to this condemnation, vngodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciniousnesse, and denying the onely Lord God, & our Lord lesus Christ.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord having saued the people out of the land of Egypt afterward destroied them that beleeued not.

6 And the Angels which kept not their Ufirst estate, but left their own ha- Or. princi hitation, he hath reserved in everlasting palitie. chaines vnder darkenesse, vnto the iudgement of the great day.

7 Euen as Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities about them, in like maner giving themselves over to fornication, and going after tstrange flesh, t Gr. other. are set forth for an example, suffring the vengeance of eternall fire. 8 Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speake cuill of dignities.

9 Yet Michael the Archangel, when contending with the deuill, he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said. * The Lord rebuke thee.

* Zac. 3. 2.

11 We wate them, for they have gone in the way of Kain, and ranne greedily after the errour of Balaam, for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core.

12 These are spottes in your feasts of charitie, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without feare: cloudes they are without water, caried about of winds, trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twise dead, plucked vp by the rootes.

13 Raging waves of the sea, foming out their owne shame, wandring stars, to whom is reserved the hlacknesse of darkenesse for ever.

14 And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord commeth with ten thousands of his Saints.

15 To execute iudgement vpon all, and to conuince all that are vngodly among them, of all their vngodly deeds which they have vngodly committed, and of all their heard speaches, which vngodly sinners have spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their owne lustes, and their mouth speaketh great swelling wordes, having mens persons in admiration because of advantage.

17 But beloued, remember yee the words, which were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Iesus Christ:

18 How that they tolde you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walke after their own vngodly lustes.

19 These be they who separate themselues, sensual, having not the spirit.

20 But yee beloued, building vp your selues on your most holy faith, praying in the holy Ghost.

21 Keepe your selues in the louc of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord lesus Christ vnto eternall life.

22 And of some haue compassion, making a difference:

23 And others asse with feare, pulling them out of the fire: hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 Now vnto him that is able to keepe you from falling, and to present you faultlesse before the presence of his glory with exceeding toy, 25 To the onely wise God our Sauiour, be glory and maiestie, dominion and power, now and euer. Amen.

¶THE REVELATION

of S.Iohn the Diuine.

CHAP. I.

4 John writeth his reuelation to the seuen Churches of Asia, signified by the seuen golden Candlestickes. 7 The comming of Christ. 14 His glorious power and maiestic.

He Reuelation of Iesus Christ, which God gaue vnto him, to shewe vnto his seruants things which must shortly

come to passe; and he sent and signified it by his Angel

vnto his seruant Iohn,

2 Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimonie of Iesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.

3 Blessed is hee that readeth, and they that heare the words of this prophesie, and keepe those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

4 Iohn to the seuen Churches in Asia, Grace be vnto you, & peace, from him *which is, and which was, and which is to come, and from the seuen spirits which are before his throne:

5 And from Iesus Christ, who is the faithful witnesse, and the first begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the kings of the earth: vnto him that loued vs, and washed vs from our sinnes in his owne hlood.

6 And hath *made vs Kings and Priests vnto God and his Father: to him be glory and dominion for euer and euer, Amen.

⁴ Matt, 24. 30. 7 Behold he commeth with clouds, and enery eye shal see him, and they also which pearced him: and all kinreds of the earth shall waile because of him: euen so. Amen.

8 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty.

9 I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdome and patience of lesus Christ, was in the Isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimonie of Iesus Christ.

10 I was in the spirit on the Lords day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet.

11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and what thou seest, write in a booke, and send it vnto the seuen Churches which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamos, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with mee. And being turned, I saw seuen golden Candlesticks, 13 And in the midst of the seuen candlestickes, one like vnto the Sonne of man, clothed with a garment downe to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head, and his haires were white like wooll, as white as snow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire, 15 And his feet like vnto fine hrasse, as if they burned in a furnace: and his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 And hee had in his right hand seuen starres: and out of his mouth went a sharpe two edged sword: and his countenance was as the Sunne shineth in his strength.

17 And when I sawe him, I fell at his feete as dead: and liee laid his right hand vpou me, saying vnto mee, Feare not. * I am the first, and the last.

18 I am lice that liveth, and was dead: and behold, I am alive for cuer-

* Esay. 41. 4. and 44. 6 (more, Amen, and haue the keyes of hell | and I know the blasphemie of them) and of death.

19 Write the things which thou hast seene, and the things which are, and the things which shall be bereafter, 20 The mysterie of the seuen starres which thou sawest in my right hand. and the scuen golden Candlestickes. The seuen Starres are the Angels of the scuen Churches : and the seuen candlestickes which thou sawest, are the seuen Churches.

CHAP. II.

What is commaunded to bee written to the Angels, that is, the Ministers of the Churches of 1 Ephesus, 6 Smyrna, 12 Pergamus, 16 Thyatira: and what is commended, or found wanting in them.

Nto the Angel of the church of Ephesus, write, These things saith he that holdeth the seuen starres in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seuen golden Candlesticks: 2 I know thy workes, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not beare them which are euil, and thou hast tried them which say they are Apostles, and are not, and hast found them lvers:

3 And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my Names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Neuerthelesse, I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.

5 Remember therfore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and doe the first workes, or else I will come vnto thee quickly, and will remoue thy Can-dlesticke out of his place, except thou re-

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

7 Hee that hath an eare, let him heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches : To him that ouercommeth will I giue to eate of the tree of life, which is in the middest of the Paradise of God.

8 And vnto the Angel of the Church, in Smyrna, write, These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is aliuc.

9 I know thy works, and tribulation, and poucrtie, but thou art rich, which say they are lewcs and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.

10 Feare none of those things which thou shalt suffer ; behold, the deuill shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried, and yee shall have tribulation tenne dayes: bee thou faithfull vnto death, and I will give thee a crowne

11 He that hath an eare, let him heare what the spirit saith vnto the churches. He that ouercommeth, shall not be hurt of the second death.

12 And to the Angel of the Church in Pergamos, write, These things saith hee, which hath the sharpe sword with two edges:

13 I know thy workes, and where thou dwellest, euen where Satans seat is, and thou holdest fast my Name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those daies, wherein Antipas was my faithful Martyr, who was slaine among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a fewe things against thee, because thou hast there them that holde the doctrine of *Ba_ 'Num. 25. laam, who taught Balac to cast a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, to eate things sacrificed vnto idoles, and to commit fornication.

15 So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.

16 Repent, or else I will come vnto thee quickly, and wil fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 Hee that hath an eare, let him heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches. To him that ouercommeth will I giue to eate of the hidden Manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, sauing hee that receiueth it.

18 And vnto the Angel of the church in Thyatira, write, These things saith the Sonne of God, who hath his eyes like vnto a flame of fire, and his feete are like fine brasse:

19 I know thy works, and charitie, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy workes, and the last to bee more then the first.

20 Notwithstanding, I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman * Iezebel, which cal. "I. Kin. 16. leth herselfe a Prophetesse, to teach and cation, and to eat things sacrificed vnto idoles.

Chap.iii.

21 And I gaue her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her, into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds

CHAP. III.

2 The Angel of the Church of Sardis is reproued, 3 exhorted to repent, and threatned if ued, 3 exhorted to repent, and intreated if hee doe not repent. 8 The Angel of the Church of Philadelphia 10 is approoued for his diligence and patience. 15 The Angel of Laodicea rebuked, for being neither hote nor colde, 19 and admonished to be more zealous. 20 Christ standeth at the doore, and knocketh.

Paul. 2. 9.

Nd vnto the Angel of the Church in Sardis write, Church in Sarus These things saith he that hath the seuen Spirits of God, & the seuen starres;

I know thy workes, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

2 Be watchfull, and strengthen the things which remaine, that are ready to die : for I haue not found thy works perfect before God.

3 Remember therefore, how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, to seduce my seruants to commit forni- | and repent. . If therefore thou shalt | 1. Thess. not watch, I will come on thee as a 2.2. pet. 3. thiefe, and thou shalt not know what houre I will come voon thee.

4 Thou hast a few names euen in Sardis, which have not defiled their garments, and they shall walke with me in white : for they are worthy.

5 Hee that ouercommeth, the same shalbe clothed in white raiment, and I will not blot out his name out of the booke of life, but I will confesse his Chap. 20 name before my Father, and before his 12. phil. 4.

7 And to the Angel of the Church in Philadelphia write, These things saith he that is Holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of Dauid, he that openeth, and no man shutteth, and shutteth, and no man openeth;

8 I know thy workes: behold, I have set before thee an open doore, and no man can shut it : for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my Name.

9 Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are lewes, and are not, but doe lie : behold. I will make them to come and worship before thy feete, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keepe thee from the houre of temptation, which shall come vpon all the world, to try them that dwell vpon the earth.

11 Beholde, I come quickly, hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crowne.

12 Him that ouercommeth, will I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and he shall goe no more out: and I wil write vpon him the Name of my God, and the name of the Citie of my God, which is new Hierusalem, which commeth downe out of heaven from my God: And I will write upon him my 13 Hee that hath an eare, let him heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

14 And vnto the Angel of the Church | of the Laodiceans, write, 10r. in Lao. These things saith the Amen, the faithfull and true witnesse, the beginning of the creation of God:

15 I

art neither cold nor hot, I would thou wert cold or hot.

16 So then because thou art lukewarme, and neither cold nor hot, I wil spew thee out of my mouth:

17 Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and haue need of nothing : and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked.

18 I counsell thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest bee rich, and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakednesse doe not appeare, and anoint thine eves with eye salue, that thou mavest see.

19 As many as I loue, I rebuke and chasten, be zealous therefore, and repent.

20 Behold, I stand at the doore, and knocke: if any man heare my voyce, and open the doore, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21 To him that ouercommeth, will I graunt to sit with mee in my throne. euen as I also ouercame, and am set downe with my Father in his throne.

2 John secth the throne of God in heaven. 4 The foure and swentie Elders. 6 The foure beasts full of eyes before and behinde. 10 The Elders lay downe their crownes, and worship him that sate on the Throne.

Fter this I looked, and 🏂 beholde, a doore was openedin licauen: and the first voice which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet, talking with me, which said, Come vp hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.

2 And immediatly I was in the spirit : and beholde, a Throne was set in heaven, and one sate on the Throne.

3 And he that sate was to looke vpon like a lasper, and a Sardine stone and there was a rainebow round about the Throne, in sight like voto an Emeralde.

4 And round about the Throne were foure and twentie seates, and vpon the seates I saw foure and twentie Elders sitting, clothed in white ray

5 And out of the Throne proceeded lightnings, and thundrings, and voyces : and there were seuen lampes of fire burning before the Throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.

6 And before the Throne there was a sea of plasse like vnto Chrystall : and in the middest of the throne, and round about the Throne, were foure beastes full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast was like a Lion, and the second beast like a Calfe, and the third heast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying Egle.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voyce of many Angels, round about the Throne, and the beasts and the Elders, and the number of them was ten thousand times tenne thousand, and thousands of thousands, 12 Saying with a lowd voice, Worthy is the Lambe that was slaine, to receiue power, and riches, and wisedome, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I, saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power bee vnto him that sitteth vpon the Throne, and vnto the Lambe for ever and euer.

14 And the foure beasts said, Amen. And the foure and twenty Elders fell downe and worshipped him that lineth for euer and euer.

CHAP. VI.

1 The opening of the seales in order, and what followed thereupon, conteining a prophe sie to the end of the world.

Nd I sawe when the Lambe opened one of the seales, and I heard as it were the noise of thunder, one of the foure beastes, saying, Come and see.

2 And I saw, and behold, a white horse, and hee that sate on him had a bowe, and a crowne was given vnto him, and hee went foorth conquering. and to conquere.

3 And when hee had opened the second seale, I heard the second beast say, Come and sec.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and power was giuen to him that sate thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was giuen vnto him a great sword.

5 And when hee had opened the third seale, I heard the third beast sav. Come and see. And I beheld, and loe, a blacke horse : and hee that sate on him had a paire of balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voice in the midst of the foure beastes say, || A measure of | The word wheate for a penie, and three measures chenix, signification of barley for a penie, and see thou hurt measure containing not the oyle and the wine.

7 And when hee had opened the the twelfth fourth seale, I heard the voice of the part of a fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and behold, a pale horse. & his name that sate on him was Death, and hell followed with him: and power was given | vnto them, over 10r. to him. the fourth part of the earth to kill with sword, & with hunger, and with death, and with the beastes of the earth.

9 And when hee had opened the fift seale, I saw under the altar, the soules of them that were slaine for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held.

10 And they cried with a lowd voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, doest thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And white robes were given vnto cuery one of them, and it was sayd vnto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, vntill their fellow seruants also, and their brethren that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixt scale, and loe, there was a 13 And the starres of heaven fell vnto the earth, enen as a figge tree casteth Or greene her ||vntimely figs when she is shaken of a mighty winde.

14 And the heaven departed as a scrowle when it is rolled together, and euery mountaine and Island were moued out of their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chiefe captaines, and the mighty men, and euery bondman, and cuery free man, hid themselves in the dennes, and in the rockes of the mountaines.

16 And said to the mountaines and rockes, * Fall on vs, and hide vs from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lambe:

Nd after these things, I saw foure Angels standing on the foure corners of the Earth, holding the foure windes of the earth, that the winde should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another Angel ascenthe liuing God : and he cried with a loud voice to the foure Angels to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the 9 After this I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could nuber. of all nations, and kindreds, and people, & tongues, stood before the throne. & before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palmes in their hands:

10 And cryed with a loude voice, saying, Saluation to our God, which sitteth vpon the Throne, and vnto the Lambe.

11 And all the Angels stood round about the Throne, and about the Elders, and the foure beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen : Blessing, and glorie, and wisedome, and thankesgiuing, and honour, & power, and might be vnto our God for euer & euer, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders answered, saying vuto mee, What are these which are arayed in white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said vnto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are ding from the East, having the seale of they which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lambe.

At the opening of the seuenth scale, 2 se-uen Angels had seuen Trumpets giuen them. 6 Foure of them sound their trumpets, and great plagues follow. 3 Another Angel putteth incense to the prayers of the Saints on the golden altar.

Nd when hee had opened the senenth seale, there was silence in heaven about the space of halfe an houre.

2 And I sawe the seuen Angels which stood before God, and to them were given seden trumpets.

3 And another Angel came & stood at the altar, having a golden censer, and there was given vnto him much incense, that hee should |offer it with the prayers of all Saints youn the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the incense which came with the prayers of the Saints, ascended up before God, out of the Angels hand.

5 And the Angel tooke the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth : and there were voyces, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake:

6 And the seuen Angels which had the seven trumpets, prepared themselues to sound.

7 The first Angel sounded, and there followed haile, and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast voon the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt vp, and all greene grasse was 8 And the second Angel sounded, and as it were a great mountaine burning with fire was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea became blood.

9 And the thirde part of the creatures which were in the Sea, and had life, died, and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third Angel sounded, and there fell a great starre from heaven, burning as it were a lampe, and it fell ypon the third part of the rivers, and pon the fountaines of waters: 11 And the name of the starre is called Wormewood, and the third part of the waters became wormewood, and many men dyed of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth Angel sounded, and the thirde part of the Sunne was smitten, & the third part of the Moone. and the third part of the starres, so as the third part of them was darkened: and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

19 And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping, and wailing, saying, Alas alas, that great citie, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea, by reason of her costlinesse, for in one houre is she made desolate.

20 Reioyce ouer her thou heauen, and ye holy Apostles and Prophets, for God hath auenged you on her.

21 And a mightie Angel tooke vp a stone like a great milstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus with violence shall that great citie Babylon bee throwen downe, and shall bee found no more at all.

22 And the voyce of harpers and musitions, and of pipers, and trumpetters, shall bee heard no more at all in thee : and no craftsman, of whatsoeuer craft hee be, shall be found any more in thee: and the sound of a milstone shalbe heard no more at all in thee:

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee : and the voice of the bridegrome and of the bride shalbe heard no more at all in thee : for thy Merchants were the great men of the earth : for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.

24 And in her was found the blood of Prophets, and of Saints, and of all that were slaine upon the earth.

God is praised in heauen for iudging the great whore, and auenging the blood of his Saints. 7 The marriage of the Lambe. 20 The Angel will not be worshipped. 17 The foules called to the great slaughter.

ND after these things I heard a great voyce of much people in heaven, saying, Al-leluia: saluation, and glorie, and honour, and power vnto the Lord our God :

2 For true and righteous are his liudgements, for hee hath judged the great whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath auenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 And againe they sayd, Alleluia and her smoke rose vp for cuer & cuer.

4 And the foure and twentie Elders, and the foure beasts fell downe. and worshipped God that sate on the throne, saying, Amen, Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God all yee his seruants, and ye that feare him, both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mightie thundrings, saying, Alleluia : for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let vs bee glad and reloyee, and giue honour to him : for the mariage of the Lambe is come, and his wife hath made herselfe readie.

8 And to her was granted, that she should bee arayed in fine linnen, cleane and white : for the fine linnen is the righteousnesse of Saints.
